CIO RIOTERS BREAK UP TRIAL

BAR HEAD CALLS LABOR BOARD A DESPOTIC BODY

Alphabet Rule Lacks Integrity, He Says.

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cleveland, O., July 25.—[Special.]—The National Labor Relations board and other administrative agencies were accused of despotism and political prejudice at the opening session of the sixty-first annual convention of the American Bar association here today. In reply a government official said the charge was unwaranted and the accusers had not learned all the facts.

Arthur T. Vanderbilt.

Arthur T. Vanderbilt of Newark, N. J., retiring president of the association, led the charge on the alphabetical boards. He said they lack judicial integrity, as their methods of operation infringe on personal liberties.

Denies High Handed Acts.

Jerome Frank, a member of the securities and exchange commission, made the defense. He denied that the SEC ever had acted in a high handed manner. He said its inquiries were designed to improve the efficiency of economy under the profit system.

The tribunals referred to by Vanderbilt, in addition to the Labor Relations Board and the SEC, include the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and the Federal Communications Administration. They were created by legislative statute. Vanderbilt urged that the complete abdication of congress to the executive branch of government be stopped.

"Every one realizes," he said, "that to commit all executive, legislative, and judicial powers to one man or one body of men would spell despotism. But too few have sensed the drift in that direction from an increasing number of administrative bodies working together or under a common leadership.

Points Out Vicious Practices.

"It is not without significance that hundreds of millions of dollars were paid in processing taxes under the AAA without a test of the constitutionality of the imposition, solely for lack of a test case. Ultimately the issue was raised by the receivers of insolvent taxpayers.

"Likewise unsound in principal and vicious in practice is the general failure to perceive the obvious truth that when an administrative tribunal adjudicates private rights, it is acting judicially.

"Yet how lacking are many of these tribunals in the characteristics and working conditions which the experience of centuries has shown to be indispensable for judges.

Raps Prejudiced Examiners.

"Would not a frank recognition of the obvious fact that administrative adjudication is judicial in nature have led to the elimination of prejudiced examiners, of ex parte hearings [where only one side is heard], of biased reports on improper or insufficient evidence or no evidence at all? And to the elimination of intermediaries between the testimony of the litigants and the ultimate deciding power?

"Would not an admission of deciding a controversy by dipping into the record be recognized as sound ground for impeachment of any judicial officer?" [Vanderbilt later said this was a reference to the conduct of Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace].

The tendency of congress to abdicate to the executive arm of government has been progressing at an alarming pace," Mr. Vanderbilt continued. "If unabated, it is not impossible to imagine the time when the chief executive will be engaged primarily in formulating legislative policy and the legislature in attending to patronage matters."

Jobholder Defends Chief.

Commissioner Frank in his defense of government tribunals said that an American Bar association committee "defamed" Chairman William O. Douglas of the securities and exchange commission. He asked that the "slur" be stricken from the committee's report.

Frank referred to the report of the

ARABS AND JEWS RIOT AT HAIFA; BURN BUILDINGS

35 Killed by Bomb in Market Place.

HAIFA, Palestine, July 25.—(AP)—Terror gripped this Mediterranean port tonight after a terrific bomb explosion killed thirty-five Arab men and women in Haifa's crowded market place.

Rioting, arson, and violence spread swiftly. Four Jews were killed and eight were wounded in Haifa proper before a curfew was imposed.

Disorders in other sections of the Holy Land raised the total casualties during the day to forty-five killed and seventy-five wounded. The day's casualties brought the dead and wounded since July 5 to more than 400—an average of twenty a day.

Marines from the British battle cruiser Repulse landed light artillery and posted guards with machine guns throughout Haifa, mainly on the borders of the Arab and Jewish quarters

Humans Blown to Pieces.

Police said the market place disaster was caused by a time bomb which exploded with such tremendous force that it blew human beings and animals to pieces in all directions.

In widespread fires which followed the explosion a whole Jewish bazar quarter was wiped out. At least nine buildings were set on fire in one section of the city alone.

The bomb blast was the worst in Palestine's current history. It was near the spot where 21 were killed and 60 wounded on July 6.

Arab villagers had gathered in the early morning coolness at the market place. Donkeys laden with melons, oranges, and other produce were in jammed little lanes.

Trample Dead and Dying.

While the Arabs were unloading their produce and displaying it the bomb burst, sending men, women, and animals into a sprawling heap of death.

Persons able to run plunged madly, trampling the dead and dying. Arabs and Jews began fighting immediately and panic spread. Arson broke out.

British marines, troops, and police reenforcements rushed to quell the rioting and set to work clearing the débris. Ambulances took loads of injured to three hosptials. Firemen raced to fight fires.

Many grief stricken widows and children of victims of the bomb explosion were seen tearing their hair before the curfew was imposed. Authorities declared a curfew for tonight over the entire city. A daylight curfew was decreed for the Jewish and Arab quarters.

As night fell shuttered Haifa pre-

Penn Governor Asks Assembly to Block Quiz

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Harrisburg, Pa., July 25.—[Special.]—Gov. George H. Earle, accused of graft and extortion, tonight opened a special session of the legislature which he had called for the purpose of blocking the prosecution of the charges in the state courts.

In a declaration to both houses the governor called on the legislators to "repel an unprecedented judicial invasion." He urged them to forestall the grand jury investigation of his political officers which was scheduled to open here on Aug. 8.

Earle, a Roosevelt Democrat, accused the State Supreme court, composed of six Republican justices, of gross abuse of judicial power. The court refused to quash the grand jury proceedings in this [Dauphin] county which were ordered by District Attorney Carl B. Shelley, a Republican.

Asks Legislature to Act.

The legislature has the first right, Gov. Earle said, to investigate the charges now proposed in a grand jury petition. These include extortion of campaign funds from political employés, graft on public buildings, on state purchases of trucks, and on state purchases of liquor for its alcohol monopoly, as well as corruption in the "sale" of such legislation as the Sunday motion picture law.

The governor set the stage for a showdown between the judicial and legislative branches of the state government by recommending that the legislature summon before it District Attorney Shelley and his chief complaining witness, former Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti. Earle dismissed Margiotti from his cabinet for making the charges in campaign speeches in the three cornered Democratic primary fight last April.

Evidence to Be Held Back.

Shelley and Margiotti have indicated they will refuse to disclose to the legislature their evidence against Earle and other state officials on the ground that such disclosure would thwart proper criminal prosecution.

After refusing to quash criminal proceedings against Earle, the Supreme court named Justice Paul N. Schaeffer to sit in the grand jury inquiry. Schaeffer refused to let Attorney General Guy K. Bard supersede District Attorney Shelley.

Commenting on this, Gov. Earle told the legislature tonight that the Supreme court "passed the buck to a lower court judge of its own selection, deputizing him to do what it dared not do itself."

"I charge," said Earle, "that the judges of the Supreme court have permitted themselves to be used as the instruments for the furtherance of a political conspiracy, and that they have transgressed on the rights of both executive and legislative branches in contravention of the constitution of Pennsylvania."

May Encounter Difficulty.

The Democrats propose to denature the graft charges by a public legislative investigation, which they would undoubtedly be able to vote and to control. They may not be able to conduct it at all, however, if the Republican district attorney persists in impounding the evidence for the secret hearings of the grand jury.

In addition, the legislature also will attempt to stop the grand jury inquiry entirely by changing the statutes, so as to limit the powers of courts and district attorneys.

Bills were introduced in quick succession in the house to suspend the grand jury investigation and set up a special committee to hear evidence, subpena witnesses, and otherwise control the investigation.

POLICE REFUSE TO CURB MOB AT OUSTER HEARING

Detroit, Mich., July 25.—[Special.]—A mob of C. I. O. members today broke up the union trial of four suspended officers of the United Automobile Workers of America. Fists flew and blood was spilled. Brother unionists used on each other their C. I. O. training in strong arm tactics.

Police were called to the scene of the factional battle. They soon left, refusing to take sides in the factional warfare. They refused to eject from the union offices a group that forced their way in.

"It looks like a sit-down strike to me," said Detective Sergeant Leo Maciosek, "with a rebel group preventing a loyalist group from doing business. I don't see what we can do about it."

Adjournment Avoids New Clash.

After the policemen had left, reenforcements for both sides of the internecine conflict began gathering at the scene. But when the executive board recessed the hearing until tomorrow the mob dispersed.

Homer Martin, international president, whose suspension of the high ranking officials split the powerful C. I. O. union wide open, described the incident as a typical communist demonstration.

About thirty men took part in a free-for-all mêlée that flared at noon as groups of out of town union representatives demanded admittance to the trial room. During the scuffle, which lasted for about five minutes, George F. Addes, who recently was expelled as secretary treasurer of the U. A. W., bloodied the nose of Maurice Silverman, advertising solicitor for the union's newspaper.

Struck, He Starts Swinging.

Addes said he began swinging after some one in the crowd hit him. The men pressed near by at once began shoving each other.

Addes was expelled by Martin early in July and he is not on trial. The four suspended officers on trial are Vice Presidents Richard T. Frankensteen, Wyndham Mortimer, Ed Hall, and Walter N. Wells. The four were charged by Martin with partial responsibility for the riot.

Two hours before noon, the time the trial was scheduled to start, a squad of fifty self-appointed observers pushed their way past guards and entered the union offices. They asserted they were there to see that the defendants got a fair trial. It was the arrival of a second group which precipitated the fighting.

Members of the first group, who came from locals in Wisconsin, Ohio, and Michigan, refused to comply with the requests of executive board members that they leave. They asserted they had been directed by their locals to sit in at the trial. The defendants refused to ask them to leave, declaring they were not responsible for the men being there.

Refuse Peace Offer.

Walter P. Reuther of Detroit, an executive board member, suggested that the group appoint a committee to remain while the others departed. But Richard Gosser, president of the local at Toledo, Addes' home town, objected to that.

"If we walk out that will leave our small committee in the hands of Martin's strong arm squads," Gosser replied. "We were sent here by our locals to sit in at the trial. We can all show union cards paid up."

Later the delegation selected a committee of eleven. All said they would remain, however, until the subcommittee was received. The executive board adjourned for the day without having taken any testimony. The executive board will decide what action to take on formal demands for an open hearing. The trial of Addes was behind closed doors and the same procedure was to have been followed today.

A resolution submitted to the board asked that every paid up member of the U. A. W. who desires be permitted to attend the trial "in the interests of decency and justice."

Culmination of Long Quarrel.

The trial is the culmination of a long quarrel between Martin and a group of his officers, led by Vice President Frankensteen, a warfare that many believe is destroying the union.

Factional conflict has broken down cohesive elements of the union. Charges of communistic sympathies

Gov. Chandler Poison Victim, Says Physician

Frankfort, Ky., July 25.—(AP)—Gov. A. B. Chandler, ill for days, is the victim of poisoned water, Dr. J. W. Bryan, his Louisville physician, said today. The doctor said he did not know what kind of poison it was, but believed a quantity would have caused death.

The governor, who is recovering rapidly, went on the air tonight, speaking from his sick bed. He was stricken by a stomach ailment last Friday in Louisville. He was brought to Frankfort Sunday in an ambulance. He is to return to the stump in his campaign for the Democratic nomination for United States senator Thursday if his condition continues to improve.

Physician Urges Publicity.

The statement of Dr. Bryan was made public by the governor on the suggestion of the physician. Dr. Bryan is resident physician of the hotel in which the governor was staying when taken ill.

The physician said State Finance Commissioner J. Dan Talbott and State Highway Patrolman Jesse Wyatt, who drank from the same pitcher of water with the governor, also became ill at the same time, but were not affected as seriously as Chandler.

The governor, Dr. Bryan said, drank more water than either of the other two because he was perspiring freely and giving a radio talk.

Tells Potency of Poison.

"I am aware that hundreds of other people drank the water which is piped into the hotel and suffered no ill effects therefrom," the doctor said, adding that no one except Chandler, Talbott, and Wyatt drank from the pitcher.

Dr. Bryan said he was convinced that had Gov. Chandler consumed much more of the water, which undoubtedly had been poisoned, it would have been fatal to him.

The physician said he was of "the absolute opinion that somehow and in some way the water which was consumed by Chandler, Talbott, and Wyatt, somehow, somewhere and by someone had been doctored with poison."

Dr. C. W. Dowden, Louisville physician who was called in on the case Friday, said he never heard of any suspicion of poisoning in the case. He said he had no opinion or theory, but added that any man who has a pain in his stomach might have been poisoned.

Maj. Joe Burman, head of the state bureau of identification, said the state highway patrol will make an investigation to determine who is responsible for the attempt on the governor's life.

RUNS A RED LIGHT TO PUT BANDIT IN HANDS OF POLICE

Quick thinking by Bert Seggerman, chauffeur for Dr. Sidney Walker, 6840 Constance avenue, led to the capture last night of a holdup man at Michigan avenue and Ohio street.

Seggerman, who lives at 8131 Anthony avenue, was sitting in the Walker car in front of the Blackstone hotel waiting for his employer, when the bandit stepped into the car. He took 80 cents from Seggerman, then ordered him to drive north in Michigan avenue.

At Ohio street Seggerman saw Park Policeman Michael Mulvihill directing trafic. Seggerman suddenly made a left hand turn in Ohio street against the lights, hoping to attract Mulvihill's attention. The ruse worked. Policeman Mulvihill whistled for Seggerman to stop. Seggerman did so, then leaped out, calling, "there's a robber in the car!" Mulvihill ran over and seized Eugene Nolan, 41 years old, 1846 South Hamlin avenue. Nolan had been drinking. He had no gun. He had held one hand in his pocket to give the impression that he was armed.

Serpent Disrupts Church; Puts Deacons in Huddle

Rutland, Vt., July 25.—(AP)—The deacons of Community church of Middletown Springs decided tonight that something must be done to keep wild creatures out of church service. They acted because a three foot spotted adder yesterday crawled out of a pipe organ and slid across the woman organist's feet, causing the Rev. Allen G. Skiff to terminate the services suddenly.

Cashes In on Friends' Faith; Held as Forger

Ten months ago William Miller was a respected dealer in sporting goods with his own firm at 20 East Jackson boulevard. For eleven years he had been in the business, selling to north shore schools and academies, the University of Chicago, and other institutions in the central west.

Ruddy, good natured, and genial, Miller was popular wherever he went. And he knew sports from personal experience. From 1923 to 1925 he was a half back on a southern football team. More recently he was known as one of the city's best badminton players.

Last night Miller, who is 42 years old, was in a cell at the Summerdale police station. Lodged against him were sixty-seven complaints. They were signed by friends, business associates, former customers, and night club managers.

$10,000 Worth Passed.

The complaints charged that Miller had passed bogus checks on the Upper Avenue bank, where he did not have an account. Police estimate that Miller has passed $10,000 in worthless checks since he went out of business in October. Miller admitted passing the checks.

Twenty of the complaints came from residents of Lake Forest, Glencoe, Winnetka, and Wilmette. Twelve warants are waiting for him at the Evanston police station. Twenty-five others are at the Summerdale station.

Arrested After Struggle.

Yesterday Policemen Oliver Hodges, Wilbur Davis, and Charles Egan, who had been watching for Miller, saw him in front of 4140 Clarendon avenue. When they closed in, Miller blackened one policeman's eye and bit another's hand. Miller suffered a black eye and head bruises.

"Miller began cashing bad checks when he went out of business," Policeman Hodges said. "By that time he owed money to friends and to night clubs. He was known as a 'fine spender.'

"Usually he would offer to pay his debt, and then offer a check for more than the sum, mentioning that he needed a little extra cash. The result was that he passed about $10,000 worth of these checks, but realized only about $3,000. The checks ranged from $100 to $175. He is wanted also in Cincinnati, O.; St. Louis, Mo.; Tulsa, Okla., and in Arizona on check charges."

and counter charges of dictatorship have affected the prestige of the union throughout the labor movement.

Open Split June 13.

The open split came June 13, when Martin began a purge of his enemies. He suspended Addes, Vice Presidents Frankensteen, Hall, Mortimer, and Wells. A month later he expelled Addes after the secretary-treasurer had been found guilty on a hearing by the union's executive board.

The charges on which Addes was expelled were that after being suspended from office by Martin he wrote U. A. W. local unit officers and instructed them to mail the headquarters' share of union dues to him instead of to the international office.

The vice presidents are charged with disturbing union harmony. They contend, however, that the dispute is whether the union is to operate in the interest of workers or is merely to maintain union leaders in their jobs.

Calls Martin Dictator.

In an address in Milwaukee Hall denounced Martin as a dictator who is using gangster methods to prevent loss of his power. Hall told plans to call an insurgent convention of the organization, predicting the meeting would show 85 per cent of the membership opposed to Martin's régime.

As the factional warfare extended across the country into the membership of even the smallest locals, schemes were hatched by each side in an effort to thwart the other.

Many locals refused to pay the per capita tax, life blood of the union. This tax brings to the international office 37½ cents a month for every employed member. The tax was reported to have dropped to $120 for one day, whereas $12,000 was the normal collection for a day before the strike started.

When the Allis-Chalmers unit of the U. A. W. at Milwaukee refused to remit $3,000 monthly in per capita tax thirty men, acting under orders from Martin, raided the local's offices and seized its records and a cash box containing $300.

Similar action was taken at Muskegon, Mich., and Tarrytown, N. Y., on orders of Martin that international officers seize control of local units which resist his authority.

Charges of communism were made by both sides in the controversy. Martin was accused by suspended officers of associating with and being influenced by officials of the communist party in Michigan, a branch of the national organization headed by Earl Browder.

They asserted Martin was influenced by followers of Jay Lovestone, once head of the communist party in the United States. Lovestone now is chief of the Independent Communist league, which disagrees with the regular party in policy. Lovestone reputedly was removed from the position Browder now holds because he refused to follow orders of the international communist organization.

Take Troubles to Lewis.

John L. Lewis, chairman of the C. I. O., sought to keep out of the dog fight that raged within his most powerful affiliate, but delegations of the factions insisted on telling him of the trouble.

Thirteen local presidents of the U. A. W. in Michigan and Ohio went to Washington to confer with Lewis. He announced after the meeting that he had taken under advisement their appeal to settle the fight.

Lewis was equally noncommittal after sitting for six hours with opposing factions at a meeting of the union's international executive board.

BELLWOOD LABOR RULING TAKEN TO FEDERAL COURT

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals was petitioned yesterday to set aside a National Labor Relations board ruling citing the Jefferson Electric company of Bellwood for unfair labor practices. The company's petition attacks the board's order as erroneous and contrary to law. The ruling was made July 14 on charges filed against the company by the United Electrical and Radio Workers of America, an affiliate of the Committee for Industrial Organization.

The board found that the company gave undue assistance to the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, an American Federation of Labor affiliate, after the C. I. O. union started to organize factory workers. The order directed that a contract with the A. F. of L. union be dissolved and ordered reinstatement of three workers alleged to have been fired because of C. I. O. affiliations.

GOVERNOR PILES STRIKE COST ON IOWA TAXPAYERS

Forces Relief Expense on County.

Newton, Ia., July 25.—[Special.]—Already burdened taxpayers of Jasper county have been saddled with an additional $15,000 expense by the action of Gov. Nelson G. Kraschel. The governor ordered that public relief be given to all employés of the strike closed Maytag Washing Machine plant. The plant has operated only two days since May 9.

On May 1 the state controler authorized the Jasper county board of supervisors to transfer $20,000 from the general fund to the relief fund. The $20.000 was exhausted last week when a second transfer was approved. This makes the strike cost to taxpayers $35,000 to date, with no indication of settlement. In addition it is costing the state $750 a day to maintain troops here.

Plant Reopens; Closed.

A week ago the Maytag company announced its plant would be opened for all who desired to return to work. Between 500 and 600 employés worked last Monday and Tuesday. The plant was closed Wednesday when Gov. Kraschel sent troops into Newton and announced the plant would remain closed until the company reached an agreement with the C. I. O.

Only about half of the Maytag company's 1,400 employés are on strike. For weeks they prevented the others from entering the plant. When morale of the strikers was begining to break and with the back-to-work movement growing, C. I. O. leaders became desperate. Arrival of troops to keep the plant closed was hailed as a great victory for the C. I. O. This fact immediately identified the governor as a partisan of the C. I. O.

When the factory was opened last Monday the board of supervisors announced relief for Maytag employés would be discontinued today. They took the position that the factory was open for all who desired to work and that the taxpayers should not be burdened with the support of those who refused to return to their jobs.

Supervisors' Decision Reversed.

Kraschel's decision reversed the supervisors' decision. Within a few hours after the governor's announcement last Wednesday eight-five applications for relief were filed. Of the 400 family heads receiving relief, only twenty-five were willing to return to work.

The board allows a family of four $3.50 weekly for food and divided whatever surplus commodities the federal government supplies. No relief applicant is allowed to operate his automobile. A condition made by the county board and enforced strictly by military authorities is that relief applicants must deposit their automobile license plates with the relief administrator.

Demands for reopening of the plant are becoming more insistent daily. Business men who have been extending credit since early in May are becoming desperate. They say they will be forced to stop all credit shortly unless the plant is reopened and their customers begin to catch up with their bills.

Mayor Appeals to Governor.

Mayor George Campbell carried the appeal of Newton business men to Gov. Kraschel in Des Moines today, but hold little hope that he will permit reopening of the plant and provide protection for those who desire to work.

Belief is strong here that Kraschel would like to see the plant reopened, but will not antagonize labor which is credited with his election. Kraschel is opposed in the November election by George Wilson, whom he defeated by less than 2,000 votes two years ago. That election was decided finally only after a recount.

Waukegan Votes to Issue Bonds to Pay Relief Bill

Fifty electors of Waukegan township voted last night to float a $101,000 bond issue to pay bills incurred during the year ending July 1 for the administration of relief. Poormaster Harold Pillifant said the relief load was unusually heavy during the year. Most of the money will go to merchants.

Robs Oak Park "L" Station Again with Pal; Take $141

Two robbers held up the Gunderson avenue elevated station in Oak Park yesterday morning and took $141 from Miss Ruth Henderson, 27 years old, the ticket agent. Miss Henderson said one of the robbers was one of three who held her up June 6 and escaped with $305.

390 BACK ON JOBS AS STRIKE ENDS IN N. CHICAGO PLANT

Courts Have Yet to Hear Riot Cases.

Three hundred ninety employés were at work yesterday in the Chicago Hardware Foundry company plant in North Chicago. Disagreements between the management and a striking C. I. O. union were ironed out Saturday. But the courts of Lake county still must deal with the cases of 47 defendants charged with fomenting disorders during the seven weeks of the strike.

Ten men found guilty of defying an injunction of Circuit Judge Ralph J. Dady have been ordered to jail for contempt.

Appeals Are Filed.

All these defendants have furnished bonds and filed an appeal to the Appellate court. Under the settlement agreement the hardware company pledged itself to recommend that these men be freed of the contempt charges. However, Judge Dady and State's Attorney Charles E. Mason were not parties to the agreement and have not indicated what their course will be.

Indictments charging conspiracy and intimidation have been returned against twenty persons. Fourteen have been arrested, and thirteen have furnished bonds of $2,500 each.

One of the thirteen freed is Meyer Adelman, a professional organizer for the C. I. O., who was sentenced for contempt after the Fansteel strikers were routed in 1937. Oakley Mills, another organizer, is among the six who have not yet been apprehended.

Called to Justice Court.

The cases of seventeen persons, arrested during the battle last Tuesday in which deputies cleared pickets from the foundry gates and permitted loyal employés to enter, were called yesterday before Justice of the Peace Henry F. Wallenwein.

The strike was ended virtually on terms that had been offered by the company when the employés walked out. The men accepted a 5 per cent wage cut for this week and a 10 per cent cut thereafter. They gave up their demand for vacations with pay. They were, however, promised that their union, the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, would be granted a written contract as sole bargaining agents for all plant workers.

BATHERS' AUTOS ROBBED; SEIZE 4 WPA LABORERS

For several weeks bathers at the Montrose avenue beach have complained of petty thefts from their automobiles left in the new parking lot. Park Policemen Fred Specht and Anthony Schneider were assigned to guard the cars.

Yesterday they watched four WPA laborers who were assigned to paper picking and general labor on the beach and in the lot. The policemen saw the four men trying the door handles of parked cars. When they broke into one car and stole $10 the laborers were arrested.

They are Joseph Kuwal, 1460 Huron street; John Wrobel, 1340 Haddon avenue; Walter Stojak, 1229 Noble street, and John Scalzone, 1221 Howe street. Kuwal was carrying a revolver which was taken for a ballistic examination.

LAWYER'S OUSTER FROM WEIRTON HEARING UPHELD

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 25.—[Special.]—Brushing aside accusations against its conduct, the National Labor Relations board today upheld the exclusion of Clyde A. Armstrong, chief counsel for the Weirton Steel company, from further participation in a board hearing involving the company.

Armstrong had appealed from a ruling made by Examiner Edward G. Smith at Steubenville, O., on July 11. Smith barred the lawyer from the hearing on the ground that his attitude was defiant and contemptuous.

Today's ruling by the board, upholding its examiner, was expected. The attitude of Chairman J. Warren Madden and the two board members was such at a hearing last week that Armstrong declared the board had prejudged the case. Armstrong will appeal to the courts from the board ruling.

Collusion with C. I. O. Charged.

The board referred today to charges by Attorney Earl F. Reed, representing Armstrong, that Madden had conferred secretly in Washington with C. I. O. officials while the Weirton hearing was in progress. Reed also asserted that C. I. O. men aided Smith in serving subpenas and that Smith had secret conferences in his hotel room with labor board attorneys.

Under these circumstances Armstrong was justified in adopting an aggressive attitude in order to give his client a fair deal at the hearing, his lawyer argued.

Board Scorns Charges.

"Counsel for Armstrong argued before the board that Armstrong's aggressive conduct and his persistence in making objections to ruiings were the result of provocation over the eleven month period of the hearing," the board said.

"In the course of argument counsel saw fit to make highly improper, unprofessional, and unsubstantiated accusations against the board.

"We do not believe the argument was made in good faith. Even if the accusations were entirely true they would not in any way explain, mitigate, or excuse the contemptuous conduct to which the ruling under appeal was directed.

Power to Punish Lacking.

"Upon the entire record, we believe that Armstrong, well aware as an attorney that the trial examiner lacked the power to punish his conduct by the imposition of fine or imprisonment, took deliberate advantage of that knowledge to prevent the trial examiner from conducting the hearing to an orderly conclusion.

"We find that Armstrong was guilty of contemptuous conduct to an aggravated degree and that the trial examiner's ruling was entirely justified.

"Armstrong's action since July 7 [when the examiner excluded him] convinces us that the hearing cannot proceed if he is present and that the ruling must stand without modfication."

Spoke Before Crowd.

The board's opinion mentioned a protest demonstration in Steubenville on July 13 against Armstrong's exclusion.

"Armstrong addressed the crowd," the board remarked, "and by responding to plaudits on this occasion, he not only displayed complete lack of remorse for his reprehensible conduct but continued to undermine the trial examiner's control of the hearing."

The hearing, which was brought about by C. I. O. charges of unfair labor tactics against the Weirton company will be resumed in Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 24, the board said.

Attorney Reed said that proof of the link between the C. I. O. and the labor board would be offered in court when Armstrong's appeal from the labor board ruling is heard.

New Palestine Terror

A new wave of terror spread through Palestine yesterday. At Haifa (1) thirty-five Arabs were killed by a bomb explosion. Near Nazareth (2) a Jewish constable was slain from ambush. At Jenin (3) an Arab mounted policeman was killed. A Jewish laborer died when a land mine exploded beneath an auto truck on the plain of Sharon (4). The day's casualties totaled forty-five killed and seventy-five wonuded.

sented a desolate picture, its streets echoing only to the tramp of armed military patrols. A few families who evacuated blazing buildings with little piles of household goods found refuge in buildings provided by authorities.

Commerce was paralyzed. Shipping was diverted from Haifa to Jaffa and Tel Aviv.

In other holy land disturbances an Arab mounted policeman was slain at Jenin and a twenty-four hour curfew was imposed.

A Jewish patrol was ambushed near Nazareth and one constable was killed and another wounded.

Motor Truck Blown Up.

A land mine exploding beneath a motor truck carrying Jewish laborers on the plain of Sharon killed one and wounded two seriously.

A party of eighty American tourists who arrived in Jerusalem from Egypt had part of their tour canceled. Closely guarded, they toured Bethlehem and the old city of Jerusalem, but tours to Nazareth and Tiberias on the shore of the Sea of Tiberias [Sea of Galilee] were called off. Tomorrow they are leaving for Jaffa, where their ship is waiting them.

Another party of tourists was fired upon yesterday by snipers near Athlit, south of Haifa. No one was hurt.

Jews Demand Investigation.

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

JERUSALEM, July 25.—Arab shops throughout Palestine tonight were closed in protest against the bombing in Haifa's market place.

The Hebrew press demanded a complete investigation of the outrage and urged that the guilty parties, whether Jews or Arabs, be brought to justice.

While the Arabs unanimously attributed the crime to Jews, the latter continued to contend that all the so-called "retaliation" measures actually were the work of a foreign power, which, the Jews said, is attempting "to fish the troubled waters of Palestine."

committee on administrative law, headed by Roscoe Pound, dean emeritus of the Harvard law school, which criticized "ten tendencies which may be noted in administrative action in the whole English speaking world."

The third "tendency" noted by the committee was one "to make decisions on the basis of pre-formed opinions and prejudices." Under this section, the committee referred to a report of the SEC on "reform of reorganization procedure" and quoted a law review article saying: "Both [parts] of the report essentially are briefs in support of the commission's recommendations for reform."

Charges Readers Are Misled.

"The content," Commissioner Frank said, "is plainly such as to lead the reader to believe that the committee is asserting that SEC, in those reports, was acting in a biased manner," and had conducted the hearings on which those reports were founded so that they were "at best a perfunctory concession to appearances" and were "carefully staged with an idea to a pre-determined result."

Frank said he "gravely doubted" whether members of Pound's committee had made an investigation "indispensable to a fair appraisal by them of the SEC reports."

"I venture to suggest," he said, "that those leading members of the bar who glibly criticize government officials for lack of fairness, themselves owe the government officials and the public the duty to exercise fairness."

Questions Justice Black's Status.

Edward T. Lee, dean of John Marshall law school at Chicago, offered a resolution to the assembly of the association requesting that the association ask the United States Supreme court for information concerning the seating of Associate Justice Hugo L. Black.

The resolution said there has existed "a grave doubt of his [Black's] eligibility to hold that office."

The resolution asked that a committee file a petition asking the Supreme court "to determine whether a member of its bar . . . is not entitled to call to the attention of the court the presence on its bench of an individual who, it is believed and asserted, sits there without constitutional authority, because of the provision in the constitution providing that 'no senator or representative shall, during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States which shall have been created, or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased, during such time.'"

Discuss Judicial Reforms.

One of the important sections of the convention is devoted to discussion of reforms in judicial administration in state courts. A committee headed by Judge Edward Finch of the New York Court of Appeals recommended that courts should be responsible for their own procedure and not bound by rules prescribed by a legislature. He also urged a unified judicial system in every state.

A eulogy to the late Justice Benjamin Cardozo of the Supreme court was read.

DR. MORGAN'S FOE ADMITS JUMPING GUN IN TVA RATES

Ex-Chief's Charge True, Says Lilienthal.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Knoxville, Tenn., July 25.—[Special.]—The yardstick of the Tennessee Valley authority—to measure fair rates for electricity—stirred renewed rancor at today's session of the congressional investigating committee. Director David E. Lilienthal admitted on the stand that Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, deposed TVA chairman, received from newspapers his first information on the TVA yardstick rates promulgated by Lilienthal in 1933.

In a counterattack on Dr. Morgan's charges of the subsidizing of yardstick cities—those which use TVA electricity Lilienthal assailed Dr. Morgan for "setting himself up before the country as a yardstick for honesty, candor, and decency in government." Lilienthal said the Dr. Morgan legend is a myth.

Dr. Morgan is known as the TVA dam builder, engineer, college president, and a parent of TVA; Lilienthal is the hydro-electric power man on the board; Harcourt A. Morgan is the fertilizer director.

Accounting Office Assailed.

The accounting office at Washington also came in for castigation by Lilienthal. At times the controler general's office has held up TVA accounts with challenges of some of the items. Representative Charles A. Wolverton [R., N. J.] asked a question which brought a retort from Lilienthal.

"We feel the accounting office has played politics with TVA," he said. "There is no doubt John McCarl played politics with TVA."

McCarl is former controler general. In May, 1935, after an audit of TVA accounts, he charged that a million dollars worth of government contracts were dished out by the authority in violation of the law or in a questionable manner. Among irregularities he charged was the awarding without competitive bidding of a contract which obligated the government for an indefinite sum, estimated at $610,000.

Attacks Morgan's Charges.

Lilienthal's testimony included rebuttals and counterattacks on charges by Dr. Morgan concerning the low price contracts given certain large industries, including the Aluminum Company of America, subsidies to land grant colleges for aid in the fertilizer program, and the conduct of rural electrification.

Lilienthal made his admission concerning his 1933 announcement of the TVA yardstick rates under questioning by Representative Wolverton. Dr. Morgan charged the rates were announced without his knowledge, although he was then chairman of the board by preference of President Roosevelt, and that they were guess work and set up a false yardstick.

Lilienthal in his testimony said these rates later were revised by the board, that he had been authorized to negotiate contracts with the towns of Tuscumbia, Florence, and Sheffield at Muscle Shoals, and that this involved the pronouncement of wholesale and resale rates. He read excerpts from the board minutes at one of which, Aug. 22, 1933, was a long memorandum on a plan of action to carry out the hydro-power program.

Defends His Action.

"Do you maintain that the general plan justified your announcement of rates Sept. 14, 1933, without submitting them to the board?" asked Wolverton.

"Yes," said Lilienthal, "I was instructed to translate the principles which TVA had agreed upon. The plan contemplated that negotiations would be pressed to some sort of conclusion which obviously could not be done without an agreement as to proposed rates."

"Were the figures submitted to the board first?" asked Wolverton.

"They were not," said Lilienthal.

"Well, then," said Wolverton, "the statement of Arthur Morgan that the first he heard of the rates was when he read it in the papers was true, was it not?"

"Yes," replied Lilienthal.

Senator Calls It Strange.

The witness said the rates set up five years ago now appear somewhat too high instead of too low. He said they were based on the judgment of consulting experts at a Madison, Wis., conference, and a report filed with engineering computations.

Dwelling on the contracts with large industries he said only about half of TVA's available power capacity is now being used.

"To me it seems strange," commented Senator Lynn J. Frazier [R., N. D.] at one stage in the hearing, "that you get the board to give you authority to negotiate in 1933, then you give out to the press an announcement of rates without submitting them to the board, although the board would have to approve them before you could make contracts."

Recalls Board Meeting.

"On Sept. 18, 1933," said Lilienthal, "less than a week after the announcement was made, there was a board meeting at which the rates were discussed. Nowhere in the informal record of that meeting is there any indication Arthur Morgan takes the position he now takes, that my position in making the Sept. 14 announcement of rates was irresponsible.

"The wholesale rates fixed were conservative. You can take the total investment of Norris, Wilson and Wheeler dams, except for the navigation locks, and the rates now charged will produce revenues to pay the charges and amortize the investment 100 per cent."

Concerning the cheap rate contracts for large blocks of power for four large industrial companies, Lilienthal denied charges of Dr. Morgan that cancellation clauses are in the interest of the companies.

Explains Cancellation Right.

"Dr. Morgan," said Lilienthal, "says the Aluminum company may cancel on one year's notice. That is not true. The company may only cancel at the end of the tenth year by five years' previous notice and the authority has the same right. This is by far the largest of the contracts."

In his counterattack on Dr. Morgan's charges of hidden subsidies given by TVA to cities using TVA power, Lilienthal said promotional cost reports are made to congress.

"Dr. Morgan states," said the witness, "that direct promotion of load building costs incurred by TVA designed to increase electric use by retail customers are not included in our wholesale costs of power. He says this expense is a hidden subsidy.

"None of these charges are true. Dr. Morgan stated, and it is true, TVA has expended funds for activities which have as their purpose increase in use of electricity in homes, farms, and places of business. This kind of business is generally known as sales promotion, or new business expenses."

Accuses Chairman.

Lilienthal said Dr. Morgan once suggested the words "new business" be subsituted in a TVA report for "promotion" and that two items be combined under a heading of "contingencies."

"This was a clear recommendation by Morgan that the authority should practice concealment and deliberate deception," said Lilienthal.

A large audience attended today's hearing, but most of the time only four of the ten committee members were present. The four are Senators Vic Donahey [D., O.], chairman; H. H. Schwartz [D., Wyo.], and Frazier and Representative Wolverton.

Festival Sopranos

MILLI VICTOR.

Virginia Ott. June Wallgren.

The soprano section of the ninth Chicagoland Musical Festival vocal contest again will be the largest, records showed yesterday, when the deadline was reached for entry of Cook county vocalists.

Scores of singers visited the festival offices in Tribune Tower to fill out official entrance blanks. There were stenographers, truck drivers, students of music conservatories, and druggists.

Those chosen as "best man singer" and "best woman singer" in the Chicago festival finals will appear Saturday night, Aug. 20, at the festival concert in Soldiers' field.

Among the sopranos in the competition are June Wallgren, 5317 North Christiana avenue; Virginia Ott, 4748 North Ashland avenue; Ruth McCormick, 7448 North Artesian avenue; Ruth Lasser, 2236 Morse avenue; Loretta Sternberg, 3647 Kenmore avenue, and Milli Victor, 2621 Crystal street.

CITY NEEDS MORE PARKS, CITIZENS' SURVEY DECIDES

Only a Sixth Enough Area Now, Says Report.

Chicago should have six times the park area it now has. This assertion is made in the report of a citizens committee which has been investigating park finances and operations for more than a year. The committee reported that the establishment of new parks—especially in congested districts—is more important than continued development of Chicago's lake front.

The recommendation was one of ten made by the committee, which was appointed by Robert J. Dunham, president of the park district. Mr. Dunham's action came after Gov. Horner had criticized him and the park board and forced a reduction of the park district's pegged tax levy from $9,000,000 to $7,600,000. The governor accused the commissioners of wasteful expenditures.

The citizens' report praised Mr. Dunham's leadership and financial policies. The aims of consolidating the park districts are being fulfilled, it said.

Seeks Plan for Playgrounds.

The recommendations:

1. That a plan for the acquisition, design, and development of small parks and playgrounds for every section of the city be prepared. The report says: "The continued development of the lake front is secondary in importance to the establishment of small parks in congested areas where they are sorely needed. A ten year pay-as-you-go acquisition should be undertaken." The district's 5,453 acres should be expanded to 36,000 acres, according to the report. It is suggested that land be acquired by tax lien foreclosures. [The committee report did not consider the 33,000 acres of Cook county forest preserve land as park acreage in determining the need for more park space. Dr. Philip L. Seman, a committee member, said yesterday: "We were interested only in neighborhood park."]

2. That Lake Michigan shore protection be rebuilt through a six or seven year program, with particular attention paid to more extensive use of sand beaches. Wooden structures in bulkheads and piers are deteriorating.

3. That 82 of the 110 miles of park boulevards be transferred to the city for management. "Operation of city streets is not a park function," the report says. It recommends further that small parks under city control, and school playgrounds, be transferred to the park district.

Recommendations for Trees.

4. That tendencies of the landscape division to plant trees too close together be checked, and that the present extensive use of elm trees be curtailed in view of the westward spread of the Dutch elm disease.

5. That the $2,000,000 administration building under construction at the north end of Soldiers' field be completed as soon as possible.

6. That special privileges to private clubs and groups, granted by the old park district officials before the parks were consolidated, be discontinued unless the clubs' activities are general.

7. That concessionaire contracts be studied with a view to profit sharing by the district.

Ask More Revenue.

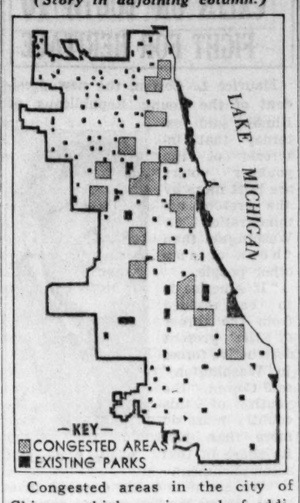
8. That revenue from golf be increased and that charges be made for reserved seats at the Grant park concerts, for the use of baseball and football grounds, and for the use of tennis courts. But the report recommended that no charge be made for persons who cannot afford to pay.

9. That various administrative improvements be made. Among them are rapid completion of civil service installation and a reduction in the secretarial appropriation. Maj. William A. Welch, whose report is the basis of the committee report, wrote, "The secretary receives $7,200 a year. I understand he has many outside interests and does not devote all of his time to the position." [The secretary is J. Frank Lyman, Democratic committeeman of the 48th ward.]

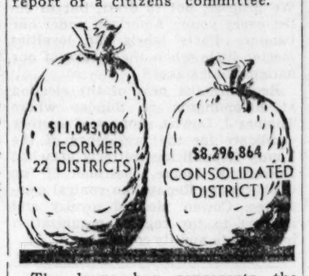
10. That a reasonably small but representative committee of public spirited citizens be named by the commissioners to advise them on matters of policy, with reference to acquisition of properties and character of service offered.

More Parks Needed

(Story in adjoining column.)



Congested areas in the city of Chicago which are in need of additional park space, according to a report of a citizens' committee.



The large bag represents the average annual expenditure for the 22 former park districts during the period of 1928-1934. The small bag represents the expense for the consolidated park district for 1937.

"Purposes Being Fulfilled."

Of Mr. Dunham's administration of the park district the report said:

"In the main, the aims and purposes of park consolidation are being fulfilled. Unified control of the park areas has demonstrated its superiority to the former scattered authority. Consolidation has made possible economies in operation which have been reflected to some extent in reduced park taxes as a whole, and to a greater extent in giving more adequate service in districts which had suffered from neglect because of their desperate fiscal condition."

The twenty-two park districts were consolidated in 1934.

Financial Ability Praised.

The report quoted Maj. Welch as saying it was largely due to Mr. Dunham's ability as a financier, organizer, and executive that the present efficient park organization has been assembled."

The committee included Max Murdock, chairman of the public affairs committee of the Union League club; Mrs. W. H. Hermsdorf of the Chicago and Cook County Federation of Women's organizations; John J. Fitzpatrick, president of the Chicago Federation of Labor; Dr. Seman of the Chicago recreational commission, Douglas Sutherland of the civic federation and bureau of public efficiency, Miss Harriet Vittum of the Northwestern university settlement, and John O. Rees of the committee on public expenditures.

Mr. Reese recently resigned to become general attorney for the park district.

Maj. Welch is chief engineer of the Palisades Interstate Park commission of Bear Mountain, N. Y. The committee chose him and L. H. Weir, a public recreation authority, to complete the survey and make technical recommendations.

4 ALPINISTS SAFE AFTER ASCENT OF 6,300 FOOT CLIFF

GRINDELWALD, Switzerland, July 25.—(AP)—Four German conquerors of 13,040 foot Mount Eiger arrived here today, ending the fears of observers whose telescopes had lost them in swirls of snow and fog among the mountain's perilous ravines. Snow and fog were so blinding yesterday the Alpinists were forced to halt until afternoon on their rocky perches and wait for clearer weather. Their ascent of the 6,300 foot sheer cliff of the north wall took them three days and two nights. Hundreds of lives had been lost in attempting the climb during the past century.

COURT UPHOLDS REFUSAL OF NEW TROLLEY PERMIT

Orders Fund Set Aside to Compensate City.

BY WILLIAM BROMAGE.

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson refused yesterday to order receivers for the Chicago Surface Lines to accept a temporary franchise passed by the city council last week. As a result of his action the ordinance expired at midnight. It had required acceptance of the receivers within five days.

Although sustaining his receivers' recommendation that they not be required to accept the permit, Judge Wilkerson instructed them to set aside 3 per cent of car line fares in a special "city compensation fund."

One of the controverted provisions of the permit required the car lines to pay 3 per cent of their revenues to the city for the use of the streets. If he later directs the receivers to pay city compensation it will be taken from the new fund and can be made retroactive to July 15, Judge Wilkerson said in a four page order.

Operate on Old Basis.

The order instructs receivers to continue operations and arrangements with the city on substantially the same basis as they were on July 15 when the old 1907 street car ordinances expired. The new permit was passed by the council to replace these old franchises pending the working out of a new unification ordinance. The temporary permit would have expired Oct. 31.

Judge Wilkerson said the receivers' objection, filed last Friday, to a section of the new ordinance requiring unconditional acceptance within five days, was well founded.

This provision, he asserted, was an unreasonable limitation which made it impossible to give parties to the traction litigation a fair hearing.

Sets Hearing for Sept. 26.

He fixed a hearing on the terms offered by the city for Sept. 26. On this date his traction adviser, Walter A. Shaw, is scheduled to report a plan for unification of all transit systems in the city.

Objections to the proposed city grant must be filed by attorneys for trustees under surface lines bond mortgages by Aug. 25.

The order instructing receivers to set aside 3 per cent of the fares said the amount shall be computed by the method set up in the temporary ordinance. The fund, it said, shall be held intact.

"In case the court shall later direct the receivers to enter into an agreement for compensation for the use of the streets . . . the payments for such use shall relate back to July 15," it continued.

Orders Cash Kept Intact.

The order further instructed receivers to keep intact all cash on hand and all money and securities in the renewal funds. The cash resources of the companies total about 31 million dollars. A provision of the permit offered by the city required that these funds be held undisturbed.

Extensions of service, notwithstanding that the car lines now have no permit, will be ordered as circumstances may require, Judge Wilkerson said.

His order followed filing of objections by attorneys for trustees and bondholders' groups. These reports, filed by ten traction law firms, asserted that a raise in the present 7 cent fare will be necessary if the 3 per cent compensation is to be paid to the city.

The attorneys admitted that as a condition to a grant for the use of the streets the city has the right to require compensation, but charged that the ordinance attempted to prevent receivers from seeking a fare increase.

ASSISTANT DISTRICT ATTORNEY SEIZED ON BRIBE TAKING CHARGE

New York, July 25.—[Special.]—Assistant District Attorney William F. McGuiness of Brooklyn was arrested today and released in bail of $5,000 on a charge involving conspiracy in a perjury case.

Wm. F. McGuiness.

Magistrate Matthew J. Troy set Aug. 1 for trial, but refused to sit in the case, disqualifying himself because he had initiated the investigation which brought about McGuiness' arrest.

Also held in $5,000 bail was George Murphy, elevator starter in the Central Courts building in Brooklyn, who is accused of passing a $100 bribe to McGuiness in a perjury case against Joseph Mauro, head of a stevedore company.

BIG BEAR SPURNS NEW HOME, SO SIS HAS A NEW BEAU

The moral of Emancipation day at the Brookfield zoo yesterday was that a lady can never be certain of her man. Big Bear, a sulky, female Kodiak—who thought she'd be missed, but wasn't—demonstrated this.

Emancipation day, a triumph of cod liver oil, molasses, ceremony and architecture, was held to release the zoo's six great Kodiak bears upon their new $60,000 Bear island. Compared with their old grotto, it is a palace, for it has two stories, a bathing pool, and a maternity ward, in addition to innumerable peaks and moats, all made for bear pleasure.

But Big Bear, alone in all the Kodiak family, refused to attend. During the week-end two females and three males had agreed, when lured by fish and peanuts, to abandon the old grotto. But not Big bear.

Yesterday, as she pressed a dismal, brown nose against the bars of her old retiring den, her five former comrades roamed their new island home. If she was missed, it wasn't evident. It just meant that one of her little sisters had two males tagging after her.

T. R. THE THIRD GETS A TICKET; NAME AWES COPS

"What's your name, buddy?" said Policeman John Weber as he and his partner, Gus Milz, curbed a motorist on Cicero avenue near Church street in Niles Center last Wednesday. They had clocked the car at 51 miles an hour.

"Theodore Roosevelt III.," remarked the young driver. And he was. Awed by the significance of the name, they allowed the grandson of the late President Theodore Roosevelt to sign his own bond.

He will appear Saturday before Justice of the Peace Fred Kloman. Roosevelt and four other young men have taken a home in Lake Forest for the summer.

Moving Forward

Marshall Field & Company presents here each day observations and opinions intended to be of interest and value to those it seeks to serve.

BONDS WITH THE FUTURE

By CALEB

ON DECEMBER 23, 1903, a Marshall Field & Company "Merchandise Bond" was purchased by a customer. It had five coupons attached, each good for $1 in trade. Recently—some thirty-five years later—the last of these was redeemed at our store. The transaction afforded us a peculiar pleasure because it seemed to round out a complete cycle of service.

Census figures recently placed the number of retail stores operating in this country at well over the million-and-a-half mark. In the last five years more than half a million stores have closed for one reason or another. Almost as many new ones have been opened.

Had the purchaser of that merchandise bond been asked in 1903 to list the advantages of buying at Marshall Field & Company it might not have occurred to him to list stability as one of them. And yet a lack of that single quality in the store would have decreased the value of his purchase at least twenty per cent.

But the significance of permanence and stability goes deeper than that. The whole philosophy and conduct of a business are tinctured by the intention to stay in business for a long time. Had Mr. Marshall Field intended to open a store one year and close, sell or move it the next, he would not have established the principles in merchandising for which he is famous.

Stability and permanence impose some strenuous duties. With those two things in mind each transaction, no matter how small, takes on tremendous importance. The purchaser of a packet of pins today must be so well served that successive needs for pins suggest to him our store and no other. If we fail to serve well the man and wife with a hundred dollars to spend for furniture, we will not have an opportunity to serve them on the later day when their finances permit the purchase of suites for ten or twenty times that amount.

Hence, shortcuts and alluring merchandising byways which are sometimes useful in the short run are automatically and forever closed to us. If, as is the case, we expect to redeem a customer's claim in 1975 as we did this one of 1903, we must apply our energy to the handling of every customer relationship — every transaction—with an eye to the future and to permanent customer satisfaction. Thus through integrity comes stability—and we know of no other way of achieving it.

HORLICK HEIRESS DEATH INQUEST WILL OPEN TODAY

Son of W. Perkins Bull to Be a Witness.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TORONTO, Ont., July 25.—[Special.]—The inquest into the death of Mrs. Mabelle Horlick Sidley, American malted milk heiress, will be opened in the city morgue here tomorrow afternoon.

Only two witnesses will be called. It is expected the hearing then will be adjourned until next Tuesday, when Ontario authorities will summon fifty witnesses.

Testimony will be taken tomorrow from John Moore, chauffeur for Mrs. Sidley during the time she was in Toronto, and Thomas Henry Bull, a son of W. Perkins Bull, Canadian attorney.

Will Contest Expected.

Mrs. Sidley died July 6 in the elder Bull's Toronto home, where she had been a guest for more than a year. She left a third of her fortune, estimated at between 3 and 9 million dollars, to the elder Bull. Her son, William Horlick Sidley, to whom she bequeathed the same share as Bull, has indicated he will contest her will.

Bull, who was Mrs. Sidley's friend and counselor, has been questioned by Canadian inheritance tax authorities, who are investigating the death and financial affairs of the heiress.

Bull is a fabulous character in his home city. Nearly six feet tall, with a heavy torso, he is familiar to almost every one here. Few of his acquaintances ever have known much about his affairs.

In Twenty Companies.

For thirty years he has moved through Toronto's social and financial circles, always busily engaged in one project or another. Records of provincial courts show he has been identified as legal adviser, official stockholder, or associate of some twenty different companies. Commodities in which these companies dealt included stocks, bonds and gold; soap, grapefruit, and land; lumber, wool, and sugar, and finally a chain of orange juice stands.

Bull's business, however, occupied only a small part of his time. He is an enthusiastic breeder of prize stock and a patron and promoter of garden societies. He is known as an historian and collector of early Canadian lore.

Bull also is a collector of bric-a-brac, and is fond of the animal after which his family apparently was named. The desk in his study at Lorne Hall, his big, brick house, has a dozen miniature bulls in China, iron, silver, and wood upon it. One of Bull's favorite gestures is to toy with one of these miniatures while he talks.

All Possessions Marked.

The rubber mat the front door of the house has a bull rampant upon it. From the old English carriage house at the rear—now the garage—a large gilded bull is pendant from an iron arm. Figures of bulls are on the Bull silver plate, upon the china, and the stationary. The figure of a charging bull in silver decorates the radiator cap of Bull's personal automobile.

It is his custom to point out these animals to guests who visit his home for the first time. He never fails, according to his close friends, carefully to point out with deep chuckles that the artists in each instance have depicted the beasts as obviously virile.

Bull celebrated his 68th birthday today. He was born in Brampton and attended an elementary school since absorbed by Toronto university.

Lawyer Since 1896.

He then passed a course in law at Osgood Hall and began practice in Toronto in 1896.

During the years 1899 to 1905 Bull was engaged as counsel for a number of business concerns here. In the latter year he obtained possession of 20,000 acres of land in Camaguey, Cuba, and began efforts to develop sugar plantations there.

The business of obtaining funds and reselling some of these Cuban lands took Bull all over the United States and Canada. He was among the first salesmen of real properties to use methods which became common later—those of taking prospective clients to the properties in special trains and boats and entertaining them.

Suits Follow Realty Deals.

In 1911 Bull became a representative of a company of realtors who were developing western Canadian lands. Taking his family to England he formed the British-Canadian Realty company, the object of which was to sell these properties.

Out of these dealings law suits evolved. It was about this time that the world war began and Bull leased the residence of the late Ernest Shackleton, arctic explorer, and opened the Perkins Bull convalescent hospital for Canadian officers. It is estimated here that about 5,000 Canadian officers passed through the hospital in the war years.

It was on a boat headed for England early in the war, according to Bull, that he first met William Horlick, son of the elder Horlick, who was the founder of the malted milk fortune. Of this meeting Bull said here: "There was a superficial resemblance between us. Both were big men with heavy black beards. We spoke and became friendly.

With that start, Will Horlick soon had Bull visiting at the Horlick home in Racine, Bull has said he became friendly with the entire family and especially with the elder Horlick.

"I shared in the intimacy of the family life," said Bull. "I was a beneficiary under the will of the elder Horlick who recognized thus the friendship I bore to the family."

Frequent Visitor in Racine.

While his family remained in England, Bull became a frequent visitor to the Horlick home in Racine. In 1931, the late Dr. John Streeter Sidley filed suit for divorce against Mrs. Mabelle Horlick Sidley and a $250,000 action against Bull and a Chicago detective agency charging that the constant shadowing by detectives employed by his wife had injured his health.

The suit against Bull was settled out of court and Mrs. Sidley obtained a divorce. It was reported at that time that Dr. Sidley received a large cash settlement and a life annuity of $10,000. Dr. Sidley died in 1936.

Ontario authorities became interested in Mrs. Sidley's death because of gossip, the fortune involved, and the fact that she was a citizen of the United States. An inquest was ordered and a group of physicians was detailed to make a complete autopsy and chemical analysis of the vital organs of the dead woman. While it has been said these researches have proved that Mrs. Sidley died of natural causes, the complete report on the findings never has been released.

Storm Over Lake

A sudden thundershower last night ended the hottest day of the year. During the afternoon the temperature had reached 92 degrees.

The thermometer, which stood at 84 at 8 p. m., fell to 77 an hour later and to 70 at 11 p. m. The forecast is for cloudy and cooler today.

Mrs. Charles Litchfield, 61 years old, 5514 Crystal street, was killed by lightning in Grant park during the storm. She was one of several thousand attending the band concert north of the Field museum. She fled toward shelter, but was struck west of Columbus drive between 7th and 8th streets. Nearly all those attending the concert were drenched.

At 350 North Dearborn street lightning set fire to a water tower on the Central Cold Storage company plant. Hail was reported in Western Springs. Highland Park's city council used flashlights to complete a meeting after the storm interrupted electric service.

ROOSEVELT AIDS RUEFULLY ADMIT PURGE IS A FLOP

Every Candidate Marked for Doom Survives.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 25.—[Special.]—Administration aids hereabout were somewhat ruefully admitting today that President Roosevelt's widely heralded purge of the Democratic party is not panning out.

Up to date the President has been defeated in every attempt he has made to retire to private life those Democrats who have flouted his will. At the same time several Democratic candidates classed as 100 per cent Roosevelt supporters, some of whom were expressly given the President's blessing, have gone down to defeat in the recent primaries.

The situation was brought to the fore by the results of the Democratic primary in Texas last Saturday in which three simon pure Roosevelt congressmen—Maury Maverick, Morgan Sanders, and W. D. McFarlane—were beaten.

Presidential Blessing Given.

Mr. Roosevelt, when passing through Texas recently, had placed the seal of his approval expressly on Maverick and McFarlane by referring to each as his "good friend."

Maverick is a swashbuckling radical who organized a bloc of Roosevelt supporters in the house into a sort of "storm troop." They called themselves the "Young Turks." They conferred once a week with Thomas G. [Tommy the Cork] Corcoran and other Roosevelt lieutenants, mapping out the program the Roosevelt storm troops were to shove through the house.

They also worked hand in glove with John L. Lewis and his Committee for Industrial Organization. In fact it was the identification of Maverick with the C. I. O. that appears to have been a big factor in the undoing of the congressman in the conservative San Antonio district. He was opposed by the American Federation of Labor.

Green Points to Warning.

William Green, president of the federation, said that the defeat of Maverick "should serve as a warning to members of congress that the people of this country do not want representatives who espouse the C. I. O. It is especially gratifying that Representative Hatton Sumners, loyal friend of the A. F. of L., won renomination despite the fact that he was blacklisted by the C. I. O. In fact, it appears that all five of the Texas congressmen blacklisted by the C. I. O. were renominated."

Congressman Sumners was specially marked by the White House elimination committee for political liquidation. He incurred administration disfavor when he fought in the house against the President's attempt to pack the Supreme court and the measure to clothe Mr. Roosevelt with dictatorial authority to reorganize the administrative branch of the government.

John Lewis Incensed.

No less incensed against Sumners was John Lewis because the house judiciary committee, of which the Texan is chairman, killed the bill to disqualify for government contracts any corporation that might appeal to the courts from a labor relations board ruling.

The anti-administration aspect of the Texas primary results occasioned considerable comment among politicians. Some believed they detected in these Texas events the same sort of reaction to the Roosevelt regime that has been manifested in the last few months by Vice President John Garner, who hails from that state.

It is no secret that Mr. Garner is preparing to cross swords with Mr. Roosevelt in the struggle for control of the Democratic party in 1940. Garner is expected to be the spearhead of the conservative Democrats in their battle to dominate the convention and name the candidate for President.

Speculate on Garner.

The Vice President is reputed to be a receptive candidate for the nomination for President. Some of his friends, however, feel they have reason to believe he is actually maneuvering to get the nomination for Senator Bennett Champ Clark of Missouri. In any event, Texas is expected to appear in the convention initially supporting Garner as her favorite son.

The failure of the Roosevelt purge in Texas has emphasized the ill luck that has pursued the President ever since he set out to drive recalcitrant Democrats from the party. His elimination committee suffered a humiliating defeat in the effort to beat Senator Guy M. Gillette for renomination in Iowa because Gillette, while supporting most other administration measures, had refused to go along with the President on the scheme to pack the Supreme court.

Fiasco in Indiana.

The elimination committee's alibi was that Gillette had won because the President had not gone into the open against him. So the President was persuaded to drop the mask of neutrality and in his latest fireside chat announced that as head of his party he would seek the nomination of his faithful supporters and the defeat of those who had opposed him. But this move brought no better results.

First came the liquidation fiasco in Indiana. Though Senator Frederick Van Nuys was the first victim of the President's ire to go on the blacklist for fighting the court packing bill, the Indiana Democratic organization surrendered to the senator and offered him renomination on a silver platter just as the President was faring forth to the purge.

In a letter to a constituent made public here, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] said he expects Mr. Roosevelt to try for a third term and if renominated to be defeated.

JUNIOR G. O. P. LEADER CALLS ON YOUTH TO FIGHT FOR HERITAGE

Maurice L. Cowen, the new president of the Young Republicans of Illinois, said yesterday that interests of the younger voters are hurt more by the present administration in Washington than those of any other people.

Maurice L. Cowen.

"If America is to be rescued from the throes of the present destructive forces in Washington," said Cowen, "the youth of this country must do more than just its share in that accomplishment.

"We are now being engaged in a most serious conflict against enemies within who are seeking to destroy everything that is vital and sacred. We propose, not to draft, but to enlist every young American under our banner. Party labels and loyalties matter little when the future of our nation is at stake!"

Recalling the heat of the election at Bloomington on Sunday where Thomas J. Downs, sponsor of another candidate for the presidency of the Young Republicans, bitterly attacked Edward F. Moore, chairman of the Cook county Republican central committee, Cowen pledged loyalty and support to the regular organization in the state and its counties.

26 MINUTE HAIL STORM BATTERS PRINCETON, ILL.

Princeton, Ill., July 25.—[Special.]—A terrific rain and hail storm struck this town tonight. Hail fell for twenty-six minutes, damaging homes, crops, telephone and electric lines. Some of the hailstones were as large as billiard balls. The damage was estimated at $75,000. A two and one-half inch rain fell in one and one-half hours. The municipal light plant was put out of service when rain descended through a coal chute to the plant's only serviceable boiler and extinguished the fire. A Diesel engine was run to supply current to the city hospital. The rest of the city was in darkness.

TRIO OF ROOSEVELT BACKERS UNSEATED BY VOTERS IN TEXAS

Dallas, Tex., July 25.—[Special.]—Defeat of three Texas congressmen, all Roosevelt supporters, and the spectacular triumph of W. Lee O'Daniel, radio hill billy, for governor, were the outstanding results of Saturday's Democratic primary.

Representative Maury Maverick blamed machine politics for his loss to Attorney Paul J. Kilday. W. D. MacFarlane was trailing Ed Gossett, but may get into a runoff primary. Morgan Sanders, slated for the chairmanship of the house ways and means committee, was decisively defeated.

O'Daniel piled up a majority of more than 25,000 votes over a field of eleven in the gubernatorial race. Having won a majority in the first primary, no run off election is necessary for O'Daniel. Democratic nomination is tantamount to election in Texas.

JOLIET CORONER WARNS OF NEW GAMBLING RAIDS

Coroner Londus B. Brannon of Will county gave public notice to tavern owners and storekeepers in the county yesterday that they have until Friday to remove slot machines from their premises. The notice was contained in a quarter page advertisment in a Joliet newspaper.

Two weeks ago the coroner and his deputies raided taverns and gambling places and seized more than a score of slot machines. A shooting affray with Sherif Michael J. Breen's deputies was narrowly averted. The coroner said he was giving the notice to avoid a "possibility of death or injury in further raids."

"However," he asserted, "I am determined to rid the county of gambling devices. In the spirit of good citizenship I ask that they be removed by Friday noon."

The coroner said the raids would be continued after the deadline.

MURPHY FILES PETITIONS FOR RENOMINATION

Lansing, Mich., July 25.—[Special.]—Gov. Frank Murphy today filed his petitions for renomination in the Democratic primary. By appearing at the secretary of State's office in the company of two men most persistently mentioned as probable rivals for his office, Murphy put an end to persistent reports that a strong candidate for the nomination would be put forward against him.

The two potential rivals are Murray D. Van Wagoner, highway commissioner, and Theodore I. Fry, state treasurer, for both of whom gubernatorial petitions were circulated, and both of whom said they would support Murphy for renomination and election.

Harry S. Toy of Detroit, who will contest with Frank D. Fitzgerald, former governor, for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, also filed his qualifying petitions.

Girl, 15, Swallows Poison and Wins Admirer Back

A puppy love affair that almost turned into tragedy had a happy ending early today. The principals were Susan Sims, 15 years old, 5710 North Menard avenue, a pupil in Schurz High school, and Charles Lease, 19, of 6677 Albion avenue, a recent graduate. She swallowed poison last night after a quarrel with Lease. She was brought out of danger at the Alexian Brothers hospital and later she and Lease made up.

Irwin, Ia., July 25.—(AP)—Two men were killed and a 12 year old boy stunned when lightning struck a barn on the Axland farm near here tonight. The dead are Lars Axland, 74 years old, and his son-in-law, Harold Berndt, 29. Axland's grandson, Gene Shipp, 12, was stunned. The three were in the barn milking when the bolt struck. Surviving Axland are seven children. Berndt is survived by his widow, a son and daughter.

LOYALISTS CROSS EBRO RIVER IN SURPRISE DRIVE

Three Spearheads Pierce Rebel Lines.

BARCELONA, Spain, July 25.—(AP)—Government armies on the Catalan front in northern Spain crossed the Ebro river today and smashed forward in a surprise offensive into rebel territory.

Sector where loyalists crossed Ebro marked by arrows.

At daybreak the first government forces crossed the 100 yard wide stream that has been a barrier between the northeastern government army and rebel Spain for the last three months. Tonight the government commanders said they had advanced without casualties.

Gandesa, northwest of Tortosa, was the focal point of three government spearheads. Gandesa is 14 miles west of the Ebro river and is a rebel base.

Make Three Crossings.

Caravans of trucks carried up barrels and planks which were laid down as pontoon bridges for the river crossings. Shock troops crossed the stream, the water at some points was 15 feet deep. Three crossings were made on a ten-mile front.

A thin enemy line crumbled before the surprise assault. Government reports said a number of rebel officers deserted to the government's side and that the morale of the enemy appeared broken by the swift advance. The drive of the Catalonians was reported to be continuing tonight with troops encircling towns in their path.

Declaring the operation had been carried out with a "maximum of precision" and had achieved "all objectives," the government described location of the offensive only as a ten mile front between Amposta, at the mouth of the Ebro, and Mequinenza, about half way between Gandesa and Lerida.

Bolster Valencia Defense.

HENDAYE, France [at the Spanish Frontier], July 25.—(AP)—Bitter fighting on two widely separated fronts held new threats today for the harassed Spanish government forces.

Though the rebels' Estremadura gains in southwestern Spain overshadowed the fighting for Valencia, across the country, there was new activity in the east.

Gen. José Miaja, government commander, rushed fresh troops into lines northwest of Viver, thirty-four miles north northwest of Valencia, to hold stationary the rebels seeking to sweep down the Teruel-Mediterranean highway.

Rebel Gen. Garcia Valino detached a strong column to operate west of Viver with Begis, five miles away, and government strongholds on Salada peak, eleven miles away, as its immediate objective.

Slows Rebel Tempo.

Government reports said one reason that the tempo of operations on this front had slowed down was Valino's deploying of his main body for simultaneous attempts to break the defense lines at many points.

In the Estremadura region which flanks Portugal, the successful, two pronged rebel drive up the scorching Guadiana river valley had two chief results:

1. It brought Generalissimo Francisco Franco's troops within striking distance of Ciudad Real province, which thus far has been untouched.
2. It apparently dashed any hope the government may have had of starting its own offensive toward the Portuguese frontier in an effort to split Franco's western territory.

DAVIS EXPECTED TO TAKE STAND AGAINST HINES

New York, July 25.—[Special.]—J. Richard [Dixie] Davis, the disbarred lawyer who rose to underworld power as the adviser of Dutch Schultz, is expected to enter a plea of guilty and testify against James J. Hines, Tammany district leader, when the latter goes on trial Aug. 15, it was learned today.

Hines, Davis, and other defendants are charged with operating the $100,000,0000 a year policy racket after Schultz's murder. Hines is accused of being the political fixer.

Hines' attorneys today obtained the consent of Justice Ferdinand Pecora to have the names of all judges and other officials involved named in advance of trial in a bill of particulars. Under Pecora's order, District Attorney Thomes E. Dewey has been instructed to supply the names of all public officers, judicial or otherwise, who might have been influenced, intimidated, or bribed in policy game operations.

Mother Denied

Betty Geraldine Law, age 16 (left), saying good-by to mother, Mrs. Hazel Law, after latter failed to win girl's custody in court.

Mrs. Hazel Law, 45 years old, of Traverse City, Mich., yesterday asked Master in Chancery Francis J. Benda to give her custody of her daughter, Betty, 16 years old, and to order her husband, Glenn, 46, to pay her temporary alimony. Her action was a cross petition to her husband's divorce suit, which charges here with desertion in 1928.

When it developed that Betty has lived for several years with her paternal aunt, Mrs. Pearl Ridgley of Bay City, Mich., Benda refused both the alimony and custody pleas, but ordered that the girl's father pay her aunt $5 a week toward her support.

Rebel Seaplane Bombs and Machine Guns British Ship

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

VALENCIA, Spain, July 25.—A rebel seaplane today bombed the British vessel Bellwyn, in the port of Gandia, south of here. It dropped an incendiary bomb on the deck, then swooped low machine gunning. Later it returned to bomb a Spanish vessel, machine gunning other ships as well as the port itself, which is leased by British interests. No detatils were available tonight about the damage or loss of life.

JAPANESE OCCUPY KIUKIANG, KEY OF HANKOW DEFENSE

Warships Pursue Chinese Up Yangtze River.

SHANGHAI, July 26 [Tuesday].—(AP)—Japanese military spokesmen announced today their forces had occupied Kiukiang, Yangtze river port 135 miles downstream from Hankow, the Chinese provisional capital.

The Japanese army took unopposed control of the city, the spokesmen said, when Chinese defenses crumbled and the army of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek began retreating to the west and southwest.

The fall of the important port marked the breaking of the principal line of Chinese defense in the Yangtze valley, Japanese asserted, and opened the way to Hankow.

Foreign Property Damaged.

Japanese naval officers added that the mikado's fleet of war vessels simultaneously advanced up the mine strewn river and began shelling the retreating Chinese. Air forces likewise joined in the attack upon the withdrawing army.

The Japanese had hammered at the defenses of Kiukiang since the fall of Hukow, fifteen miles downriver, on July 5. Civilians had fled. Foreign properties, including Standard Oil waterfront property, was damaged during the bombardments and defense activities of the Chinese.

Japanese said their forces marched into Kiukiang from Kutang, seven miles southeast. The Lion Hill forts guarding the river downstream from Kiukiang and the mouth of Lake Poyang were completely occupied.

U. S. Gunboat Near Battle.

HANKOW, China, July 25.—(AP)—The United States gunboat Monocacy was in the thick of shellfire and aerial bombardment today when eight Japanese warships steamed up the Yangtze river past the Kiukiang waterfront and anchored half a mile downstream from the American ship.

The three torpedo boats and five gunboats began an intensive bombardment of Chinese shore positions southwest of Kiukiang while Japanese planes kept up a heavy bombing of troop concentrations on the north bank a mile from the Monocacy.

Below the Japanese ships engaging in the bombardment larger Japanese warships were sighted by the Monocacy's commanding officer, Lieut. C. V. Conlan. The Monocacy was about three miles upstream from Kiukiang.

Japanese planes zoomed low over the Monocacy several times yesterday, but departed apparently after satisfying themselves of the nationality of the vessel.

Americans Seek Escape.

The British gunboat Cockchafer moved last night from its waterfront anchorage which was in the line of today's fire. Anchored near the Monocacy was the Cockchafer, a British merchant ship, and a Standard Oil tanker.

Fifty Americans, including many women and children, who intended to remain at Kuling, mountain resort 14 miles southeast of Kiukiang, informed United States Consul General Paul Josselyn at Hankow that Chinese military forces were approaching to defend the town against Japanese operating nearby. The Chinese requested the Americans to evacuate.

As the Americans at Kuling had waited until evacuation aboard the Monocacy by way of Kiukiang was impossible, the American consul asked Chinese authorities to give all possible protection until the American's departure by roads west of Kuling was possible.

JAPAN HALTS PRESS CLAMOR OVER SOVIET FRONTIER ACTIVITIES

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

TOKIO, July 25.—Although the Changkufeng incident is not yet settled, recent developments make an amicable solution of the border dispute with Russia in the near future appear almost certain. Consequently a widespread feeling of relief has swept the Japanese public, which had been wrought to a pitch where they believed a Russo-Japanese war was imminent. An exaggerated press campaign instigated by the Corean garrison through the war office caused the scare.

A Corean garrison staf officer arriving from the Changkufeng front today told the press in Seoul, Corea: "The situation at Changkufeng was not so serious as the newspapers reported. There was tension at Changkufeng on July 19 and 20. Soviet troops were erecting defense positions at Changkufeng, but some soldiers were doing their work half naked or swimming in the Tumen river. The number of soviet troops in that area has been increased, but it did not appear that they were making war preparations."

BRITAIN TO SEND MEDIATOR FOR CZECH-NAZI ROW

Berlin Told Runciman Will Go to Prague Soon.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 25.—Sir Nevile Henderson, British ambassador to Germany, called at the foreign office today and talked for an hour with Secretary of State von Weizsaecker. Henderson informed the Nazi official that Viscount Runciman, former president of the British Board of Trade, will go to Prague soon to act as mediator in the dispute between the government of Czechoslovakia and the Sudeten German [Nazi] party.

Konrad Henlein, leader of the Sudeten Germans, arrived in Breslau tonight, where he will be the guest of honor at a festival of gymnasts. Henlein was welcomed at the railroad station by a hundred Sudeten German boys and girls who are participating in the festival.

Put New Pressure on Czechs.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 25.—A new British effort to intensify pressure on Czechoslovakia to accept Nazi demands for Sudeten German autonomy is under way, it was disclosed tonight.

Viscount Runciman will be sent to Prague to explain to the Czechoslovak government once more that the British will not support them if the Germans refuse to accept Prague's answer to the autonomy demands.

The British government was understood to have decided that the only hope of peace was for Czechoslovakia to capitulate.

Czech Parliament Called.

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, July 25.—(AP)—Premier Milan Hodza today summoned parliament to meet Aug. 2 for a session at which the government's nationalities statute will be submitted in an effort to appease Germanic and other minorities.

The date on which the measure will be laid before the lawmakers largely depends on negotiations with Konrad Henlein's Sudeten German party, the most persistent of the nation's autonomy demanding factions.

Hodza hoped to be able to submit the completed draft of the proposed minorities statute to the leaders of the Sudeten Germans tomorrow. After the draft has been submitted to the Henleinists it will be handed to Hungarian and Polish minorities.

Should the Germans reject the proposals, it was understood Hodza would be willing to follow Great Britain's advice and continue efforts to find an early solution to the issue which is threatening European peace.

JEWS CALLED FOES OF FASCIST RACE BY ROME PARTY LEADER

ROME, July 25.—(AP)—Secretary Achille Starace of the Fascist party today declared the principal job of the ministry of popular culture in 1939 would be "elaboration and discussion of Fascist race principles." Starace said the Jews of every country provided "the general staf of anti-Fascism."

The party secretary spoke to Fascist scholars, selected members of various university faculties, who "edited or adhered to the proposition which fixes the bases of Fascist racialism."

He referred to the professors' report, made under auspices of the ministry of popular culture, which was published last Thursday. In it the Italian people were declared to be of Aryan origin, and Jews, it was asserted, "do not belong to the Italian race." At the time the report was regarded as orienting Italian policy still closer to Germany.

CORRIGAN GUEST OF U. S. ENVOY FOR 2 DAYS IN LONDON

LONDON, July 25.—(AP)—Douglas G. Corrigan, whose "reverse gear" flight to California ended in Dublin, Ireland, just a week ago, still is considering offers of movie contracts—"but not too seriously."

Corrigan arrived in England today by commercial airliner and spent a busy morning, including a long talk with United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, his host for a two day visit.

"My time is pretty well booked up," said the 31 year old Californian. "I am to be taken around and shown the sights of London. Tomorrow I am visiting as many aircraft factories as I have an opportunity to see, for my work interests me in them."

THE MAN WHO DECIDED TO KILL HITLER

In Nazi Germany there is an underground anti-Hitler movement. Its members live the lives of the hunted. In this week's Post, a German exile tells you the story of that movement, and of one of its members, The Man Who Wanted to Kill. He reveals why no group member can betray more than five men, and why, surprisingly enough, they are determined that Hitler shall not be assassinated.

AN O'DANIEL COME TO TEXAS.

Texas Democrats have nominated as their candidate for governor a comparatively recent newcomer to the state, W. Lee O'Daniel, Ohio born and Kansas raised, who went south as a flour salesman and flourished later with his own jobbing company. To avoid a runoff election the successful candidate had to take a majority from eleven other candidates. He did it and the others are wondering how.

Mr. O'Daniel made it a family affair, with Mrs. O'Daniel and the children, Mollie, Pat, and Mike, with him on the sound truck and radio or at headquarters. Pa and Ma Ferguson proved that Texas likes a strong dose of domesticity in its politics. Mr. O'Daniel can sing hillbilly songs, write poetry, and use scripture texts. Happy Chandler in Kentucky will be encouraged even if he is ill with Mrs. Chandler pinch hitting for him at meetings he cannot make so long as the doctor keeps him in bed.

Mr. O'Daniel told the Texans that the professional politicians were no good, a sentiment which has been gaining ground as the coming of the more abundant life has been deferred from month to month and year to year. It seems to have gained ground in the Texas district of Congressman Maury Maverick, New Dealer of San Antonio, reported beaten by Attorney Paul Kilday, who said that Mr. Maverick particularly was no good. Mr. Roosevelt before he went fishing recommended Mr. Maverick to his constituents as "my friend." Congressman W. D. MacFarlane, another White House friend, is waiting for the full count to see whether he takes it or the nomination.

The fishing doesn't have to be very good to be better than the purging.

TAXES VERSUS WAGES.

In 1916 the railroads of the country did a business of 3½ billion dollars, which is more than they can hope to do this year. In that year the average compensation of railroad employés was $892. Now [last year's figure] the average is $1,780. In 1916 the railroads paid taxes totaling 157 million dollars. Last year their tax bill was 325 million dollars.

In 1916 the railroads were prosperous. Chicago and North Western preferred stock sold that year for $176 per share. It was regarded as an investment suitable for the funds of widows and orphans. Now a trustee in bankruptcy runs the road and the stock has sold for as little as $2.

A third of the railroad mileage is bossed by trustees in bankruptcy. The bonds of some of the lines are selling for the junk value of the assets. Philip Hampson the other day told of the plight of the Rutland road in the east, which doesn't take in enough money to meet both the pay rolls and the tax bills. One or the other will have to come down or the road will have to suspend. Many miles of railroad linage already have been abandoned.

To operate the railroads of the country requires the high type of personnel which they have attracted. The pay ought to be good. But railroads cannot pay the salaries and wages they have been paying if they are going to be bled by taxation. Taxes compete with wages for revenues. When railroad employés, who are a sufficiently numerous group to make themselves effective, do not force governments to practice economies their jobs become insecure and their wage rate uncertain.

Although the case may not appear to be as clear, employés of industrial concerns have just as much interest as railroad employés in keeping down taxes. The table prepared by the American Federation of Investors, which was published in THE TRIBUNE last week, showed that taxes levied on 150 leading industrial companies amounted to 1 billion 631 million dollars last year, an increase of a billion dollars in a five year period. The taxes paid were equal to $514 per employé. And the end is not in sight. The treasury department the other day said increased taxes are inevitable.

Few businesses are taking in the amount of money which they were receiving a few years ago, but nearly all are paying higher wages while being subjected to immensely higher tax exactions. The continuation of these trends will lead inevitably to widespread bankruptcies or force reductions in the rates of employé compensation. For any business whose income goes down and expenses go up is bound to go to the wall eventually. The evil day can be put off if there is a wide spread between income and outgo to start with. And the sheriff's visit may be delayed for a time by improved efficiency, and this may mean the loss of jobs for some. But geometric laws will not be denied: Converging lines eventually meet, and when the expense line meets and crosses the income line the end is near, as witness the Rutland railroad.

Burocrats have frequently aroused antagonism between employer and employé. While spending money freely and levying crushing taxes, they have put themselves forth as the working man's friend. The real antagonism of interest is between the workman and the taxing authority. No part of what is taken in taxes is available for wages. The discerning employed man will insist upon lower business taxes as protection for his job and pay envelope.

THE JITTERBUGS AT RAVINIA.

Benny Goodman's orchestra will be playing for the Ravinia Musical Festival association next week. This program of swing music is an added attraction to the season's program. The Chicago Symphony orchestra, under the direction of distinguished guest conductors, plays each Thursday, Friday, and Saturday night and Sunday afternoon. Mr. Goodman's orchestra fills a Wednesday night engagement.

The Ravinia Festival association has given the symphonies and some novelties at 75 cents cash at the gate and 75 cents for a seat, 50 cents for each if a book of tickets is purchased before the opening of the season. For Mr. Goodman's swing program the gate price remains the same but the seats are $2.25 and it is said that there was an immediate sellout.

There isn't any moral and, of course, there could be no reasonable protest. The people want to pay three times more for a seat to hear one night of Benny than they care to pay, in the opinion of the management, for any night of Bach, Beethoven, or Brahms, or any of the French, Russians, Finns, Bohemians, Poles, or Spanish who can be served with more gravy. Probably English, Americans, and Mexicans should be added to that.

Wednesday night will be dedicated to the jitterbugs, and the scene will probably be one of great excitement, the screams and shouts of which no doubt will reach Waukegan on the north and Evanston on the south. The psychology, if any, of the jitterbugs is being given almost as much attention as that of the Russian confessions, the reason being that both are thought to have a profound significance in revealing what has happened from the impact of world events upon national intelligence, integrity, and morale.

The inquiry steps right off into deep water at the very beginning. The Russians, we assume, having passed through a religious ecstasy which they thought was anti-religious, are in a state of catalepsy in which they talk, walk, and act automatically. One of their distinguished philosophers, Bukharin, who was shot for what he confessed, said that the phenomenon was one of dual personality and retarded reflexes. Nothing seems to retard the reflexes of the jitterbugs, and the ecstasies, which are not unlike those of a Mississippi river baptism, do not seem to come out of dual personalities.

Perplexed people don't know what to make of it, but many come to the conclusion that now, as always, and a good thing at that, youth is youth. There are, however, pessimistic persons who cannot believe that so simple an explanation will satisfy. They think that young people, with many adult and mature addicts, have found events of the last six years are entirely too much for them and that they have blown their top. As a parting salute to verities and illusions alike, they have become a lot of crazy midges, recklessly swinging about in a little lane of intoxicating sunlight, which happens to be, for the most part, the lights of some dance floor.

It may be our Strength Through Joy movement.

CONGRESSMAN HOFFMAN MAKES AN INQUIRY.

Congressman Clare E. Hoffman, from his home in Allegan, Mich., has sent a letter to the National Labor Relations board in Washington asking if it will be regarded as lawful for him to furnish any interested persons, employers or employés, with copies of a speech he made in the house of representatives, republished in pamphlet form for circulation.

Congressman Hoffman wants to know if it will be a violation of the Wagner act for him to mail copies of this speech, entitled "Communism's Iron Grip on the C. I. O.," to employés. The inquiry is pertinent because the congressman is informed that the labor board held the distribution of the pamphlets by an employé of the Muskin Shoe company of Westminster, Md., on the company property was part of an unlawful attempt to influence the collective bargaining choice of the workers. It was an unfair labor practice.

The C. I. O. is free to use any method of persuasion it chooses. Its campaigns have been so conducted with the support of the labor board that the American Federation of Labor, which at the time of the passage of the Wagner labor act supported it, protests that the administration of the law has been the equivalent of a recognition of the belligerency of the C. I. O. and results in union development under government patronage.

If the labor board replies to Congressman Hoffman many interested Americans may learn more about the new theories and methods of government which have come to prevail in the United States. There are, it appears, new classes of citizens, with extension of privileges to some and abridgment of rights for others.

There were other items in the board rule against the Muskin company. One was that the concern had closed its plant and sent the employés to a meeting addressed by a Westminster banker who told them he hated to see trouble come to the town. There is a neat distinction between the closing of a plant by the C. I. O. to keep men from going to work and a closing to allow them to go to a meeting. The latter is illegal.

Editorial of the Day

TIME FOR A NEW NAME.

[Columbus (O.) Dispatch.]

It's time for the organization named "Labor's Nonpartisan league" to change its name. The group which constitutes the political shock troops of the C. I. O. announces that it has graded the members of congress into four groups, from A to D, classifying them as to their attitude on wages and hours and other measures favored by the John Lewis organization. The thirty-nine congressmen who fall into the league's class "D" are marked for defeat if the organization can encompass it, according to the statement.

There's nothing new about lists of preferred candidates or blacklists. Organizations of many kinds have so gone on record for years, especially back in the hey-day of the wet and dry arguments. But none of them had the hardihood unblushingly to assert that they were nonpartisan.

"Nonpartisan" has implications which transcend mere party lines. It means some one who is detached, objective, disinterested in his viewpoints and judgments, one who sits above the strife and the shoutings and declines to enter the lists on either side.

It's all right for the C. I. O. affiliate to indorse or campaign against any one it chooses to back or condemn. But it is an almost comic paradox for it to do so under a name which, per se, proclaims it to be a bystander.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U.S. Pat. Office

Golfing tale: A man went out with a caddy and made a beautiful drive off the first tee. Then he kicked the ball into the rough, after which he made a marvelous shot out. Then he picked the ball up and put it in the sand trap, after which he made a beautiful explosion shot out, bringing it to within a foot of the cup. He missed the putt by 10 feet, then from that distance neatly sank the ball in the cup. The caddy, fascinated by the way in which the player dubbed every other shot, could keep silence no longer. "Mister, what are you doing?" he asked. "Me? O, I'm practicing for a two ball foursome with my wife tomorrow," the player answered.

If I should die tonight, you'd go your way,
Like a cool wind across the waving grass,
Put on your nicest gown before the play,
And rouge your lips before the looking glass;
And sitting later in some dim café,
Should one remark that so-and-so is dead,
You'd arch plucked eyebrows, smile, and idly say,
"O, is he? . . . Honey, won't you pass the bread?"

If you should die tonight, the night would be
A little darker, and the sun at dawn
A little colder, and each apple tree
Would shed pink petals on a callous lawn;
Your friends might call you dead, and they might cry;
For me, who loved you, you can never die!

Sidney Franklin, red haired, Brooklyn born bullfighter, is in town for a few days, just back from Spain and a season of bullfighting. Bullfighting has gone on right through the war, Franklin said at the Hotel Sherman the other day, except in towns close to the front. He fought bulls in loyalist territory first; later in rebel, changing because Franco's side has the best bulls, he said. Franklin, slim, thirtyish, is the son of a Brooklyn policeman. Mention is made of him in Hemingway's Death in the Afternoon. An exciting day he tells about was when an Italian liner tried to blockade Alexandria, and a British destroyer prevented the blockade and probably an ensuing international incident.

An Opening for a New Girl, Too, Maybe.

Our girl in the office, on noticing the boss' wife coming in one hot day dressed in cotton lace dress, lace gloves, open crown hat, and toeless shoes, suggested that she go about with her mouth open to complete the picture.

Ethel Shutta, who played in more Ziegfeld Follies than any other woman save Fanny Brice, unearthed an old treasure the other day. A pair of stockings, the last of three dozen pairs given her by the late Florenz Ziegfeld. Her name was delicately interwoven into the clocks on each pair. Ziegfeld was never adept at paying verbal compliments to an act, she said. He said it with gifts when he was pleased.

I would see your beauty
As a gull sees it,
With swift wide sweep of wind
Wheeling aloft;
Viewing (in startled glimpse)
The brilliance
Of toppled mounds of salt
Undulating
Against a sapphire sea.

"Old North Church," one of the Century of Progress buildings, the copy of the famous Boston church that was a part of the Colonial village at the Chicago fair, is now the scene of regular Sunday services in Beverly Shores, Ind. The church and other buildings from the fair, including the House of Seven Gables and Mount Vernon, were taken by barge from the world's fair grounds to the dune region on the lake, where, each put on an appropriate site, they now have a look of permanence. There are old-fashioned pews in the church and an old parlor organ, according to Lorene Allen, who attended service there, and lamps and candles afford illumination.

A really old church now is housing a little theater. An old Mormon church near Lake Geneva, Wis., which still has the pews used by Latter Day Saints, has a fake fireplace and a modern living room stage-set where the pulpit used to be. Lamps in brackets still offer illumination in the Belfrey theater, but a new coat of white paint covers the "L. D. S." and the Mormon eye that formerly adorned the exterior. Mistakenly, according to our idea, even from the standpoint of the theater organization. Not only should the Mormon identification have been preserved because of its historic significance, but it could have been publicity material for the theater.

MOTHER'S MILK PROTECTS HER BABE.

BREAST milk—the product of nature—is in most cases the ideal nourishment for infants. We realize, however, that sometimes a young mother is not well and in consequence it may be wise to resort to artificial food to conserve her vitality. Her system, without hesitation, will attempt to supply good food, even at the expense of reserve strength. Though the physical state of the parent is weakened by disease, for a time at least, the substance furnished her little one will be adequate.

While some of us have had the experience of observing an unusual taste in cow's milk because of some particular pasturage upon which the animals have been feeding, yet the human breast has great powers of selection. The glands seem governed by a desire for the best. Thus deleterious components may be left behind when human milk is in the process of manufacture.

Physicians often are asked: "Is breast milk influenced by the medicines which may be taken by the mother?" The answer in most instances is "No." Strangely enough, very little real evidence is to be found in medical literature. This fact stimulated R. M. Tyson and others to make a careful study of the problem, actuated by the fact that many physicians as well as lay persons have been under the impression that the nursing woman must not eat certain foods or imbibe needed drugs.

For example, it is a common doctrin that fresh fruits and vegetables, as well as many prescriptions, may cause colic in the infant. Nevertheless, it may be necessary to prescribe remedies for the mother, and the question then comes: Which of these will be harmful to the infant? How far is the selective action carried, that is, the ability to absorb from the blood only those nutritional elements which are beneficial? In other words, will the glands leave behind those materials which may prove toxic to the alimentary canal of the newborn?

The study conducted by Tyson consisted of a critical examination of the effects of laxatives, and the medical ward of a Philadelphia hospital was utilized for the purpose. After establishing the normal bowel habits of both mother and child, various laxatives were given the former. At the same time a chemical analysis of the milk was undertaken, wherein accurate tests were made for even minute portions of the medicaments used.

The outcome of the experiment is what we would expect, namely, that certain drugs are not passed on, although a few appear in tiny quantities. Phenolphthalein, calomel, senna, and rhubarb could not be found in breast milk. Although aloin [aloes] was detected, there was little evidence that the youngster was affected even to a slight degree. In other words, the amount was too small for laxative action. With cascara, on the other hand, definite transmission was proved. Not only was it found in the milk, but the digestive tract of the baby responded to it.

The conclusion seems obvious, therefore, that commonly employed purgatives in doses sufficiently large to result in the desired effect are without significance to the nursling with the single exception of cascara. Our authors promise to continue the research, using a wide variety of medicines as well as foods. On the whole, we may agree with most modern investigators that while taste and odor may be carried over but few edibles need be banned as undesirable.

In this connection we may recall the illness and death of Abraham Lincoln's mother from what was called "trembles." This malady is contracted from the milk of cows which have fed on white snake root. While the ailment is encountered only rarely nowadays, it was peculiarly fatal to early settlers, particularly in regions bordering on the Ohio river, where the noxious weed flourished.

We cannot escape the deduction, therefore, that while the human breast is able to discriminate between what is harmful and what is not, there are some toxins which may overwhelm their secretory barriers and become a part of the product.

SQUEAKY KNEE JOINTS.

Mrs. N. A. C. writes:

1. What causes the knee joints in a woman of 50 to squeak and seem very dry? Is there a remedy? 2. My skin and hair are excessively dry, also.

REPLY.

1. Lack of synovial fluid [joint oil] is responsible. Heat and massage to the knees will be helpful. The important thing is to stimulate circulation in the parts. Increase your nutrition to a high level, even though you may gain slightly in weight.

2. The oil glands of the skin are not producing their accustomed quota of lubricant. Use superfatted soap and follow through rinsing and drying with a light olive oil massage to both skin and scalp.

CAUSES OF DIZZINESS.

C. K. writes: I get dizzy spells when I stoop over. When I walk upstairs I get short of breath. Do you think I have a bad heart?

REPLY.

It may be well to have the heart examined, although other organs can cause the same symptoms. A special article on dizziness will appear soon.

TAXES.

Highland Park, Ill., July 22.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Having property and income in another state from which I receive returns, would like to know in case of my death [1] would I be liable to pay taxes on that property in Illinois as well as in the state in which it is located? I know I must pay where the property is located, but I should dislike having to pay in Illinois, too.

2. Can they assess me on my personal property in this state if I own it elsewhere? H. V.

1. If you own real estate there it could be subjected to the inheritance tax there, but would not in general be subjected to the inheritance tax here.

In general, personal property is regarded as being owned where the individual resides, but there has been a tendency in recent years to recognize a situs where the personal property is located in special cases.

IN A CATCH-AS-CATCH-CAN ERA.

Chicago, July 23.—If my sex is determined to envelop its femininity in a cloud of cigaret smoke, place her patrician pedal extremity on a brass bar rail, and demand an equal rating with man in the business world, how can she conscientiously expect a tired homeward bound male contemporary to jump blithely to his feet, bow, and airily wave her to his vacant seat?

Judge not the gentleman behind the newspaper! He may object to rising because of bunions. He may be digesting a morsel of news, or he may be wondering how he can possibly meet next month's bills for you.

So long as turbulent times demand that man must fight to maintain his place in the marts of trade, defending his position against the feminine equation, just so long will he fail to recognize woman's phenomenal transition from a sturdy oak to a clinging vine upon the insertion of ten cents into the coin receptacle of a common carrier.

No, my pretties, we are living in an age of catch-as-catch-can, and knighthood cannot flower in such an atmosphere.

J. COURTNEY.

REMEMBER THE SICK IN HOSPITAL.

Chicago, July 23.—It is hoped that "Courtesy Week" will have some influence beyond the one week out of the fifty-two in the year. This would seem an appropriate time to call the attention of motorists to the "Quiet Zone" signs near our hospitals. The thoughtless driver who races past a hospital with a blast from the auto horn piercing the air every other second does not realize that he is disturbing the rest of many sick and injured, probably returning them to hours of pain from which they have just found temporary escape. The sound of sudden grinding of brakes on cars racing past is a nerve shattering sound to the sick. Cars parked around the hospital with radios going with full volume do not help. Trucks with cut-outs open cause acute suffering to the overwrought, nervous patient. MABEL W. BINNER,
Superintendent, Children's Memorial Hospital.

APPEAL FROM THE STENOS.

Chicago, July 23.—Could I reach through your department intelligent, successful business men who are meticulously groomed in every respect—but neglect pitifully the backs of their necks? If only they could see the detraction from their otherwise perfection. Why, O why, can't their wives do something about it? We poor stenos cannot tell them. They are the very men who rage and fume if one hair of wifey's is out of place. These men shave every day but Lord knows when the poor neck gets any attention. Surely they can't wait until haircuts because when the hair is sparse haircuts are necessarily far between. If they shave themselves wouldn't it be possible to go to the barber once a week for a shave and neck trim? It is not the man who cannot afford it but well to do business men who present this messy, shaggy appearance. G. M. O.

THOSE RADIO BLASTS.

Evanston, July 22.—Speaking of "Courtesy Week," I hope our various neighbors will observe same by remembering to soften the blast of their radios.

One radio in particular is placed at a window across from our bedroom. I know the family are not hard of hearing, but they evidently think we are, as every word and note penetrates our closed windows. Even our pet mosquitoes hate the noise, because we found only one this year, and it was dead—poor thing—from the shock.

MARGARET D. MYERS.

BAKERIES' HOURS.

Chicago, July 21.—This is written to correct three erroneous impressions caused by newspaper stories:

1. That all bakeries are to be closed on Sundays. Actually only some of those belonging to a certain association of bakers are adhering to this schedule. There are many bakeries which are open and doing business Sunday.

2. That fresh bread is not baked on Sundays. Not only bread, but also cakes, rolls, etc., are baked fresh in many bakeries.

3. That bakery employés in shops working on a seven day schedule work seven days a week. Approximately 95 per cent of the bakeries in Chicago are union shops, working on an eight hour day, six day week. Further, female employés adhere rigidly to the Illinois 48 hour week.

We would appreciate your reprinting this letter, because it will aid materially in eliminating much of the misunderstanding created by your undoubtedly unintentional error.

SYDNEY H. KASPER.

HOPKINS AND WORKERS' MORALE.

Chicago, July 23.—Administrator Hopkins' opinion that 90 per cent of the WPA workers are for the President is in my opinion a serious indictment of the administration. They have so lowered the morale of these workers that they are willing to continue to live off the government at starvation wages.

Is the policy of hamstringing business with social reforms and increasing the relief roll constructive? No, Mr. Hopkins; the opposition to the administration need offer nothing more than the promise to leave business alone, reduce the tax load if possible, and quit playing politics with human misery and wasting billions on useless work. H. F. B.

IS UNCLE SAM PROMPTER PAY?

Chicago, July 21.—Why do the people who work on WPA at the Chicago State hospital get better wages than the state employés? They work four days a week, get $65 a month, and claim they will now have a $5 raise. They are paid every two weeks. On the other hand, we have not been paid since June 9. We work six days a week and are paid $63 a month and receive it when we get it. M. L.

ADD "MUST" LEGISLATION.

Chicago, July 22.—"Paid Vacations Added to Work Laws in Sweden"—headline. This provides for a two week vacation for "all employés who have held a job for more than 180 days." That is the type of "must" legislation we should enact in Washington. M. I. MAD.

THE MODERN PACE.

Urbana, Ill., July 23.—Around the world in 92 hours! This is a day of speed; the law of survival says, "The man who can keep the pace is the man who wins." What we need now is the ability to keep our balance and hold the speed. We are in competition individually and nationally; the individual and the nation that can keep an even keel and stay out ahead is the winner. In the light of this patent fact, what place does alcohol have in modern life?

In such a simple process as typewriting, repeated experiments by Dr. Walter R. Miles of Yale university prove that even a small amount of alcohol slows the speed by 2 per cent and increases the errors by 39 per cent. An added 50 per cent of alcohol slows the speed 4 per cent and increases the errors 72 per cent.

CHARLES L. BROMLEY,
First Baptist Church.

BUT WE'RE IN AMERICA.

Chicago, July 22.—The writer of yesterday's editorial, "We Live in America," evidently is not acquainted with the use of the word America in other languages.

In German, French, Italian, and Spanish, America is a continent.

When a German wants to mention our republic he says "Die Vereinigten Staaten von Nord Amerika" or just short, "Die Vereinigten Staaten." In Italian, French, and Spanish it is similar: Stati Uniti, Estados Unidos, Etats Unis.

But when in any of these three languages we want to speak of a Yankee we would call him Amerikaner, Americano, and an Américain.

I see nothing wrong in speaking of "the states." It is an old custom.

P. W.

WHY THE WHISTLES AND BELLS?

Chicago, July 22.—The railroads in the Brainerd-Gresham area certainly believe in "Whistle While You Work." Rock Island, B. & O., Pere Marquette, and Pennsylvania blast away at all hours of the day and night at every crossing, shrub, tree, and telegraph pole. And they give us a full tune on each occasion, accompanied by the loudest sounds possible with the tempo accentuated by bells.

Why the heavy whistles which can be heard for two miles, if they must be blown at every crossing? Why the bells if the whistle must be blown at short intervals? Why run trains at grade if the danger is so great that such volcanic eruptions of noise are necessary for safety? Why own homes in outlying areas if noise there exceeds that in the loop? JOHN BRAINERD.

ASSASSIN FIRES ON PORTO RICAN GOVERNOR; 2 DIE

Maj.Gen.WinshipEscapes Nationalist Bullets.

PONCE, Porto Rico, July 25.—(AP)—More than a dozen shots were fired at Maj. Gen. Blanton Winship, governor of Porto Rico, in an attempt to assasinate him today. He was reviewing a parade celebrating the 40th anniversary of American occupation of the island during the Spanish-American war.

Gov. Blanton Winship.

Gov. Winship was not hurt, although the attack precipitated a shooting affray as police returned the fire of the assassins, in which two Porto Ricans were killed and at least 31 wounded, including three women.

Police said one of the men killed, Angel Esteban Antongiorgi, was among the governor's attackers. They described him as a member of the Nationalist party, a group demanding Porto Rico be made independent of the United States.

Five Nationalists in Attack.

District Attorney G. S. Pierluissi, in charge of the investigation, said five Nationalists took part in the attack and that only one escaped.

Elifaz Escobar and Tomas Lopes de Victoria were charged with first degree murder in connection with the shootings. Escobar is one of the 11 Nationalist tried and found innocent of killing police in the Palm Sunday outbreak here in 1937. Police said six others were being held for questioning, including two Nationalists. The Nationalists had issued a manifesto against holding the celebration.

The second fatality was Col. Luis Irizarry of the Porto Rican National Guard. The wounded included Obdulio Rodriguez, the governor's chauffeur; Miguel Angel Garcia Mendez, speaker of the house of representatives, and Francisco Lopez Dominguez, commissioner of agriculture and commerce. Detective Juan R. Colon was hurt as he leaped to the governor's side to shield him.

"Poor Shots," Says Governor.

None of the governor's official party was seriously hurt nor were any continental Americans, who were among 40,000 persons who had gathered for the celebration.

Despite his narrow escape, Gov. Winship was calm. His only comment was: "What poor shots they are!"

A few moments later he delivered a prepared speech in a firm voice. The crowd cheered him loudly.

400 Sailors Parade.

Among the paraders were 400 officers and men from the new United States navy airplane carrier Enterprise and the destroyer Shaw.

The governor left shortly afterward for Guanica to place a marker where the first American troops landed on the island.

Maj. Gen. Winship retired from the United States army in 1933 and has been governor of Porto Rico since Feb. 5, 1934. He is 68 years old.

Winship Escapes

NOT HIS FRIEND BUT HIS WIFE, SO SHE TELLS LADY

"This," said William Wood, 72 years old, "is a friend of mine, Miss Jane Armstrong."

"How do you do," said the woman who had been sitting with Wood on the porch of his home at 3046 Logan boulevard.

"Friend nothing!" snapped the elderly woman, who had just arrived with a suitcase. "I am his wife!"

Mrs. Jane Wood, 72 years old, recounted this yesterday through her attorney, Harry X. Cole, before Judge Oscar F. Nelson. She had been in California for fifteen years, and when she returned she found she had been displaced, she stated. Mrs. Wood charges desertion and adultery with one Jane Doe. Mr. Wood has filed a cross bill charging desertion.

Judge Nelson granted her $80 a month temporary alimony. The couple honeymooned at the Columbian exposition in 1893. They have three children and three grandchildren.

ALL BUT VICTIM WIN FREEDOM IN POLICE SCANDAL

3 More Acquitted; Bookie Aid's Trial Today.

Five persons have been acquitted of guilt in the great Town Hall robbery. It begins to look as if the sixth may get stuck. He was the victim of the robbery.

A jury in Criminal court yesterday found two men and a woman not guilty in the third trial arising out of the case. They are William Nichols, north side gambler; George Gardner, owner of a lodging house at 936 Wilson avenue, and Gardner's wife, Edna. James J. Burke, the victim, was indicted with them on a charge of conspiracy to obstruct justice, but he was permitted to testify for the state.

Seize Two Holdup Men.

The Town Hall police scandal began on the night of Feb. 26 when Burke, an employé of Nichols, was held up by two men at Dover street and Leland avenue. While the robbery was in progress a Town Hall uniformed squad appeared and seized the holdup men.

Detectives Earl Flannery and Frank McKune happened along about that time and said they would take the prisoners into the station. Instead, it was learned next day, they set them free.

Flannery and McKune were suspended shortly after this disclosure. Fellow police picked up Kenneth [Buck] Peters, who said he was one of the two robbery suspects, but that there had been a mistake. It hadn't been a robbery at all. The other suspect, known only as Tip, was never caught. Peters was charged with assault to rob.

When his case was called in court, however, the prosecution found that Burke, its star witness, had disappeared. Peters was about to obtain his release after several weeks of demanding to be tried, when Burke reappeared as suddenly as he had vanished.

Testifies at Trial.

He had been paid $130 to disappear, he said, naming Nichols as the man who had given him the money. He said that Gardner, who was his landlord, and Mrs. Gardner helped him to hide in Benton Harbor and Detroit, Mich. Burke testified against Peters, who on May 28 was convicted of assault, punishable by a fine.

Detectives Flannery and McKune, meanwhile, were acquitted on June 13 of allowing prisoners to escape. Later in the month charges against them of conspiracy to commit an illegal act were dropped.

Last week the Gardners and Nichols went to trial before Judge Rudolph Desort. Burke testified against them. Yesterday, after deliberating thirty minutes, a Criminal court jury freed the three.

Today Burke, the man who was held up and who lost his job as a result, will go to trial on a charge of conspiracy to obstruct justice.

Municipal Judge Eugene J. Holland yesterday dismissed thirty-five men arrested over the week-end in alleged gambling houses because the raiding policemen had no search warants. Capt. Martin E. 34 MINERS DENY BOMBING GUILT; SEEK FREEDOM Appeal Blames Company and Lewis for Strife.

John L. Lewis, czar of the Committee for Industrial Organization, and the Peabody Coal company were accused yesterday of a joint conspiracy to wreck the Progressive Miners of America.

This charge was contained in an appeal filed with the United States Circuit Court of Appeals by thirty-four miners. The miners, members and former members of the Progressives, were sentenced to prison for the bombings in the central Illinois coal mine war.

Because railroads were bombed the charge against the miners was conspiracy to obstruct the United States mails and to obstruct justice. Tried in the federal court at Springfield, they were convicted Dec. 8 and sentenced to serve four years in prison and pay a $20,000 fine.

Recalls Secession of 35,000.

The bombings occurred from 1932 to 1936 after 35,000 miners seceded from the United Mine Workers' union. This was the parent union bossed by John L. Lewis before he led his own secession movement from the American Federation of Labor.

Two of the lawyers who filed the brief yesterday were retained by the A. F. of L. to seek an appeal. They are George L. Haight and Benjamin F. Goldstein.

Their brief denied that the convicted miners were responsible for the reign of terrorism in the mine fields. Instead the appeal blamed the coal company and Lewis' union for the wrecking, bombing, and other violence.

On Aug. 10, 1932, the brief stated, Lewis, as international president of the United Mine Workers, negotiated a contract with the Peabody Coal company which called for a wage reduction. The miners who later seceded averred that Lewis acted without authority in arranging the contract which the miners had voted to reject.

Charge Company Intimidation.

The company had seventeen Illinois mines. Those miners who refused to be bound by the contract were replaced by others, the brief stated. The 35,000 who joined the Progressives were told to join the United if they wished employment, according to the brief.

"In its system of espionage," said the brief, "the company corrupted by bribes members of United and Progressive to spy on their fellow members; it engaged in intimidation and terrorism to subjugate dissenters; and, to compel Progressives to desert their union and reaffiliate with United, Peabody used bombing squads consisting of ex-convicts."

SENATORS STUDY ILLINOIS PAY ROLL INQUIRY DEMAND

U. S. Padding to Win '38 Primary Charged.

The senate campaign expenditures committee disclosed yesterday that it is considering an inquiry into accusations that the Illinois state highway division's payroll was padded with federal funds before the April primary election.

Chairman Morris Sheppard [D., Texas] said in Washington he had received a telegram from A. H. Greening of Springfield asking that the committee investigate. The chairman said the committee will take up the request tomorrow.

Quotes Newspaper Charges.

Greening is a former Republican state's attorney of Sangamon county. His message read:

"Newspapers of Illinois for several days report investigation is under way by United States attorney at Chicago into misuse of federal aid road funds in the United States senator primary campaign in Illinois primary. Charges made that huge sums of money, collected by unfair means, also used. This clearly comes within purview of resolution creating your committee. Please wire what steps necessary to formally request investigation of these matters by your committee."

Investigation of the reported payroll padding was begun more than two weeks ago by Michael L. Igoe, United States attorney, after there had been rumors that the extra workers spent their time in political activities. The highway division is part of the department of public works and buildings, headed by F. Lynden Smith, who was downstate campaign manager for the Horner-Courtney faction of the Democratic party in the primary.

129 Workmen Quizzed.

Smith explained that many of the extra workers had been hired to clear highways after a snowstorm and said they were not paid from federal funds. Warren Canaday, first assistant United States attorney, said yesterday that 120 of the extra employés have been questioned in his office as to what they did. More than 200 are yet to be questioned.

Meanwhile the Igoe office pushed its investigation of possible collusion in Cook county paving contracts for which federal funds are to be used. Canaday threatened to summon two state employés before the federal grand jury unless the original estimates furnished the state by the county highway engineers are produced tomorrow.

These employés are Charles P. Casey, assistant director of the department of public works, and M. S. Fleming, assistant state highway engineer. They failed to produce the estimates Saturday after the federal grand jury had issued a subpoena for them to bring in the estimates. Casey said yesterday that the state's copies had been destroyed. The inquiry was launched because contractors found ways to reduce by $472,000 their bids on twenty-eight paving projects after the original bids had been rejected as too high.

SPEEDER COUNTS WHILE THE OTHER CARS SPEED PAST

Counting cars won't put you to sleep. It didn't Frank Zalon, anyway. He counted exactly 7,415 passing the intersection of Ridgeland boulevard and Cermak road in Berwyn—and never yawned once in the four hours he sat there with his pencil and pad.

Mr. Zalon wasn't trying to put himself to sleep. He wasn't even curious as to how many cars would pass. But Police Magistrate Frank J. Pavek of Berwyn ordered him to count the cars for four hours Sunday as a punishment for speeding. Mr. Zalon is 25 years old. He lives at 1837 Loomis avenue. And he can tell you this: Six of those drivers stopped, saw that no police were watching, and sneaked through the red light.

Peoria, Ill., July 25.—[Special.]—New Orleans-bound, Andrew W. The young couple, from Oakland, Cal., are making the leisurely trip [about a mile an hour in the Illinois river unless they row] in fulfilment of Anderson's boyhood desire to emulate Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn. They left Chicago last Wednesday. The boat is a 14 by 8 foot cabin on a raft. Being without lights, it is not used on the river after dark. Anderson is a war department clerk with an electrical engineering degree from the University of California, on furlough.

The long summer holiday is a gay time for the young people still in school who play from June until they return to classes in September. Kay Lawson (above) takes part in the activities of Lake Forest's subdebutante group. She and her parents, the A. Werner Lawsons, are spending the summer at the Onwentsia. Miss Sally Lawson is a debutante of the coming season.

New Summer Homes Opened by Chicagoans

BY JUDITH CASS.

NEW homes are of interest, no matter at what season of the year one writes about them. Some that have been built or that have changed hands recently are of especial interest right now because they are to be summer homes. Their locations range from the rocky coast of Maine to the mountains of California.

The Chauncey McCormicks left for Maine on Sunday to occupy their new summer home, East Point, the estate they purchased from Mrs. D. H. McAlpin of New York. The house is a dark brown shingled one overlooking Seal Harbor. From the grounds there is a splendid view of Cadillac mountain.

Mr. McCormick has one of the new International One design boats, a new class of racing craft that originated in Norway. The three McCormick sons, Deering, Brooks, and Roger, are their father's enthusiastic crew.

Mr. and Mrs. McCormick's prize Guernsey cow, St. James Champion Levity, recently had her picture in the British publication, Sketch, along with dowagers and debutantes, an achievement realized by few Chicagoans.

Her picture was taken when she was guest of honor at the sixty-first annual luncheon of the American Guernsey Cattle club at the Congress hotel this spring. It is reproduced in Sketch's "We Take Our Hat Off to ——" column, over the heading: "Levity the cow, for so seriously munching at lunch between cattle club directors." Levity does her munching now at her new home in Oklahoma.

John F. Mitchells Build Mountain Lodge.

The John J. Mitchells have been building a mountain lodge a few miles away from their ranch home in the Santa Ynez valley in California. They plan to keep the lodge rustic and simple in contrast to their big ranch and to their estate, El Mirador, which is just outside of Santa Barbara. Guests at El Mirador now are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Curtis and their children, Paul and Kenneth.

A steel pier is to be constructed so that yachts may anchor directly at Mrs. Charles H. Chadwick's new home on Cap d' Antibes on the French Riviera. The villa that Mrs. Chadwick is building is not far from the Château de la Garoupe, the house she has occupied for several summers.

"Depression Proof" House Is Built.

One of Chicago's most unusual country homes belongs to Miss Harriet Higginson. It is a modern one of canvas backed up with redwood flooring, like a ship's deck. The house is in Wooddale, twenty-two miles northwest of the loop. Three years ago while Miss Higginson was living abroad she was inspired to own a country retreat. Miss Higginson calls her place a "depression proof" house.

The house is on an acre and a fourth of farmland in a rural district. Its cement floor can be washed by turning the hose on it. The bathroom is the only room in the house that has four walls around it; the kitchen leads into the dining center, which in turn opens into the living room. A fireplace divides the living room and the bedroom.

The entire south wall of the house is of glass, providing sunlight in abundance. The furnishings all are modern except for the dining room set, which has been in Miss Higginson's family for seventy-five years. Being plain, it fits smoothly into the decorative scheme. Miss Higginson has been occupying the house since June 15 and now is busy with landscaping problems.

George Henneberrys Settling New Home.

The process of settling their new home in Barrington is a slow one for Mr. and Mrs. George F. Henneberry. Their French provincial and English regency furniture is being imported, and the draperies and floor coverings are being made by hand. The house is of the rambling Cape Cod type.

The farm has been named Barr Dee

Looking at Hollywood
By Ed Sullivan

Listen, Kids—

Hollywood, Cal., July 25.—Not long ago, a college boy who had read one of these "Listen, Kids" columns disagreed violently with my slant on things. He replied that despite what I said about life, he was convinced that today the important factor was "who you know, rather than what you know." He challenged me to answer.

Page 1 already has answered it. I think that young Douglas Corrigan proved that it's what you know that is all-important, because young Corrigan, a poor boy, didn't know any one of consequence. He didn't know any one in Washington, D. C., who could win him a permit to fly the ocean, that was certain. He didn't have any money. His life savings, and I mean savings, were wrapped up in his $900 jallopy.

So Corrigan started off from scratch. He didn't even have a college education, as had the boy who said he was certain that it's "who you know, rather than what you know." All that Corrigan had in his favor was what he knew about airplane engines, what he had laboriously learned about navigation, what he knew about the great circle route to Europe. In the final analysis, Corrigan proved to all the kids of the world that today, as in any other age, it is what you know that counts.

In the big crises of life, a letter of introduction isn't worth the paper it's written on. Corrigan, in mid-ocean, couldn't have used a letter of introduction. It didn't matter at that particular time whether he knew important people or not. The only important person in his immediate vicinity was God, who must have been sitting in the kid's cockpit, or was out in front of that droll little jallopy, smoothing out the winds.

It's what you know that counts. It's what you feel deeply that counts. Take Howard Hughes for instance. Hughes' determination to fly the ocean and fly around the world is more remarkable to me than Corrigan's astounding flight. For this reason: Hughes is a rich kid. He could very nicely have sat still for the rest of his life and enjoyed himself. He could have cruised luxuriously in his yacht. He could have been a very obnoxious drunk. He could have become one of several thousand vice presidents in Wall street.

Hughes' father had made his money the hard way. The father was a great mechanic, a designer of tool dies. Fortunately, the father left the son something besides money. He left him his inquisitiveness about machines and machine shops. Hughes turned to aviation.

Aviators have sneered at Hughes' achievement, for reasons unknown to me. They have said that he had the money to buy the best possible ship, money to obtain the finest possible crew. That is the pettiest and most contemptible criticism I've ever heard, particularly so because Hughes gave all honor to his crew, and waived aside all credit by paying magnificent tribute to Wiley Post.

Corrigan got the best plane that he could buy. Hughes got the best plane his money could buy. But setting up a conflict between two great young Americans because one is poor and the other wealthier, it seems to me, is rabble rousing to the most irritating degree. The flights weren't a conflict of capital and labor. They were heroic achievements by two typical American kids.

The important fact, it seems to me, is that a poor boy and a rich boy risked their lives because they believed they were right. They had the courage of their convictions and neither hell nor water could stop them from taking a crack at it. There was no rivalry. The ambitions were parallel, the courage was parallel, the success was parallel, the reaction on the world was parallel.

When you're up in the lane of eagles, where Hughes and Corrigan flew, it doesn't matter much whether you have $15,000,000 or $15, because you don't fly the Atlantic on a bankbook, with a dollar sign for a propeller. In what the ball players designate as "the clutches," when the pressure is on, your only real wealth is in your courage. In courage and "heart," both Corrigan and Hughes were millionaires, believe me.

Good Morning!

There may be two schools of thought on the subject—but I incline toward the one which will hold that young Dickie Moore is the real star of this picture.

He turns out one crack performance!

And the feminine player I liked best is a veteran—Helena Phillips Evans. She hasn't much to do, but does her bit superbly.

All of which constitutes no slur on the acting of Miss Francis and the other able people in the cast. It is just that the work of Dickie and Mrs. Evans has a shining sincerity that makes it outstanding.

Kay Francis has a rôle different from her usual run of glamorous impersonations. She plays a widow with four children who, unversed in money matters, runs through her inheritance and faces want for herself and family.

An icy, vindictive "Aunt Caroline" persuades three of the children—she doesn't want "My Bill," for reasons the picture shall show you—to come and live with her.

Gallant little Bill sticks, and it is through him that, at last, the Colbrooks are reunited and again know the pleasant ways of prosperity.

Miss Francis is earnest and likable, but somehow unconvincing as Mrs. Colbrook. Elizabeth Risdon is a little too-too as the mean aunt. John Litel rings true as the banker who long has loved the courageous mother, and Anita Louise, Bonita Granville, and Bobby Jordan as the ornery offspring are—just that.

Mrs. Evans plays a crusty, unloved old woman into whose lonely life Bill brings sunshine.

This little film is rather neatly directed and should prove popular all family fare.

Shirley Temple Returns to America from Bermuda

New York, July 25.—[Special.]—The greatest crowd that ever had assembled in the streets of Bermuda massed last week to see Shirley Temple drive to a Hamilton pier and sail for home. But when the child star, clutching two rag dolls, received reporters on her arrival here today she did not speak of the shouts and tumult. She said it had been lovely riding horse-and-buggy and that she had played with a little girl named Ellen who was very nice.

Percy Eckharts to Give Party for Ormandys

Eugene Ormandy will arrive in Chicago today to direct the final two weeks of the Ravina festival. Mrs. Ormandy, who formerly was harpest of the Philadelphia orchestra of which her husband is conductor, will accompany him. Several parties will be given for the Ormandys while they are here. Mr. and Mrs. Percy B. Eckhart are giving a dinner tonight at the Indian Hill club for the Ormandys and Mrs. Louis Eckstein. Guests will include members of the board of trustees and the executive committee of the Ravinia festival.

Mrs. Julius Rosenwald is entertaining the Ormandys tomorrow. The conductor and his wife and Jascha Heifetz, who is to be guest soloist Saturday night and Sunday afternoon, will be given a party by Mrs. Eckstein following the concert Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Heifetz [Florence Vidor of the films] have been holidaying at Balboa, Cal., since early June. There the violinist sailed his cat boat, helped his son, Robert, 6 years old, build a soap box automobile, practiced on the accordion, made transcriptions, and in general relaxed from his strenuous 1937-'38 season.

Mr. Heifetz is playing with the New York Philharmonic orchestra on Thursday and will fly to Chicago in time for his two concerts.

Many Checked Coats Appear as Saratoga Racing Season Opens

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., July 25.—(AP)—One wing collar, checked coats galore, and a man in a white suit who arrived in a carriage were sartorial highlights today at the opening of Saratoga's summer racing season.

Perfect weather, sunny and warm, brought out the smartest clothes the old track has had at an opening in several years.

One of the most simply dressed women was young Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's bride, the former Manuela Hudson of California, who sat with him in a box near the finish line.

Pretty Mrs. Vanderbilt, whose husband is heir to $20,000,000, wore a dark blue crêpe sports dress, fawn colored gloves, and a matching straw hat that showed her tawny brown hair.

The man who came in a hired carriage drew up to the clubhouse entrance saying, "If you couldn't ride up in a carriage it wouldn't be Saratoga."

BY NANCY CABOT.

The gay little pansy is one of the old-fashioned flowers which always were included in grandmother's garden. Its popularity still is unrivaled and it is quite at home in a modern setting as it was in the quaint colonial periods. The rich deep shades of the natural bloom are successfully conveyed to the quilt pattern and these, in turn, are set together with three inch bands of white material to form one of the most striking coverlets in the vast quilt realm. The finished square measures 14 inches, and 30 appliqué blocks plus three inch bands are surrounded by a four inch border and a one-half inch bias binding.

For a limited period Nancy Cabot offers ten quilt patterns of her own choice at a price of 10 cents for the group (12 cents by mail). Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower.

Sally Sounds an Alarm: Wake Up and Write!

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Tribune Charities, Inc.

Wouldn't it be funny to walk into a castle in which every single living thing was sound asleep? Guards standing with their muskets on their shoulders, snoring as loud as they could, ladies in waiting and knights and cooks and every one else standing in position, but sound asleep? That's what happened to the prince when he came after 100 long years to rescue the beautiful little princess who had been put to sleep by the wicked fairy in "The Sleeping Beauty."

If you'd like to see how all this came about, don't get to snoring yourself, because you boys and girls haven't much more time to get your letters to me. Our party at the Jack and Jill theater isn't until Aug. 4, but my guests will be selected next Thursday, and if you haven't written in for an invitation by that time you can't possibly be a winner.

As I've told you before, any boy or girl is eligible to try for an invitation. All you have to do is write a letter telling me why you'd like to come to this gay party—be sure you write every line yourself—and let me know who you are, where you live, and how old you are. Simple, isn't it?

The play will be presented by boys and girls of your own age, the Jack and Jill players, under the direction of Marie Agnes Foley in their own charming little theater. If you want to be there when the curtain goes up you'd better write that letter to Sally Joy Brown, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Chicago.

Thermos night-table jugs are, as a rule, quite expensive. So we were amazed the other day when we discovered a special value on a most attractive set. The jug is a good size and is shaped a little like a vase, being circular and larger at the bottom than the top. The black composition top is also a tumbler. This thermos jug is made in a number of light, pretty colors — blue, green, beige, and rose, and also in all-silver. It would make a handsome gift.

SYNOPSIS.

On board the S. S. Panama Queen, sailing from Los Angeles to New York, via Panama, are Anne Sydney, who has a part in a Broadway play, and her crippled and embittered sister, Mena; Arnold Vernon, elderly, rich English motion picture producer, and his coldly beautiful wife, Claire; Isobel Butler, who has a stateroom next to the Vernou suite, and hopes to get in pictures through him; Alex Reed, young surgeon returning to work after two years' illness; and gossipy Mrs. Panting. Isobel meets and arouses Vernon's interest. Anne and Alex are mutually attracted. Mena spitefully tells Alex that Anne is a heartless flirt. Pride causes Anne to hold herself aloof from him. Dr. Neil Andrews, a friend of Alex's, joins the ship in Mexico. He wants to get married and thinks Anne meets his ideals. Isobel and Arnold Vernon fall in love. He tries to buy his freedom from Claire. When she refuses he threatens to make a new will disinheriting her. The ship fights through a terrific hurricane. Isobel finds Vernon in her cabin, unconscious, hit by a storm tossed trunk. She sends Claire to him and struggles to find a doctor. Claire takes a loaded pistol, wrapped in a towel, from the purser's suite and shoots her husband, leaving the weapon in Isobel's wardrobe. She then tells Alex she found her husband wounded in Isobel's cabin. Flagg, the purser, reveals that the day before Vernon had made a new will leaving everything to Isobel. Alex operates on Vernon. The captain starts an inquiry. The stewardess reports that she found a towel of the purser's in Claire's room and that Claire had given her an emerald ring to keep silent. Claire charges the stewardess stole the ring.

INSTALMENT XXXII.

AN ACCUSATION.

Ainslee opened the door for Claire. He looked down and saw the surprising sight of Mrs. Panting and the lame Sydney girl on the forbidden enclosure of the deck. A junior officer was coming up the companionway to announce them. He fell back to let Mrs. Vernon pass.

It seemed that the captain must wait a little longer before he could retire to the bed he now hungered for. Mrs. Panting had some important evidence to bring him in connection with the "crime."

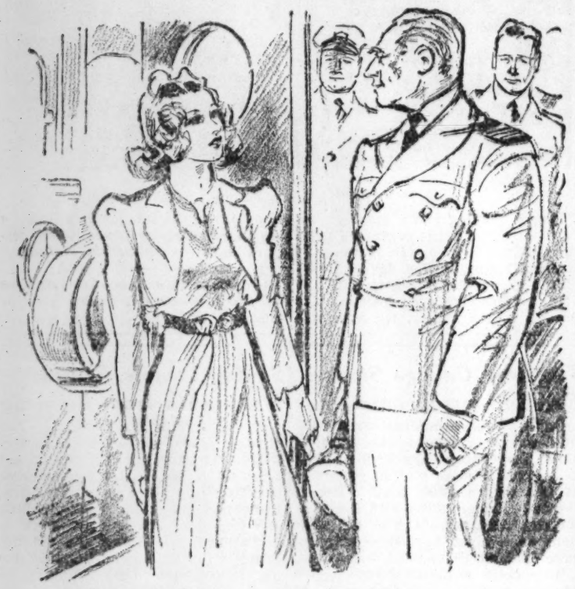
Capt. MacKenzie altered his intention to refuse her admission. "Come in, Mrs. Panting. Sit down."

Mrs. Panting bustled in. Mena limped in after her. Mrs. Panting laid an important looking book on the table, a famous fictionized story of Napoleon's Egyptian campaign titled "Forty Centuries Look Down"—exactly the kind of thing she might have expected to find Mr. Vernon reading.

She did not wait for the captain to speak. "I found a clew which I know will be of great value to you." Her manner was bristling with self-importance, her small greenish eyes gleefully bright.

"A clew to what?" inquired the captain coldly.

"Why, captain, don't pretend I shouldn't know. The crime that took place last night—the regrettable attempt on Mr. Vernon's life."



"Owing to your sister's insistence on giving evidence."

The captain leaned over the table toward her. "What gave you the impression any such thing had happened on my ship?"

"Why, captain, the steward told me. And Miss Sydney's steward knows, too. He confirmed it."

Flagg saw an ominous flare to the captain's nostrils which boded the stewards and stewardesses no good. But the old man's voice evidenced control. "Well, what is it, Mrs. Panting? Let me see it."

She opened the book and from its pages took a note written on a page torn from a notebook. "Mr. Vernon left this book on his deck chair after the girls' steeplechase. Naturally I picked it up so that it wouldn't be lost. This fell out—I couldn't help reading it——"

The captain read aloud: "Dear Arnold: I've heard there'll be movies after dinner. I'll go up there till they've started and if she's there I'll come down to you. You go into my room and wait. Don't say anything to her till I've seen you. I beg you to wait. Love—I."

He showed no sign that Mrs. Panting had delivered to him the woman he had personally chosen as the guilty one. "A purely personal matter," he said indifferently. "However, the book and the note are lost property. Mr. Flagg will take them in charge and restore them to the owner. At the same time, Mrs. Panting, thank you very much."

Mena had been breathing hard and clenching her hands together. Her face grew very red—"But just a minute, Capt. MacKenzie. I have something important to tell you. I know who did it."

"You know who did it?"

Mena gulped, "Yes. Dr. Reed was crazy about Miss Butler. He couldn't bear her out of his sight. Miss Butler went to get a doctor—she saw him first and called him—and when he saw who was in her room he went for Mr. Flagg's gun."

"Is this first hand evidence, or is it guesswork?"

"I know it definitly, captain—I mean I know he is insanely jealous of her. On the night of the masquerade I heard him say to her: 'I need you—don't go and leave me.' He was so scared she'd be with Mr. Vernon if he let her out of his sight——"

The captain opened the door to speed the visitors himself. He bowed stiffly as they passed out. "Thank you very much, ladies. Your information may be useful—or it may not—but I appreciate the public spirit that brought you here."

Flagg was smiling when the captain returned to the table. The old man said: "Well, Flagg, what do you make of these two new pieces of so-called evidence? The note indicates she knew about the will."

"I wouldn't be too sure about that, sir. And of course the accusation against Dr. Reed is ludicrous."

"I don't know. A man is more likely to attempt murder than a woman. Why shouldn't Reed be jealous if Miss Butler had been luring him on? But I think the other Sydney girl ought to know her sister is prepared to accuse Dr. Reed of what she called the crime."

Anne responded to the summons with startled anxiety.

The captain was getting accustomed to the idea of being a criminal investigator and had also got his second wind. He was no longer peevish at being hindered from his sleep. Futher, Anne Sydney was to his mind the most attractive female passenger on the trip. She was unquestionably the belle, and he liked her spirited personality and her charming aristocratic manners.

"Good morning, Miss Sydney," he said genially, "I don't want you to be upset at all, but owing to your sister's insistence on giving evidence you also are a little involved with the tragedy on the ship."

"You mean you really don't know?"

"No. Unless it's something to do with the people who were hurt last night—but I don't know much about them. I haven't heard a word."

"You mean to say your sister has not confided her suspicions to you?"

Anne looked embarrassed, but she said frankly, "My sister and I are not on speaking terms."

"I see. Then I shall have to explain it to you." The captain floundered a little. He found it difficult with the girl's troubled, expectant eyes on him. "Well, it was this way. Mr. Vernon was found injured in Miss Butler's stateroom last night, after the worst of the storm was spent. At first it seemed he had been crushed under a wardrobe trunk, but actually he had been shot through the chest with Mr. Flagg's antique pistol——"

Anne was thunderstruck. "No! That charming person! Who would do such a thing to him——"

"Your sister will tell you. She was up here denouncing Dr. Reed a couple of minutes ago."

A wild color flooded Anne's face. "She must be mad! Such a thing is impossible!"

"She had proof—or said so—that Dr. Reed was infatuated with Miss Butler. When called to attend Mr. Vernon for superficial injury he found him lying in Miss Butler's room instead of his own. We have at least found a motive——"

Anne stood up and let her trigger temper rip. She looked at the three of them, one after the other, with furious contempt. "You're all out of your minds! Why, even if the infatuation story were true and he were jealous, Alex Reed wouldn't hurt a living thing!"

"You know him well, then!" commented the captain sardonically as she paused to draw breath.

"Well enough to know that!"

"Your sister seemed very sure of her facts."

"My sister——" Anne started—and then closed her mouth. "I've nothing more to say—nothing that would be of value to your inquiry. I'm sorry I went for you in that ill-mannered fashion—please forgive me——"

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: Company's Coming

Let Diplomacy Be Watchword with In-Laws

BY DORIS BLAKE.

You aren't marrying your fiancé's family, but it makes it a great deal pleasanter if you get along with them, especially your prospective mother-in-law. She can be more dangerous to your happiness now than after you are married. If you offend her she can use the years of influence she has had over her son and even break up the match.

Even if she can't, it won't hurt you to be tactful and sympathetic. In a sense she is losing her son to you. You can afford to be generous and make her feel she is gaining a daughter, too.

Your prospective mother-in-law may be domineering or clinging, much too possessive about her son, touchy and unreasonable, too snobbish, perhaps, bossy, critical, or perhaps just plain old-fashioned in her views. Remember she is an older woman. It is harder for her to change. Be willing to concede a little. When you are married to her son you'll come first with him.

Margaret was very capable and modern. Her prospective mother-in-law was the old-fashioned type who loved nicknacks and never threw a single thing away. Last spring Margaret and her sweetheart and their crowd spent a number of week-ends at the seaside home Ted had bought for his mother years ago.

With zeal Margaret put the crowd to work and got the place in order. With present day efficiency she gathered up all the useless ornaments and had Ted store them in the attic.

When they brought Ted's mother out to see the good work they had done, Margaret couldn't understand why the old lady seemed so hurt and cool. Positively ungrateful for all Margaret's hard labor!

To placate her, Margaret bought some modernistic porch furniture and sent it out. Later she learned from Ted that his mother received the present with tears. It would have been more generous of Margaret to have given some trifle, a lamp or vase, either in line with the older woman's taste or small enough to be inconspicuous.

Be tactful with the mother of your sweetheart. Some day you may have a marriageable son yourself.

Wear Cream and Rubber Gloves at Household Tasks

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Household tasks can be beauty treatments, too. Housework is no longer an excuse for rough, red, ugly hands. The busy housewife can do dishes, wash clothes, clean windows and even paint porch furniture and improve the appearance of her hands.

It doesn't take a minute to rub on some good cold cream before you slip on rubber gloves and plunge your hands into hot suds. The heat will help the skin absorb the cream. Your dishes will be washed and your hands will be that much smoother and softer. If you don't keep a jar of cold cream on your kitchen shelf you can always use olive oil.

Suppose the porch swing is looking dingy. In the rush of spring cleaning you didn't get a chance to do anything about it. Now that lazy summer days are here, painting would be a pleasant afternoon's occupation. Yet it doesn't mean you have to stain your hands and dye your finger nails orange or green. Just put on cold cream and a pair of rubber gloves. Next day you can show off your porch furniture and entertain the girls at bridge without apologies.

Washing out table mats or your underthings too fine to send to the laundry also will be an excuse for rubber gloves and a beauty treatment.

If you are the kind of woman who doesn't like rubber gloves and simply won't wear them at least push back the cuticle of your nails after washing and keep a hand lotion handy. If the water is very hot or there is a great deal of laundry to be done we suggest using a plunger. It costs only 10 cents. It acts on the same principle as that of a washing machine and is very effective, and certainly spares your hands from prolonged soaking.

But rubber gloves and cold cream will save you the time it would take to get your hands in condition later.

Want to Know Why You're Constipated?

Would you give a million to shake off that dull, dopey, played-out feeling that often comes with common constipation? Then stop a minute and think.

What have you had to eat this week? Just meat, bread, eggs, potatoes? Probably the reason you're constipated is you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean how much you eat. It means a kind of food that isn't entirely digested, but leaves a soft, bulky mass in the intestines which helps a bowel movement.

What to do? Eat some Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast every day. This crunchy toasted cereal is not only rich in "bulk"—it also contains both the intestinal tonic vitamin B_1, and iron.

Eat All-Bran every day and drink plenty of water. See if you don't get off your heels and on your toes! Kellogg's All-Bran is sold by every grocer.

As long as there's a head of cabbage in the house, a woman has the makings of a good but simple and inexpensive salad. Cabbage combines so well with other fresh, crisp vegetables and with all kinds of fruits, that it's pretty hard to go wrong in making a cabbage salad. Any tart dressing will do. Sour cream and vinegar and cream dressings are excellent.

Be sure the cabbage is crisp. It's best to soak it for 15 minutes or so in ice water before combining it with the other salad ingredients.

SIMPLE CABBAGE SALAD.

[Recipes serve 4.]

CABBAGE AND CELERY: Crisp 2 cups finely shredded cabbage and ½ cup chopped celery in ice water, drain, and combine with mayonnaise seasoned with chili sauce.

CABBAGE AND CHEESE SALAD: Crisp 2 cups of shredded red cabbage and combine with ½ cup any kind of firm cheese, cut in small cubes. Serve with French dressing.

CABBAGE, BANANA, AND GREEN PEPPER SALAD: Mix lightly 1½ cups crisp shredded cabbage, 1½ cups sliced bananas, and a green pepper cut in rings, with mayonnaise and sour cream.

CABBAGE AND BEET SLAW: Combine 1½ cups shredded cabbage, 1 cup diced beets, and 2 tablespoons minced onion with sour cream.

CABBAGE, TOMATO, AND CARROT SALAD: Shred enough cabbage to make a cupful and mix lightly with ¼ cup thinly sliced and crisped carrots, ¼ cup chopped celery, 1 cup pieces of tomato, and 2 or 3 tablespoons chopped pickle. If watercress is available, add a few bits. Blend with a thinned cooked salad dressing or a French dressing.

CABBAGE, APPLE, AND PEANUT SALAD: Combine 1½ cups shredded cabbage, red or white, with ¾ cup coarsely chopped peanuts and ½ cup diced tart apple. Use a thin mayonnaise with this mixture.

CABBAGE, SPINACH, AND RADISH SALAD: Combine 1 cup finely shredded cabbage and 1 cup chopped spinach. Add ¼ cup thinly sliced radishes and, if liked, ¼ cup sliced green onion. French dressing or a sour cream dressing is good with this.

The subject of everyday salads has been treated at length in a new booklet, "Everyday Adventures in Salads," which members of this department recently completed. In the booklet are recipes for salad dressings and their many variations, and dozens of easy-to-make salads of all kinds, including the bowl salads so popular now. These are recipes which will be appreciated by the woman who likes simple salads which are delicious, but which may be made quickly from ingredients at hand.

Five cents in stamps will bring the booklet by mail. Three cents are all it costs if you purchase it personally at one of the two Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower lobby. Address mail requests to Mary Meade, CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

Serving a frozen salad helps to make even the hottest day seem cooler. For recipes see Mary Meade's "Freeze the Salad." The booklet is on sale for 3 cents at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower, or will be mailed for 5 cents in stamps. Mail requests should be addressed to Mary Meade.

Simple Frock for General Wear

WOMAN'S AND MISS' FROCK.

For spectator sports, business wear and informal social events you will like this simple frock with unusual bodice treatment. The V yoke cuts bodice breadth and the shirring in both waist and sleeves lends feminine fullness. Around the neck you may have a regulation shirtwaist collar or a more fluttery model, as shown in the sketch at the right. You may use stud buttons or larger ones, as you prefer. A trim tailored belt of self-material or of lether defines the waistline and the paneled skirt is flared for grace and walking comfort.

Wash silks and cottons of all types make up well and silk crêpes are an idea for early fall days. Pastels still are in order and the bright shades for autumn.

Style No. 2579 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20 years, and 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, and 44 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 3½ yards of 39 inch material.

Tips to Mother Who Plans Trip with the Baby

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

You may not agree with me, but babies shouldn't go on journeys. Baby with his definite need of a regular routine of sleep, rest, and exercise—quiet, food carefully prepared and in perfect condition—baths and change of position and exercise is not only happiest, but healthiest and safest at home.

But you may need to travel with your baby. Or you may want to do a little gay gallivanting. Or your route to your vacation spot may be a long one. If so and you are going traveling with the baby, you might just as well collect a few practical suggestions, particularly if this is your first baby.

Any mother who has ever traveled much without a car [and I am one] and then has had one knows what a blessing it is to step into one at your door, instead of using buses or taxis and porters and having a million things to carry for the baby, besides all the ordinary traveling luggage. So if your journey is to be by car and to last for only a day, it is greatly simplified.

Of course, to begin with, you will not carry the baby. He is much cooler and more comfortable in a basket—not to mention your own comfort and coolness. There are many contraptions on the market for this purpose—motor cribs, canvas baby beds, small hammocks, and that old standby, the market or clothes basket.

A basket with a handle is the most convenient. If you cannot afford these a heavy carton or cardboard box can be used and a thin mattress, a hair pillow, or a blanket can be laid on the bottom. A thin rubber or oil silk sheet is placed over this and the usual coverings will also be needed.

It is well to have with you thin cheesecloth or netting to protect the baby from dust, dirt, and insects. Of course you will drive carefully and not too fast so that the baby does not get a lot of dust and dirt, and is not jostled too much.

Dress the baby as simply and lightly as the weather permits, but be sure to have additional clothing at hand, for summer weather is an uncertain thing and twilight often brings chill and damp.

Keep the baby to his schedule as much as possible, even if it interferes with the mileage you may want to pile up. A rested, well, and contented baby is better than a few more miles added to your day's quota. Take him out of his crib every once in a while, so that he does not get cramped, and let him exercise a bit. Wash his hands and face frequently. A brisk rub or massage of the body and arms and legs can be restful. Keep him as quiet and cool as you can, and don't let admiring strangers do more than peek at him, no matter how much they "oh!" and "ah!"

Be sure he has his usual drinks of boiled water.

If your baby is old enough to sit up and there is any glare or too much sun, a sunbonnet or cap can be used to shade his eyes. He should be protected from drafts and from sun and wind burn.

Draper Strives to Fuse Ballet and Tap Dance

BY CECIL SMITH.

Paul Draper, whose tap dancing escapes from the level of mere vivacious entertainment into the realm of serious art, is currently to be seen in Chicago as a part of the new bill at the Chez Paree. The expert orchestra men under Abe Lyman's command find themselves—with more apparent pleasure than consternation—playing crisp pre-classical pieces by Scarlatti, Paradies, and Handel as accompaniments for Mr. Draper's new dances.

No single individual who has been successful in the cabaret field departs more radically from the prescribed formulæ of café entertainment than Paul Draper. Although he is good looking, he is no glamor boy with a face carefully resurfaced and smoothed out for the benefit of the lights. While he presents his dances with unfailing projection, he has never developed the vaudevillian's stock habit of seeming to plug his own wares and to wheedle the last pat of applause from his audience.

He is, in fact, completely concentrated upon his dancing when he makes a public appearance, and he obviously has neither thought nor energy to give to superficial tricks of the trade. Because of this extraordinary, almost self-effacing, concentration upon the essentials of his work he has learned to dance more perfectly than almost any one else in America.

His technique is basically that of any tap dancer, but his rhythms and cross rhythms are incredibly exact and therefore incredibly insinuating. He has also evidently been bothered by the compensating movements of hands, head, and arms, all of which the tap dancer must necessarily employ to keep his body balanced. In order to divest these movements of their gauche quality he has made a profound study of classical ballet, and he uses his hands and arms in the positions prescribed by this form of dancing.

The steps of the ballet are constantly finding their way more integrally into his dancing, and he is now endeavoring to create a fusion of tap with ballet. At the present time he has only partially succeeded, for the range of ballet technique upon which he draws is still limited, and he shows no signs yet of recognizing the need for sounder and more forceful choreography. His compositions are not unified works of art, whereas his polished style and unbelievably accurate measurements of movement are high art indeed.

There is a world of growth ahead of him. Right now, however, he proves himself to be as near to genius as any one the American dance has brought to light, and his dancing at the Chez Paree is just about the most stimulating experience of the summer.

Art Institute Holds Preview of Summer Shows This Afternoon

Members of the Art institute have been invited to a preview of the summer exhibitions at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in the east wing galleries. The exhibitions, which will be opened to the public on Thursday, include "Art for the Public," by Chicago artists of the federal art project, and sculpture by Sylvia Shaw Judson [Mrs. Clay Judson]. The federal music project will present the Forum String quartet at 3 and 4 o'clock on Thursday.

Mrs. Judson, who is leaving next month with her family for a ranching holiday, will be present at the preview today. Mrs. Walter S. Brewster, who is expected to attend the preview, has three fruit prints in an exhibition that opened on July 19. That exhibit has several of Robert Allerton's botanical prints. The flower prints were purchased from a fund given by Mrs. Brewster and the late Mrs. Charles H. Schweppe. The sculpture and "Art for the Public" exhibitions will remain open until Oct. 9.

"Dear Mr. Culbertson: In my bridge experience grand coups have been the rarest of the so-called expert plays to come to my recognition, but the oft-seen squeeze has given me the greatest thrills. An unusual one came my way recently. If there are varieties in squeezes I am sure this is a comparatively rare one. I shall ask you to be the judge and give it its special name, if there be such a thing for that particular play.

"After West's pass, North's opening semi-psychic was designed to bluff East-West out of a possible major suit game. At the same time [determined to drop anything short of a forcing bid from South], North felt the damage could not be great if he were forced to play the hand. North's pass after West's three heart bid warned me [South] of the possible danger. But when North carried my four diamond bid to game I was assured that the opening bid was not an absolute psychic and, fearing a heart lead through my king, I put the contract into no trump.

"West was not exactly a conservative player, but I read his nine of spades lead as a 'top-of-nothing' and credited him with the ace of hearts and the queen and jack of clubs. In other words, I foresaw the squeeze at the first turn of a card. The two top spades were cashed, then all the diamonds, on the last three of which I threw my remaining spades and a small club. West guarded his two clubs and left this situation:

"On my heart nine East thoughtfully put up his queen, but I ducked and [as expected] the ace fell. As long as my placing of the heart ace and club queen and jack was correct, the squeeze was inevitable from the outset, but wasn't it pretty?

"Yours truly, D. B. Jr., Tampa, Fla."

At the very outset declarer could count only eleven top tricks, seven diamonds, two clubs and two spades. There was no chance to augment these by a spade or a heart trick, inasmuch as the heart ace was marked in the West hand. Hence declarer's one hope was a squeeze. He was, of course, lucky to find the only club stopper in West's hand, but still had to be careful to cash his tricks in the proper order, and to discard properly. On the second spade trick it would have been fatal to discard dummy's nine of hearts instead of the club.

As a matter of fact, the one thing that a would-be squeezer must guard against, above all others, is squeezing himself or dummy. This is not only fatal but, perhaps worse, highly humiliating!

BANG'S DISEASE TAKES MILLIONS FROM CATTLEMEN

Present in Half the Herds in Illinois.

[This is the first of a series of articles on Bang's disease, which is contagious to both animals and humans, to appear in The Tribune.]

BY PERCY WOOD.

Bang's disease, an infection common in farm animals, probably can be found in half the herds of cattle in Illinois. If it were eliminated, cattle breeders and dairymen of the state could save themselves $5,000,000 annually.

Authority for the prevalence of this costly disease is Dr. J. J. Lintner, federal veterinarian in charge of the program in Illinois for its eradication. The University of Illinois has calculated the losses it causes.

The problem is not confined to the farm nor to animals, for Bang's disease is contagious to humans. Through contact with unpasteurized milk and uncooked meat, it causes undulant fever. This is a particularly harassing ailment with symptoms similar to a heavy cold or influenza. Although not always fatal, it can be a lingering illness attended by great discomfort.

Blood Test Used.

Bang's disease is an infectious disorder of breeding animals which causes abortion in beef and dairy cattle, pigs, and goats. It does not cause abortion in humans.

For several years an agglutination or blood test has been used to detect infected cattle. During the four years the federal government has conducted its Bang's disease control program, 58 per cent of the herds tested in Illinois contained some infected animals. The initial tests disclosed that an average of about 20 per cent of the individual animals tested were diseased.

During this four year period, about 11,000,000 cattle have been tested throughout the 48 states and more than 1,500,000 were found to have contracted the disorder.

More Cattle—More Disease.

From a national point of view, Dr. Lintner said yesterday, the percentage of infection is higher in the densely populated cattle belts—the Chicago milkshed, for example—than in the western range country. This was also true of bovine tuberculosis. In other words, the more mingling of cattle, the greater the chance of infection.

The results in Illinois were high, Dr. Lintner believes, because the most badly infected herds were submitted for tests. Farmers who found the reproduction rate of their herds declining, or the cows aborting, would know something was wrong and would suspect Bang's disease.

Infected Animals Destroyed.

The federal eradication program calls for destruction of infected animals and for each destroyed the government has paid an indemnity. It is estimated that more than $33,500,000 has been paid out in the last four years, an average of about $22 per head. The government paid one-third of the difference between an appraisal of the infected animal's worth and its salvage value.

In addition to agreeing to slaughter his infected cattle, the farmer, under the federal program, agrees to clean and disinfect his premises.

Repeated tests of herds from which reactors have been weeded out by the test and then slaughtered has cut the prevalence of infection from the average of 20 per cent per herd to 3 per cent, Dr. Lintner said.

Disease Free Herds Accredited.

For many years the laboratory of animal pathology and hygiene at the University of Illinois, under direction of Dr. Robert Graham, has conducted a testing program called project 1046 of the university's extension service. Herds found free from Bang's disease are so accredited.

If the results of two consecutive annual tests are negative, or three consecutive tests at six month intervals are negative, the herd will be accredited as free from Bang's disease by the state department of agriculture.

As long ago as 1930 it was estimated at a conference at the university at Urbana that Bang's disease was costing dairymen of America 175 million dollars annually. Losses had doubled in the decade from 1920 to 1930.

Losses to Michigan dairymen from the disease, it was pointed out at that time, ran an average of about $5,600,000 annually, or about 7 per cent of the dairymen's capital investment.

Few Naturally Immune.

A circular issued by the university says of the disorder, in part:

"Some cows possess resistance to the disease under ordinary methods of exposure; in fact some animals remain free from abortion even though kept in infected herds. Unfortunately the percentage is low, and natural immunity is therefore of little practical value in controling the disease. All pregnant cows should be regarded as susceptible to infectious abortion.

"Mature animals or animals of breeding age seldom appear to recover from this disease. Animals that have reacted and later give negative tests may not remain negative. To avoid being misled regarding the presence or absence of the disease, it is advisable to regard breeding animals that have given a clear cut reaction to the agglutination test as permanently infected.

"Reacting calves, however, that receive milk from infected cows generally make a complete recovery. Breeding cows infected with abortion may ultimately become sterile instead of developing a tolerance to Bang's disease or they may breed normally for years."

In Estate Battle

Neighbors in River Forest testified yesterday, before Master in Chancery John Sbarboro, that for years they believed Charles H. Brainard to be the devoted husband of Mrs. Laura Farthing Brainard. They had seen him almost daily, they said, in the home Mrs. Brainard still occupies at 605 Ashland boulevard, River Forest.

Previously residents of Elmhurst had told their belief that Brainard was the husband of Mrs. Gertrude Brainard, 428 Rex avenue, Elmhurst. The claim of Mrs. Gertrude Brainard as the legal wife is upheld by four brothers and two sisters of Brainard, who left no will when he was killed in a mine accident in March, 1937. The relatives are suing to obtain possession of two-thirds of his $100,000 estate [all but the dower right of Mrs. Gertrude Brainard] and have demanded that the other claimant give up possession of the River Forest house.

Mrs. Laura Brainard has claimed two-thirds of the estate for her daughters. She asserted she did not know Brainard had another wife. The children, Patricia and Charlotte, had been acknowledged by Brainard as his, according to the testimony yesterday. The hearing will continue today.

FREED BY JURY, BROTHER SLAYER IS REARRESTED

Police Assert Coroner's Verdict Not Binding.

Leo O'Rourke, 20 years old, who killed his elder brother Sunday, was exonerated yesterday by a coroner's jury. A few minutes after leaving the inquest, the youth was rearrested by Capt. William Collins of the Chicago Lawn police and booked on a murder charge.

O'Rourke testified at the inquest that his brother, Thomas, 25 years old, repeatedly had threatened to kill him and their father, John, 54 years old, a retired sign painter of 1650 West 61st street. Two weeks ago he tried to strangle the father and had frequently struck both his father and his younger brother.

Fears Brother; Arms Self.

On Saturday night, Leo testified, his brother had invited him to have a few drinks in a tavern at 6122 South Ashland avenue. Leo hoped to patch things up, he told the jury, but in fear of his brother he armed himself with a pistol.

After several hours of drinking Thomas O'Rourke drew a knife and hurled himself at his younger brother, shouting that he would kill him, then kill their father. Leo drew a pistol and shot Thomas, fatally wounding him.

When the father testified that Thomas—an ex-convict—had been a menace to society, the jury exonerated Leo.

Verdict Mere Recommendation.

After rearresting the youth, Capt. Collins explained that the finding of a coroner's jury is in effect only a recommendation. It has no standing in law.

"I believe that the courts should go into the matter more fully. It is admitted that both men had been drinking before the fatal encounter."

Capt. Collins also arrested Anton Francis, 34 years old, the tavern owner who sold liquor to the O'Rourke boys. Francis was booked under the state liquor control law.

PAY BOOST URGED IN STATE PRISONS AND HOSPITALS

Bowen Tells Conferees He Will Ask Funds.

Pay increases for employés of state prisons and hospitals will be asked in an effort to increase their efficiency and morale. This was announced yesterday by A. L. Bowen, director of the state department of public welfare, at a conference in Stateville penitentiary. He said he would ask the legislature for funds at its next session.

Prison and jail officials argued that institutional employés of the state are underpaid.

Assails Lack of Coöperation.

Frank Sain, warden of the Cook county jail, asserted that half of all escapes occurred because of lack of coöperation among institution officers.

"Raise wages and you raise morale and efficiency," he said.

Joseph E. Ragan, state superintendent of prisons, also urged pay boosts.

Urges State Probation Control.

He said that probation in Wisconsin is state controled, instead of being left to the discretion of individual courts. Rigid state control, said Murphy, is not only effective but more just. Probably 75 per cent of probationers will never go to prison, he added. Mr. Murphy also urged that probation officers be given security of jobs. That means better personnel, he said.

Bowen disclosed that there are 53,000 inmates in state institutions under his jurisdiction. More than 13,000 are in prison, including 6,013 in Joliet and Stateville. The depression has increased the number of state wards four times, he said.

GIVEN YEAR FOR HIS MARRIAGE TO ILLINOIS GIRL, 13

Murphysboro, Ill., July 25.—(AP)—Thomas Overton, 21 years old, of Franklin county was sentenced to a year in the Vandalia state prison farm today while the parents of his bride, 13, planned to seek annulment of their marriage.

Overton pleaded guilty to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor when arraigned before County Judge Fred B. Herbert. He told the court he married Gladys Brumley last Friday at Jackson, Mo., "because I knew we couldn't get married in Illinois."

Judge Herbert paroled the child bride to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Brumley of Carbondale, Ill. The couple were arrested at Christopher, Ill., a few hours after they were married and brought to the county jail here.

JAIL 3 AS STOLEN GEM RECEIVERS IN $18,000 THEFT

Three men, charged with receiving $18,000 worth of stolen jewelry, are under arrest at the state's attorney's office. They are Lewis Sherman, 39 years old, a jeweler at 29 East Madison street; Herman Gold, 31, 6906 Clyde avenue, and Gold's brother-in-law, Julius Shapiro, 29, 6900 Clyde avenue.

Investigators said that the jewelry was stolen from William A. Dumpfe of Indianapolis, Ind., on June 9. The Indianapolis police arrested Robert Holder and Mose Long, both colored, and through them traced the gems here. Gold and Shapiro said they paid the men $270 for them and then turned the loot over to Sherman for $1,000. Sherman denied knowing the property was stolen.

Get Social Security Cards by Aug. 7, Workers Told

Martin P. Durkin, state director of labor, warned last night that every employed person in Illinois who is without a social security account number must apply for one by Aug. 7. Account numbers may be obtained at any field office of the social security board by applying in person or mail.

SLAIN MERCHANT BELIEVED VICTIM OF MAFIA GUNMAN

Nick Chiaramonte, 58 years old, 336 West 24th street, South Water market merchant, who was shot to death in gangland fashion Sunday night, is believed by police to have been the victim of Mafia extortionists. He was shot four times with a .45 caliber pistol as he stood on the sidewalk in front of 310 West 24th street.

The merchant's daughter, Miss Lucille Chiaramonte, 29 years old, with whom he lived, told Capt. John Cartan of the Pekin station that her father appeared worried and nervous for the last three weeks.

"If he received any blackhand letters demanding money, he never told us about them," she said.

Investigators said that the merchant had $4,700 in the bank, owned his home, and was reputed to be wealthy.

SUITOR STABBED TO DEATH; GIRL TELLS OF FIGHT

Robert Samac, 21 years old, 2740 Kimball avenue, was stabbled to death early today in what police said was a fight with a love rival. They are searching for a former admirer of the girl.

Samac some time ago began courting Miss Iris Tibor, 18, of 1616 Fullerton parkway. A short time earlier she had ended her friendship with the suspect. He objected, she told police.

Last night Miss Tibor and her brother George, 14, went automobile riding with Samac. They stopped almost in front of her home. According to Miss Tibor and her brother, the former admirer met them. They said he lunged at Samac crying, "If you're going to steal my girl take this." The two men fought, but Samac soon collapsed and died.

Young Bandit Held to Jury on $156 Robbery Charge

CONVICT TRUCK BANDIT; WOMEN SEEK CLEMENCY

CRIMINAL COURT.

Joseph Juncgewski, burglary, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary by Judge Robert C. O'Connell.

Ray Mandelkow, 33 years old, pleaded guilty yesterday to hijacking a truck. He was sentenced by Judge Rudolph F. Desort to one to twenty years in prison. Mandelkow's wife, Claribel, 25, and Mrs. Beulah Lenox, 29, also pleaded guilty. Attorney James P. Byrnes made a motion for probation for the women which will be heard Aug. 3.

Judge Desort also ordered the probation officer to investigate Mrs. Mandelkow's story. While her husband earned $300 a month as a tile setter, Mrs. Mandelkow said she had drawn $85 a month for two years as a senior stenographer for the WPA in Harvey where they lived. She said a politician gave her the job.

The two women admitted they drove the automobile while their husbands held up freight trucks. On April 24 they obtained $600 in cash and $400 in merchandise. On June 14, while robbing two truckers at Sacramento avenue and Addison street, Mrs. Lenox' husband, Earl, was shot and killed when he dropped his gun.

MISSOURI TAKES BIG WORRY OFF WAUKEGAN CRACKER BOX CREW

Waukegan's police breathed easier last night. They were informed by authorities at Montgomery, Mo., that Theodore F. Carty had been found guilty of larceny and burglary and sentenced to eight years in prison.

Carty, who was arrested as a safeblower in Waukegan last April, bragged that he could escape whenever he desired.

"This jail is just a crackerbox," he said.

On June 11 he proved it. He sawed the bars of his cell and fled. Nothing more was heard of him until he was arrested in Montgomery.

With him were William Lane, 22 years old, and Joseph Abbruzzo, 16 years old, both of Evanston. They admitted they had assisted in the jail break. Lane was sentenced to seven years in Jefferson City, Mo., after being convicted of burglary and larceny. Abbruzzo was freed.

GIRL WITH RAZOR ROBS MAN.

Police were searching yesterday for a colored girl robber who uses a razor as a weapon. Nicholas Boris, 31 years old, 1708 Mozart avenue, reported that she forced him to give her $1.75 on the sidewalk in front of 33 East 18th street.

PLEADS GUILTY IN BRICK KILLING TO ESCAPE CHAIR

Earl Hicks pleaded guilty yesterday, to the brickbat murder of Mrs. Florence Johnson. He agreed to testify against his confessed parner in the crime, Robert Nixon, whose trial began immediately. Both men are colored.

Mrs. Johnson, the mother of two small children, was beaten to death as she slept in her apartment at 4631 Lake Park avenue on May 27. She was the wife of Elmer Johnson, a city fireman, who was on duty at the time.

Nixon, an acknowledged rapist, has confessed the murder of Mrs. Johnson and four other women. Authorities say he was the actual killer of Mrs. Johnson, although he blames Hicks. The state is asking the death penalty for Nixon.

Hicks testified he and Nixon were looking for a place to burglarize when they noticed a broken window in the Johnson home. They crawled in. Fearing Mrs. Johnson would scream, Nixon killed her with a brick he carried.

Judge Lewe deferred sentence until after Nixon's trial. If Hicks testifies against Nixon, it was indicated, Hicks will escape the death penalty.

EQUILIBRIUM WINS ARLINGTON FUTURITY TEST

Beats Steel Heels for First Victory.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

The Greentree stable's Equilibrium, a candidate for next Saturday's $50,000 Futurity, lived up to the family reputation established by his famous sire, Equipoise, as he made the first start of his career yesterday at Arlington Park.

Equilibrium came home three lengths ahead of his nearest rival in a field of nine well bred two year olds in spite of the fact that he was carried wide throughout the race—a sprint of five and a half furlongs which opened the program. He covered the distance in the businesslike time of 1:05 4-5.

Temulac Is Third.

Two other Futurity candidates, Warren Wright's Temulac, and the Klem and Marsch colt, Weisenheimer, also went to the post in this race. Temulac had a little hard luck, being in close quarters during the early part of the race. Upon getting clear, he ran with determination but was nosed out of second place by Steel Heels. In his only previous start Temulac, which cost Mr. Wright $23,000, ran fifth.

Weisenheimer wasn't much of a factor in the race. He lost much ground going wide, made a bid in the stretch and then tired, winding up in fifth place. Equilibrium's mutuel prices were $7.20 to win, $4.60 to place, and $3.40 to show.

Chance Ray Wins.

C. E. Davison's Chance Ray tuned up for the $5,000 Arlington handicap, which is the secondary feature on next Saturday's program, by winning the Cary handicap yesterday. He beat Cardinalis, another Arlington handicap nominee, by a margin of a head after a hard drive in the stretch. Cardinalis was five lengths ahead of the third horse, Ai au Feu.

Chance Ray went the mile in 1.36 1-5. In the mutuels he paid $8.20 to win, $4.20 to place, and $3.60 to show.

A third Arlington handicap nominee, Her Reigh, was badly outrun all the way and finished fifth. After a good start out of the chuite, Cardinalis and Grey Streak fought for the lead down the back stretch, Chance Ray, running in the third position. Cardinalis had Grey Streak whipped by the time they hit the far turn. Then Chance Ray began moving up and chased Cardinalis all the way down the home stretch, catching him just a few strides from the finish line.

Erla Is Disqualified.

Brandon Prince set a new track record of 2:34 1-5 for a mile and a half on turf in the seventh race. The old mark was 2:36. He beat Boiling Point by a nose in a photo finish.

Those who coupled Distractible with Equilibrium in the daily double cashed their tickets for $129.60. Distractible won the second race at odds of 18 to 1 after the 4 to 5 favorite, Wilda, had been carried so wide by Erla that she finished fourth. Wilda was moved up to third when Erla was disqualified. Thistle Ress was second. The disqualification of Erla was the first of the meeting. The stewards did not mete out any penalty to Erla's rider, Willie Johnson.

A field of sixteen has been nominated for the $5,000 added Arlington handicap which will be the secondary feature on the $50,000 Futurity program next Saturday at Arlington Park. Bull Lea, which ran a creditable second to Nedayr in the Classic last Saturday, has been nominated for the handicap. The field and owners follow:

HOPE CAPTURES MACKINAC RACE BY 3 MINUTES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Mackinac Island, Mich., July 25.—The Hope, a 50 foot Q class sloop skippered by Herman Karnstedt of the South Shore Yacht club of Milwaukee, skimmed across the finish line tonight in the thirty-first annual Chicago to Mackinac sailing race to take first honors in the racing division by a margin of less than three minutes. Hope repeated a victory scored in 1936.

Second in line, as the main group of the fleet charged through the Mackinac straits, was Otto Dreher's Lively Lady, also of the South Shore club, and third was Anthony M. Herrmann's Gloriant, flying the colors of the Racine [Wis.] Yacht club.

All three carried a time allowance of 5:05:58. The Hope covered the 231 nautical miles in 52:33:57, elapsed time, and 47:27:59 corrected time; Lively Lady in 52:36:55 and 47:30:57, and Gloriant in 53:07:33 and 48:01:35.

Manitou Wins in Class A.

The title in class A cruising division went to the 62 foot yawl Manitou by a wide margin. The Manitou, entered from the Chicago Yacht club and skippered by Owner James R. Lowe of Grand Rapids, Mich., was first of the fleet of forty-six sailboats over the finish line, checking in at 12:05 p. m. this afternoon [Chicago time].

Nathaniel Rubinkan's Rubaiyat was the first B class yacht to finish in the cruising division, but Breeze, owned and sailed by S. W. D. Scott, son of Walter Dill Scott, beat it on corrected time.

Revenge Noses Out Scarab.

Revenge, winner in the racing division last year, and Scarab carried on a private duel throughout the last third of the race. Revenge finished in 54:10:04, leading Scarab by thirty-one seconds in total elapsed time. Following Scarab across the line in order were Bagheera, Warrior, and Princess.

Members of the Manitou's crew are Roger C. Butterfield, Fred Peterson, L. L. Karas, Frederick O. Avery, Moreau S. Crosby, Morton Keeney, Roger B. Keeney, Henry E. Crowe, and Harry Torson.

Early this morning, with a twenty-five mile south, southwest wind blowing, Manitou reached a speed of ten miles an hour and literally was leaping from wavetop to wavetop while

But Grandpa is a modern dancing clown,

SOX OPEN HOME STAY AGAINST BOSTON TODAY

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The White Sox, who did more vacationing than work while journeying around the east, are back in Comiskey park and will hold a formal homecoming, assisted by Boston's Red Sox, this afternoon.

The vacationing, with pay supplied by J. Louis Comiskey, can't be charged to the athletes. They prefer to exert themselves physically every day because work improves the zest for food. It was the weather which kept them indoors for a full week and which assisted them in piling up so many double-headers that the fan is liable to expect two for one price of admission every day. The double-header tabulation for the south siders is being compiled by accountants, but advance information indicates seventeen.

Dykes Still Hopes.

Although confronted by an excess of twin bills, James Dykes, the manager, still entertains high hopes. He thinks he can finish in third place. Part of this is because he has finished that high before. The other part is a hope. The hope can be attributed to the fact that Dykes still thinks he can prove himself the miracle man. His miracle fame was somewhat tarnished as the result of the deal he made with Detroit last December. Dykes thought he had put one over on Mike Cochrane, but it will take another season to prove him right.

In a way Dykes has reason to expect better things, at least there would be basis for his reasoning if it weren't for all those hazardous double-headers. He went through a good portion of the early season without either Monty Stratton, his best pitcher, and Luke Appling, his star shortstop. No team could survive the loss of two such important members. This has been proved by what the Sox have accomplished since Appling followed Stratton into active service.

Kuhel May Hit.

Also there is the hope that Joe Kuhel will learn to hit better than an approximate .240. This involves another James J.'s last winter ma-

SWEENEY LEADS ENTIRE NATION WITH 1,100,000

Announce Winners of Poll Tomorrow.

BY ARCH WARD.

The stars of 1937 intercollegiate football have carried the country by a landslide. Tabulators still are trying to battle their way through the greatest avalanche of votes in the records of sport promotion. The total figure this morning in the national poll conducted by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and 150 newspapers and radio stations to pick a lineup of college All Americans to play the Washington Redskins on Soldiers' field Aug. 31, is 5,675,044. The number is amazing, but is far from complete. At least a million more votes are uncounted. Final returns, upon which the starting lineup will depend, will be published tomorrow morning.

Meanwhile, fans from coast to coast are turning their attention toward the election of a staf of five coaches to handle the college squad, which will report for practice at Northwestern university Aug. 12.

The coaches' poll, which opened Sunday, will continue until Aug. 7. Supporters of the various candidates are urged to vote for three in the order of their preference. First place counts three points, second, two, and third, one. The total number of points decides the winner. The one with the highest figure will be head coach and the next four will be his assistants.

Smaller Colleges Boom Poll.

The tremendous total in the player poll is attributable in part to the increased interest taken in the enterprise by smaller colleges. Many of the athletes who will be invited to join the 1938 All Stars were unknown in their collegiate careers outside of the territory where they played. THE TRIBUNE made known in the beginning of the All Star promotion four years ago that it would present the players the fans wanted to see. This department had no interest whether they came from great universities or colleges of small enrollment. Neither did we care whether they came from California, Florida, or Illinois. If the fans wanted them, that was enough. This is a game for the people, not for a few newspaper or gridiron critics.

The player poll has settled one argument conclusively. The most popular football player in the United States is Chuck Sweeney of Notre Dame. He has received more than 1,100,000 votes and the complete returns will swell that figure substantially. He not only swept the middle west. He was the choice at end almost everywhere in the country with the exception of the Pacific coast, where a native son, Perry Schwartz of California was the favorite.

Fans Are Impartial.

Considering the enthusiasm abounding for sectional favorites, the fans as a whole have been impartial. Northwestern players, for instance, in several cases ran far ahead of Notre Dame men in South Bend. Purdue candidates were supported stoutly in Minnesota and Minnesota players ran well in Indiana. A Notre Dame half back, Bunny McCormick, got more votes in the San Francisco Chronicle returns than any other man in the poll.

More than 320,000 votes came to THE TRIBUNE yesterday for a lineup that included Mondala, Missouri, full back; Waskowicz, Washington, half back; Skarda, Illinois, tackle; Puplis, Notre Dame, quarter back, and Chesney, De Paul, center. They cleared through the Polish Union Daily.

Let's take a look at yesterday's reports from some of the associated newspapers:

Spurck Wins Following.

Kansas City Star: Fans in this area made a great finish for Spurck, Rockhurst guard. Add 37,643 to his total. Give Kirk of Missouri 4,797.

Minneapolis Journal: Please record 27,653 votes for Uram, King, Midler, Weld, Spadaccini, and Gmitro of Minnesota and 33,572 for Butcher of Gustavus Adolphus.

Green Bay Press-Gazette: For Miketinac of St. Norbert, 112,654. Returns from upper Michigan peninsula the last two days have inundated this office. This entire section of Wisconsin steamed up over chances of placing boy on squad.

ALICE MARBLE ADVANCES IN EASTERN TENNIS

Martin Buxby Eliminated by Carlton Rood.

Sea Bright, N. J., July 25.—(AP)—Seeded players advanced without exception and only one upset was recorded today as first round matches reduced the field of forty-eight men and thirty-two women competitors in the fifty-first renewal of the Sea Bright tennis tournament.

Led by Alice Marble of San Francisco, who is seeking her third consecutive championship and permanent possession of the historic Sea Bright bowl, favorites came through without difficulty.

The upset in the singles play came when Martin Buxby of Miami, Fla., was eliminated by Carlton Rood of Brooklyn. Rood, who put out Frank Shields two weeks ago at Spring Lake, won, 1-6, 9-7, 6-2.

Welsh Unable to Appear.

Buxby had been drawn against Barney Welsh of Rockville, Md., but when he could not appear Rood, a University of North Carolina player, was substituted.

Frank Parker, seeded second in the men's field, drew the feature spot with a 6-2, 6-3 triumph over William Robertson of Los Angeles. Bryan M. Grant Jr., Atlanta, Ga., star who is rated behind Parker, was extended to overcome Lanky Alfred Jarvis, Williams college student from Tenafly, N. J. The scores were 9-7, 6-4.

Miss Marble displayed great all round strength in her first tournament since her return from Europe with the Wightman cup squad. She polished off Jean Burritt, an experienced Canadian who has played abroad for the last two years, without the loss of a game.

Miss Marble's mates on the Wightman team, Dorothy Bundy and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan, likewise gained the second round without trouble. The former eliminated Louise Raymond of Scarsdale, N. Y., 6-1, 7-5, while Mrs. Fayban accounted for Edith Clark of Los Angeles without losing a game.

Charles Shostrum Is Eliminated.

The fourth seeded woman player, Mrs. Dorothy Andrus of New York, advanced when tournament officials defaulted Helen Bernhard of New York for arriving late.

Charles Shostrum of the University of Chicago was eliminated in the first round of the mens singles by Frank Guernsey Jr. of Orlando, Fla. The scores were, 6-2, 7-5. In the doubles he had better luck, pairing with his brother, John, to defeat Donald McNeill, Oklahoma City, and Harold Surface Jr., Kansas City, 6-2, 6-4.

Chester and William Murphy, another Chicago pair, defeated Buxby and Jarvis, Tenaffy, N. J., 6-1, 6-3, in the second round.

Petroskey Wins; Joyce Stops Miller

Tony Petroskey, Muskegon, Mich., welterweight, dealt Verne Patterson a beating in an eight round bout in Marigold Gardens last night to avenge a knockout by Patterson in a previous meeting last month.

Patterson was floored six times—once each in the first, second, sixth, and eighth rounds and twice in the seventh.

Willie Joyce, Gary featherweight, scored the most important victory of his brief professional career when he stopped Young Billy Miller of Pittsburgh in the fifth round of a scheduled eight round bout.

Pete Lello, lightweight stablemate of Joyce, defeated Bobby McIntyre of Detroit in eight rounds and Henry Wacker stopped Jack Pumphrey in the third round of a scheduled four round preliminary.

A request to have Jimmy Adamick's one year suspension order vacated on the grounds he was innocent in his unsatisfactory bout with Jack Trammell in Mills stadium June 8 was refused yesterday by the Illinois boxing commission. . . . Chairman Joe Triner and Commissioners Sheldon Clark and James R. Fitzpatrick will name leading Illinois contenders in the various weight classes at next week's meeting of the board. The action was decided upon after Milt Aron, Verne Patterson, and Johnny Barbara laid claim to the Illinois welterweight crown, Pete Lello the lightweight title, and Leo Rodak the featherweight championship. . . .

Chester Rutecki, former Chicago Golden Gloves and Catholic Youth organization welterweight champion, will make his professional debut against Sherman Edwards in Marigold Gardens next Monday. . . . Promoter Billy Cepak's proposal to hold a Johnny Barbara-Verne Patterson bout in Sparta stadium Aug. 3, went awry last night when Patterson signed a five year contract which gives Co-promoters Irving Schoenwald and Jack Begun exclusive rights to his services. . . .

Amateur shows will be held tonight in Northwest stadium, 4848 Irving Park boulevard, and Savoy arena, 47th street and South Park way. Hymie Dabbs, Portage park lightweight, will tackle Francis Smith of Aurora in Northwest. Jack Cook, south side welterweight, and Autry Barnes of Atlanta, Ga., will be featured opponents in the Savoy. . . .

SECOND RACE—Seven furlongs, out of chute. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50. Daily double, 1st and 2d races, paid $129.60.

DISTRACTIBLE, going in good form, made the early pace under a steady hold, sweetened up slightly while increasing her advantage soon after reaching the stretch and weakened, but had enough left to withstand the bid of THISTLE REST.

CHANCE STAR, steadied when outrun, responded with good energy after reaching the last quarter and got up in the final stride. SHINING HEELS, close up from the start, failed to maintain her position on the stretch turn but rallied in the stretch, where she secured room on the inside and, wearing down LADY FLASH, barely failed to last. Latter had fine speed from the start, but slightly on the stretch turn and weakened in the final eighth and was only headed in the last few strides.

AMBITIOUS CUBS BATTLE REVIVED DODGERS TODAY

Flatbush Folk Will Be Out to Greet Their Boys.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 25.—The Cubs, merry, eager, ambitious, and confident, but still with a lot of pennant business to transact, are billeted here tonight, girding the while for their invasion of Brooklyn tomorrow.

Charley Root, the excellent old gent who lost a five hitter, 1 to 0, to the Dodgers the other day, because his revived associates could fashion only two hits against Luke Hamlin, is to be given his second start under Gabby Hartnett, his new manager and old battery mate. It's the oldest battery in the majors, you know, and Gabby and Charley are beginning to feel they understand each other. That, perhaps, is the reason that Charley resumed his status as a starter with Mr. Hartnett's appointment as manager. Yes, Charles Henry Root has been throwing baseballs at Charles Leo Hartnett's big mitt for 13 summers now and it looks as though he'll keep at it quite a spell longer. The kid's only 39, you know.

The Dodgers Revive, Too.

If there is a large crowd tomorrow in Flatbush it can't be attributed entirely to the revived interest in the Cubs. The fact the Cubs won ten out of twelve against the eastern clubs in their recent home stand scarcely is as spectacular in the eyes of the Brooklyn fans as the Dodgers' record of winning ten out of thirteen on the trip just ended. And, incidentally, their last victory, in St. Louis, Sunday, lifted the Dodgers to the top of the second division, quite an elevation for an outfit which had lost 43 and had won only 30 when last it was viewed by home folks.

If they don't come out tomorrow for the Dodger home coming, and the welcoming of Hartnett, who could have managed the Dodgers and who has long been a popular figure in greater New York's biggest city, they are pretty sure to swarm to Ebbett's field Wednesday night, when the Cubs and Dodgers participate in a night game. And they'll probably be looking for a no-hitter, such as Johnny Vander Meer pitched under those new lights of Larry McPhail's.

Have Chance to Even Series.

In the game tomorrow the Dodgers will have the mathematical opportunity to even the season series with the Cubs. The Chicagoans now hold a margin, seven games to six. This isn't as wide a margin as it should be, when you consider that the Dodgers have whipped the Giants only once in 11 games. However, you can forgive the Dodgers a little for their Giant foldups, for they have whipped the leading Pirates seven out of 13.

Because of the night game Wednesday the contest regularly scheduled for Thursday has been put back for a double-header on Sunday, Sept. 18. This will enable the Cubs to rest for their three game series in Philadelphia, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Sox to Open Home Stay with Boston

neuvers. Because Zeke Bonura was an inflated nuisance in many ways Dkes traded him to Washington. It was figured that the addition of Jerry Walker from Detroit would offset the difference between Kuhel and Bonura as hitters, but Kuhel has proven worse than expected. Bonura also has flopped this season, but he always hit well with the Sox.

If the weather is favorable today Dykes will start that rigid diet expert, John Henderson Whitehead. If John isn't in the mood the job will be turned over to Jack Knott, who escaped from the Browns earlier in the season.

DEE WINS FIRST ROUND MATCH IN WESTERN TENNIS

Delafield, Wis., July 25.—(AP)—Larry Dee of San Francisco defeated Bill Norman of Kansas City, Mo., 6-2, 6-1, in a first round junior match in the tenth annual western junior and boys' tennis tournament today. Showers curtailed the opening day play and only juniors saw action.

Paul Wilson of Ventura, Cal., defeated Bob Faas, La Crosse, Wis., 6-0, 6-0; Zygdie Jatczak, Milwaukee, defeated W. C. Miles, Eldorado, Ark., 6-0, 6-1, and Albert Eversdyke of Sheboygan, Wis., defeated John Kilbourne, Dayton, O., 6-0, 6-0.

DECIDE THREE TITLES TONIGHT IN B.B.Y.O. MEET

The B'nai Brith Youth organization will bring its third annual city-wide softball tournament to an end tonight with the crowning of three champions in St. Philip stadium, Kedzie avenue and Van Buren street.

A feud, involving the Arveys and Piccaninnys will be settled for the senior division championship.

It will be the west against the south side when the Marovitz Boosters and Ten-o-Four teams meet for the intermediate class final.

Arnie [No-Hit] Glassberg and Mort [Home Run] Seit will be watched tonight when the Spartans of the west section and Samsons of the north side, clash for the junior division championship.

Four Auto Row Teams Bid for League Crown

The championship of the Auto Row Softball league probably will be decided in this week's games in Grant park. Four teams have a chance, with the leading Cadillac team only half a game ahead of the Nash and Bosler teams, which are tied for second, and with the Studebakers in fourth place, only three games out of the lead.

The Cadillacs will meet the Boslers and the Nash entry battles the Studebakers in tonight's games. Nash, which won the title in 1937, will rely on the pitching of Francis Stewart to bring it its second straight pennant.

The Shermans, with eight victories in ten games, will meet the Stevens club for third place in the Loop Hotel league tonight, while the Bismarcks are battling the La Salles for the title.

First place in the Jewelers league was still in possession of the Buchsbaums as they entered this week's competition with a perfect record of six victories. Paramount Pictures, which defeated both the Henri Elmans and the National Screens last week, holds a one game lead over the Photoplay-Film carriers in the Motion Picture league; Outbound Freight still is unbeaten in the Santa Fe league and Parke-Davis clings to the top in the Druggists league with four victories and one defeat.

Hope Wins in Mackinac Run by 3 Minutes sailing north with spinnaker set. Upon reaching Gray's reef lighthouse, the yacht came about and the skipper ordered down all canvas but one staysail while a reef was put in the mainsail. Then the Manitou was put back on its course and took the seas much easier with the reduced sail area.

Manitou Nears Record.

After rounding buoy No. 5 at the entrance to Mackinac straits, twenty-five miles from the finish, the crew shook out the reef and added a spinnaker. The wind had shifted to the west and was diminishing when the Manitou sailed into Mackinac Island harbor with mainsail and spinnaker drawing the last of the breeze.

Adventure, 37-foot yawl owned and skippered by Logan T. McMenemy of the Chicago Yacht club, was reported in Ludington, and Kid Sister, 41-foot cutter, piloted by owner B. J. Myren of the Columbia Yacht club, in Frankfort as Manitou sailed into Mackinac. No information was available immediately as to whether or not they had withdrawn from the race.

Open Drive to Make McMillin All-Star Coach

Bloomington, Ind., July 25.—[Special.]—A well organized campaign by Indiana university alumni to elect Bo McMillin head coach of the College All-Star squad, which meets the Washington Redskins in Soldiers' field Aug. 31, got under way today with 15,642 votes. Ballots were sent out last month to alumni groups in all sections of the state.

Ballot boxes at homecoming festivities last month also collected a heavy vote. McMillin's backers will carry the campaign into Illinois, Kentucky, Ohio, and Michigan.

Bolstering the returns from Indiana are McMillin ballots from Texas, his native state; Louisiana and Kansas, where he once coached football, and Georgia.

Thousands of votes were cast for McMillin at the annual "men's round-up" of the Indiana university summer session. Heading the voters was Henry F. Schricker, lieutenant-governor of Indiana. The Indiana state police training school, which closed here last week, also voted solid for McMillin.

The Bloomington Evening World has been made headquarters for the McMillin campaign.

Helen Moody Is Back to Seek Eighth U. S. Title

New York, July 25.—(AP)—Helen Wills Moody returned from England today and said she will seek her eighth United States singles tennis crown, to add to her eight Wimbledon titles, in the national meet Sept. 8 to 17 in Forrest Hills.

She also will compete in mixed doubles in the national doubles in Brookline Aug. 22 to 27, and also expects to enter the Essex County club invitational starting in Manchester, Mass., Aug. 15.

There is a possibility, therefore, of two more "battles of the Helens" before the season is over. Helen Jacobs, who lost to Mrs. Moody in the Wimbledon final after turning her ankle, already has said she will enter the Essex county tourney. Miss Jacobs also is entered in the national meet.

Mrs. Moody denied that there was any ill feeling between her and her California neighbor.

"They must have been taken as we started to leave the net," Mrs. Moody said. "I saw a number of them in London papers in which we were looking directly at each other."

For the next week, which she will spend in New York, Helen will play no tennis, partly because she had seven weeks of tournaments and Wightman cup play abroad, and partly because she injured her back slightly while packing for the trip home.

LABOR DEMANDS RAILROADS CUT CAPITALIZATION

Unions Present Their Side in Pay Slash Parley.

Railroad labor represented by the Railway Labor Executives association yesterday began presenting its side of the arguments over the railroads' plan to cut wages 15 per cent. George M. Harrison, chairman of the association, spoke for the 18 railroad unions represented by his group in conferences at the Palmer house.

George M. Harrison.

The theme of Harrison's arguments was that the railroads are overcapitalized and should cut down their capitalization so they can pay wages and still make a fair profit.

Harrison cited a number of railroads to illustrate his point. He quoted figures prepared by the interstate commerce commission for President Roosevelt's conference held last spring to see what could be done to aid the roads.

I. C. C. Valuations Cited.

As examples he gave the Illinois Central with an I. C. C. valuation of $487,000,000 and total capitalization of $516,000,000; the Georgia and Florida, with an I. C. C. value of $12,000,000 and $30,100,000 capitalization; Nickel Plate, I. C. C. value of $130,000,000 and $228,000,000 capitalization; Chicago Great Western, I. C. C. value of $73,000,000 and $132,000,000 capitalization and the Northern Pacific, I. C. C. value of $487,000,000 and $560,000,000 capitalization. In capitalization are included bonds and stocks.

Harrison declared that in the last seventeen years the railroads have paid more than 14 billion dollars in interest and dividends, including stock dividends. He mentioned this to indicate that the carriers are capable of making vast payments to security holders despite claims that the railroad industry is declining.

Outlines Wages Since 1920.

Harrison outlined wage history of the period since 1920 to support his claim that labor has not been getting a fair deal. He said that in 1920 labor was granted a wage increase totaling $618,000,000 on an annual basis. The railroads asked and were given rate increases totaling 1 billion 550 million.

Then in 1922, he said, the United States Railroad Labor board gave the roads permission to make a $558,000,000 wage cut and rates were cut $40,000,000, leaving the roads with a net gain of 1 billion 90 million dollars.

In 1937 labor was given an increase of 5 cents an hour, he said, or $8,000,000 a month, effective Aug. 1. The railroad labor pay roll, Harrison continued, amounted to $164,000,000 for July. For August it was $169,000,000 and for September it was $163,000,00, or $1,000,000 less than it was before the pay increase.

The decrease, he said, was brought about by reducing the number of workers. About 259,000 have been taken off the pay roll since wages were increased, he said.

Glenn L. Martin.

Investors' Guide: May I have a report on the stock of Glenn L. Martin company?—Miss J. D. P.

Answer: The Glenn L. Martin company has made important contributions to aviation in developing both military and commercial aircraft. An outstanding military airship made by this company is the Martin bombardment plane, which possesses a large cruising radius and has been adopted by the United States army. A place in the commercial field was assured when the company built the famous China Clipper ships for Pan-American Airways. Recently the first delivery was made of the Martin ocean transport model 156, said to be a marked improvement over the China Clipper.

Military business has been most important so far and the best customer has been the United States government. A large amount of foreign military business also is received, a type of business which usually yields large profits. A cable from Amsterdam recently disclosed that the Dutch government would buy thirty-nine Glenn Martin airplanes to be used for defense of the Dutch East Indies.

Stimulated by heavy foreign and domestic military demand, sales rose to record levels in 1937 and still further expansion was reported in the first half of this year. Unfilled orders dropped from $17,624,575 at the end of 1937 to $13,866,154 on March 31, 1938, but important orders were received during the second quarter.

Net income for the six months ended June 30 was $1,372,600, or $1.46 a share, compared with $526,307, or 61 cents a share, in the first half of 1937. For the quarter ended June 30 net income was $744,037, or 79 cents a share, compared with $186,838, or 20 cents a share, in the corresponding period a year ago. The record of earnings in recent years follows:

	Sales.	Net income.	Earned per share.
1937	$7,839,356	$1,144,858	$1.32
1936	6,219,774	732,652	.87
1935	1,754,701	*318,364	*.85
1934	2,994,133	*59,849	*.16
1933	493,797	*140,341	*.27
1932	1,728,109	1,528	.003

*Deficit.

The company has outstanding 877,458 shares of $1 par common stock. No dividends are being paid. The largest stockholder is Glenn L. Martin, president, who held at last reports 355,285 shares, or 42.2 per cent of the total.

Total assets were $11,139,046 on March 31. Current assets were $6,468,749 and current liabilities $2,666,502.

Their 'Patron Saint' Now Raps Deficits.

(This is the second of a series of articles on the factors hindering genuine business recovery. A third will appear tomorrow.)

BY HOWARD WOOD.

Soon after the present administration came into office in 1933 it adopted a policy of trying to spend the country back to prosperity.

From March, 1933, to the present the United States treasury's expenditures have totaled about 39 billion dollars. Of this amount it has borrowed about 16 billion dollars. The yearly spending in excess of income was reduced last year, but this year the deficit is to be increased to a new record of more than 4 billion dollars.

The secretary of the treasury himself has said that this is exactly the wrong medicine for business recovery. On Nov. 11, 1937, in an address before the Academy of Political Science in New York City Mr. Morgenthau said:

"The basic need today is to foster the full application of the driving force of private capital.

Urges Productive Use of Capital.

"We want to see capital go into the productive channels of private industry. We want to see private business expand. We believe that much of the remaining unemployment will disappear as private capital funds are increasingly employed in productive enterprises.

"We believe that one of the most important ways of achieving these ends at this time is to continue progress toward a balance of the federal budget. . . . This administration is going to do everything possible to promote a continuation of recovery and to balance the budget through cutting expenditures."

On July 12 President Roosevelt gave out his revised estimate of the budget for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1939. His estimate of the deficit for the year was $4,084,887,000. Even if the actual deficit for the year does not exceed the President's estimate—as it has exceeded his estimate every year since 1933—the deficit would be the greatest for any year of the depression, except that for 1936, which included the prepayment of 1¾ billion dollars in bonuses to war veterans.

The Deficit Record By Years.

1931	$ 901,959,000
1932	3,147,919,000
1933	3,062,257,000
1934	3,989,496,000
1935	3,575,358,000
1936	*4,763,842,000
1937	2,811,318,000
1938	1,524,713,000
1939	†4,084,887,000

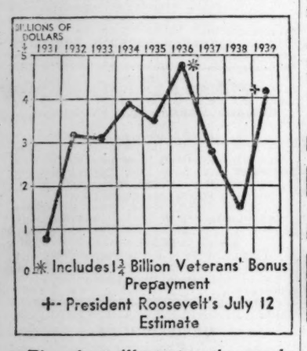
†President Roosevelt's July 12 estimate.



The chart illustrates the yearly deficits of the United States government since 1931.

Administration leaders in Washington repeatedly have said that their financial policies have been patterned on those of Sweden. Prof. Gustav Cassel, Sweden's best known economist, furnished many of the theories of "managed" money which were eagerly borrowed by the planners in Washington. A commission acting for President Roosevelt has been to Sweden to get more ideas on economics.

Too Much for Patron Saint.

But the Roosevelt administration's scheme of continued "pump priming" and "spending for prosperity" is too smelly a brand of economics even for the economist whom it chose as a patron saint. Dr. Cassel now eagerly seeks to clear himself of any moral responsibility for the "spending for prosperity" idea as it is now being practiced in Washington. He says it will "seriously retard" economic progress.

Writing in the June, 1938, bulle-

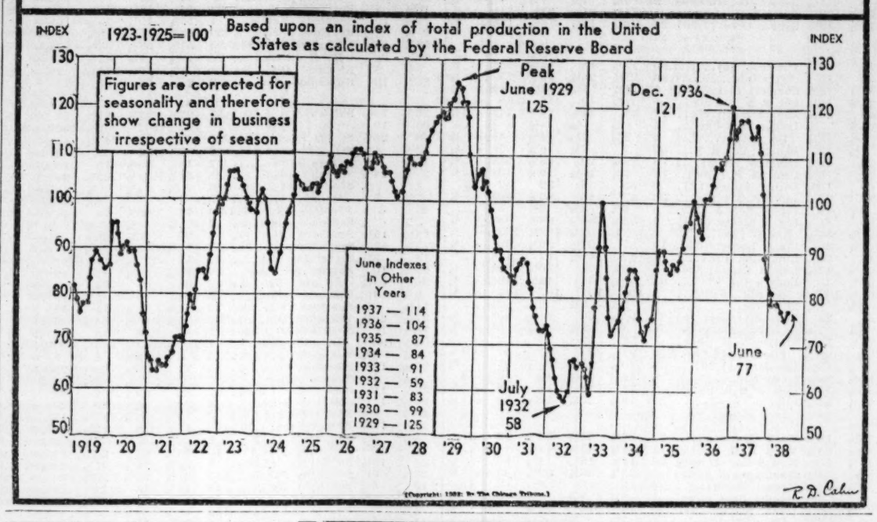
Industrial Production in the United States as Reported by the Reserve Board Governors



U.S. Has Trade Balance for Half of Year

Washington, D. C., July 25.—[Special.]—The United States in the first six months of this year sold $631,074,000 more goods to foreign nations than it bought from them. This was disclosed today in the monthly statement of the commerce department on foreign trade.

Exports for the first six months of this year totaled $1,592,137,000. Imports totaled $961,063,000. One of the principal reasons for the good showing was the fact that sales of agricultural products abroad gained. Last year the United States bought more heavily of products of foreign farms.

Large sales of manufactured goods were cited by the commerce department as helping to maintain employment and purchasing power in this country at a time when the effects of the new depression were being felt.

Exports Exceed Year Ago.

American sales abroad totaled $55,575,000 more than they did in the first six months of last year. In the first six months of last year imports totaled $1,683,421,000, making the decline in the first half of this year from the 1937 period $722,358,000.

Sales of agricultural products abroad amounted to $412,700,000, against $319,500,000 in the first half of 1937. Raw cotton was an exception to the advance, sales abroad this year totaling $118,900,000, against $175,800,000 in the first half of 1937.

Foreign purchases of wheat in the first half of 1938 amounted to $50,903,000, against $1,747,000 in the first half of 1937, and purchases of corn totaled $64,347,000, against $145,000.

Some Export Groups Decline.

There were increases in some nonagricultural lines, including machinery and petroleum. However, these gains could not offset the $20,500,000 drop in automobiles and automobile accessories, and the $25,200,000 drop in iron and steel mill products.

Imports of agricultural commodities declined sharply, the total for the first half of 1938 being $124,295,000. Last year America made large imports because of crop failures.

Wheat imports dropped from $8,918,000 in the first half of 1937 to $6,000 in the first half of 1938. Purchases of corn declined from $31,433,000 in the first half of 1937 to $178,000 in the first half of this year.

Gold imports totaled $247,974,000 in the first half of this year, a decline of $781,353,000 from last year. Gold exports totaled $5,750,000, an increase of $5,602,000 over the first half of last year.

American exports in June moved against the trend for the first six months, being smaller than in June, 1937, and in May, 1938. The total for the month was $232,686,000, compared with $265,341,000 in June, 1937, and with $257,188,000 in May, 1938. June imports totaled $145,898,000, against $286,224,000 in June, 1937, and $148,260,000 in May, 1938.

SUSPEND BYLLESBY'S WISCONSIN LICENSE TO SELL SECURITIES

The license of H. M. Byllesby & Co., Chicago, to sell securities in Wisconsin was suspended yesterday by the Wisconsin state banking commission.

The commission charged that the company had made more than $750,000 of unexplained expenditures from 1927 to 1930. It charged $18,500 was paid to W. M. Dinneen while he was secretary of the Wisconsin railroad commission, which later became the public service commission. The suspension followed lengthy hearings held by the commission in May. Some of the officials involved in the charges are now dead.

Robert J. Graf, president of the Byllesby firm, said the order was "unfair to the present management, as the criticism involves only certain bookkeeping transactions from 1925 to 1930." He said that the company would apply at once for a rehearing.

"The commission finds no fault with the company's present executives," Graf said, "nor does it criticize the company's present accounting methods nor any of its operations or business practices subsequent to 1930. The accounting transactions to which the commission refers covered the acquisition of the stock of a Wisconsin public utility property more than ten years ago.

Ingot Rate Will Rise to 37 Per Cent Capacity

Production of steel in the United States will rise to 37 per cent of the industry's theoretical capacity this week, the American Iron and Steel institute estimated yesterday. This rate of ingot production will be the highest since the week of Nov. 8, 1937, when output reached 41 per cent of capacity, the institute said.

Gain of .6 Point.

The operations schedule represents a gain of .6 of a point over last week's production rate of 35.4 per cent of capacity. It is the third successive weekly rise. A month ago the rate was scheduled at 28.7 per cent of mill capacity. A year ago it stood at 84.3 per cent.

In the corresponding week of 1936 ingot production was scheduled at 71.5 per cent of capacity, in 1935 at 42.2 per cent, and in 1934 at 27.7 per cent, according to the institute.

Scrap at New 1938 High.

In line with rising production of steel the prices of steel scrap continued to climb. Pittsburgh dealers yesterday reported that No. 1 heavy melting scrap advanced to a new quotation of $14.50 to $15 a ton.

Scrap sales at $15 a ton in Pittsburgh set a new high for the year. A month ago this grade of scrap steel sold at $10.75 a ton in Pittsburgh. Scarcity of the metal, plus increasing demand for it are responsible for the advance, dealers said. Other grades likewise have been affected in price.

Group Opposes Building of Auditorium by U. S.

The membership of the Auditorium Managers Association, Inc., last night adopted unanimously a resolution opposing construction by the government of a large auditorium in Washington, D. C., to be used for federal and nonfederal activities. The action was taken at the annual convention of the organization being held in the Congress hotel. A copy of the resolution will be sent to the members of congress.

*October delivery.

All deliveries of wheat and oats on American exchanges fell to new seasonal lows yesterday. Wheat futures at the extreme were 1¾ cent lower. Oats were more than a cent a bushel lower with the September deliveries and cash grain selling at the lowest level snce 1933.

Closing trades on wheat futures were at net losses of 1⅛ to 1½ cents on the Chicago Board of Trade. Corn declined ¾ to 1⅝ cents. Oats finished ¾ to 1⅛ cents a bushel lower. At no time did the markets show signs of a rally.

Hedging Sales Large.

Hedging sales of wheat were heavier than recently, reflecting an increase in the movement of the grain. Brokers who frequently act for exporters were persistent buyers of futures, but no sizable business was reported with Europe.

A forecast by the department of agriculture that the 1938-'39 world wheat crop, exclusive of Russia, might aggregate 4,200,000,000 bushels, and establish a new all time record had considerable influence on sentiment.

Other Markets Lower.

Dry weather reports from the Canadian northwest attracted little attention. Minneapolis wheat futures closed 2¼ cents lower. Winnipeg wheat futures declined 1¼ to 1½ cents. Liverpool closed 1 to 2⅛ cents bushel lower.

Weather conditions over the corn belt were reported favorable for development of the new crop. The December delivery led the decline in the futures market. Although some buying of September was attributed to exporters, the amount of new business with Europe was believed small.

TREASURY SELLS FIRST PORTION OF VAST NEW LOAN

Washington, D. C., July 25.—(AP)—The treasury received bids today on the first of the $2,800,000,000 worth of "new cash" securities it will sell to the public this fiscal year. The money will help finance the $9,000,000,000 program of relief and regular expenditures.

On sale today were $100,000,000 worth of ninety-one day treasury bills. Half the proceeds will be used to redeem similar maturing securities, and the other half will build up the treasury's cash account. It is the first issue in excess of refunding needs since April.

Peoples Gas Orders Dividend of $1; First Payment This Year

George A. Ranney.

An interim dividend of $1 a share on stock of the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company was declared yesterday by directors of the corporation. George A. Ranney, chairman of the board, announced the dividend action after the meeting, which was held in the Peoples Gas building.

The payment is the first since Dec. 10, 1937, when a disbursement of $2 a share was made on the company's stock. Prior to that there had been no dividend payments since July, 1933. At the corporation's annual meeting early this year Ranney told stockholders that dividend action would not be considered until later in the year because "general business is in a depressed condition and the prospects for improvement are not very bright."

The $1 dividend will be payable Sept. 1 to stockholders of record Aug. 10, Ranney said.

Sherwin-Williams Pays 50 Cents.

The Sherwin-Williams company, large Ohio corporation which operates 879 paint manufacturing mills, yesterday declared a dividend of 50 cents a share on its common stock. A similar payment was made on June 1. Prior to that quarter, the company had paid $1 a common share each quarter.

A payment of 87½ cents was ordered on the 7 per cent cumulative first prefererd stock of the Phoenix Hosiery company. On June 1, the date of the last payment, the stock was in arrears $25.37 a share.

Reserve Board Predicts Increase in Production

Washington, D. C., July 25.—(AP)—The federal reserve board believes that industrial production will increase materially this month. Industrial activity, particularly in steel, rose sharply the first three weeks of July, the board said. Crude oil production has gained, and decreases in department store sales have been less than seasonal. The board's industrial index for June stood a 77 per cent of the 1923-'25 average, one point higher than for May.

Late Selloff Wipes Out Many Gains.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 25.—[Special.]—The stock market closed irregularly higher today. Late selling wiped out most or all of many early advances of fractions to 3 points. A large number of issues made new tops for the year before the setback.

Of 930 stocks traded, 483 closed higher, 243 lower, and 204 unchanged. Trading was fairly lively during the upswing, but slowed down on the reactions. Volume totaled 2,106,500 shares.

Market Opens Strong.

The opening was strong in a continuation of the advance that got under way in the late trading Saturday. Prices improved all along the line as an accumulation of week-end buying orders forced trading to outrun the high speed tickers.

The list encountered resistance

A New Collateral Loan Plan
—lower cost
—shorter term
—renewable

This Bank has originated a new plan for making loans on stocks, bonds, and other marketable securities. This plan embodies a recognition of customers' personal preferences coupled with constructive lending practice.

NOTE THESE FEATURES:

Short Term: Loans are set up for a term of six months rather than for one year as heretofore. The shorter period offers greater flexibility for possible recasting of borrowing needs.

Lower Cost: With the short maturity there is a lesser outlay of interest. The rates on a 6 months' basis are:
$2.50 per $100 on loans from $500 up
$3.00 per $100 on loans up to $499
We make a minimum charge of $2 for a loan if the interest figures less than that amount. There are no fees — no fines — no extras.

Retirement: The minimum monthly retirement deposit is $5.00 per $100 a month — even less than formerly required under the conventional "equal monthly" set-up. Of course, larger amounts are acceptable and encouraged—in some cases required.

Personal: Our officers have authority to vary terms and arrangements to suit the individual customer—insofar as the accommodation desired is within the range of good business practice.

EXAMPLE

You have securities with a market value of	$800.00
Suppose you want to borrow	600.00
The interest at $2.50 per $100 is	15.00
The note amounts to	615.00
The monthly deposit at $5.00 per $100 is	30.75

Renewable: At maturity the account may be paid up or renewed on the same relative basis, subject of course, to market conditions and satisfactory performance. If the balance is renewed the cost diminishes and the monthly retirement provision is decreased accordingly.

Here, then, is the answer to the desire of security owners or security buyers who want to raise liberal amounts at a moderate cost—on a short enough — long enough period and with a "pay off" privilege which strengthens ownership as the months go by.

Here is the answer for the security owner who wants to hold on to what he has—the answer for those who wish to buy or increase investment holdings. This plan is equally applicable for those who wish to liquidate debts elsewhere or raise new funds for any good reason.

Small collateral loans as well as large are welcome. We especially invite loans which may be outside the range of other lending agencies.

Stocks, Bonds

around midday, which it absorbed in good style, however. After steadying at the start of the final hour, liquidation again appeared and the closing trend was lower.

Steel issues, which had marked up sizable gains in the early run-up, bore the brunt of the late selling. United States Steel common, most active stock of the day, closed ⅛ lower. Bethlehem and Crucible were down fractions. Republic, Youngstown, National, and Inland, however, made gains ranging from fractions to 1¼ points.

Motors Are Strong.

Motor stocks gave a good account of themselves. General Motors and Chrysler found sufficient support to send them to new highs for the year. The former bulged a fraction, and Chrysler added 1¼ points.

Coppers were undecided despite the price boost. Rails were active and higher in the forenoon. New York Central opened with a block of 4,000 shares at 21⅝. Subsequent pressure eliminated the gain and the stock closed at 20⅞ for a loss of ⅜. Other active rails also closed lower.

Aviation issues were strong around midday, many attaining new highs on a sudden display of interest. United Aircraft was prominent and scored a gain of nearly one point.

Utilities Hold Gains.

Public utility issues held part of early substantial gains. Heavy machinery shares were mixed. General Electric, International Harvester, Westinghouse, and Sperry closed fractionally higher. Case, Allis Chalmers and Deere lost up to one point.

United States Rubber made a new high with a bulge of ⅝ point. Goodrich was up 1¼ points to 23 and Goodyear went beyond 28. Both were at new highs. Montgomery Ward and Sears Roebuck each added a half point and both made new peaks for the year. Oils were mixed.

New York Bonds.

New York, July 25.—(AP)—Secondary rails continued their upward movement on a wide front today in the bond market. The rail group closed a full point higher on the Associated Press index.

Industrials and utilities reached new highs for the year on the index. The foreign dollar list showed a substantial rise. The low yield group held steady.

United States government obligations were irregular, changes ranging from 3-32 declines to a 3-32 rise.

A large number of rail liens, particularly in the medium-priced field, scored net gains for the day of two points or more, ranging up to 8 points.

Chicago Stocks.

Chicago stocks, advancing yesterday in broad trading, moved to the highest level since Nov. 17, 1937, Yesterday's peak for the Tribune average of twenty stocks was 11.88, compared with 11.94 on Nov. 17. The average closed at 11.70, up 0.09 for the day, at the highest closing level of the year. Volume was 41,000 shares, against 32,000 Friday.

Twenty-five issues made new 1938 tops. Of the 117 issued traded, sixty-eight advanced, thirty declined, and nineteen were unchanged.

Bank Stocks.

Stocks of three Chicago banks lost ground in light trading yesterday, while others remained unchanged. First National bank shares dropped $1 to $223 bid, $227 asked; Harris Trust and Saving stock slipped $5 to $290 bid, $300 asked, and Northern Trust stock declined $2 to $530 bid, $545 asked.

Even Their 'Patron Saint' Now Assails Deficits.

tin of the Skandinaviska Kreditaktiebolaget [Stockholm's largest bank] Dr. Cassel says:

"The deficits which would accumulate during a slump lasting several years would manifestly be of such magnitude that to cover them by surpluses in future overbalanced budgets would be a practical impossibility.

Slump Spending Less Careful.

"It is evident that expenditure to meet a possible slump—regardless of the constitutional form in which it is voted—will never be scrutinized with the same care as the expenditure of the regular budget, which must always be weighed with due regard to the difficulty of providing money to meet it.

"It thus seems fairly clear even now that the long run balancing of the budget inaugurated by the leaders of Swedish financial policy, despite its technical perfection, is liable to lead in practice to an underbalance which could never be covered. The national finances would then get into such a state that resort to borrowing in order to meet current expenditures would become a regular feature.

"Many nations, as we know, have already fallen into such a plight. If national expenditure is permitted to swell to such an extent that it makes a call on the savings of the nation as well as on their power to bear taxation, the result must be that economic progress will be seriously retarded.

Equilibrium Hard to Restore.

"As regards a nation's finances the consequences of such a development will be that the restoration of a durable equilibrium will scarcely be possible."

Despite these arguments by Dr. Cassel and Secretary Morgenthau himself, the administration in Washington goes on spending borrowed money and piling up the bill to be paid later on in taxes. Taxes already are so high that they discourage investment by people of means, as will be shown in a later article in this series. Each dollar of additional borrowing means that the taxes will be still higher later on—thus preventing long term investment.

The income on investments must come out of future earnings, and higher taxes mean not only lower earnings for corporations and individuals but a reduction in the amount of that part of the national income which is available for private spending.

MEMBER BANKS CUT LOANS FOR TRADE PURPOSES

Loans made by member banks of the federal reserve system during the week ended July 20 to commerce, industry, and agriculture declined $7,000,000 from the preceding week. This was disclosed yesterday in the federal reserve board's weekly report on member bank conditions in 101 leading cities.

In the week ended July 13 loans showed an increase of $3,000,000. In the week ended June 29 there was a small increase. Except for these two small gains such loans for almost five months had declined steadily.

UNITED STATES WINS 14 MILLIONS ON ALIEN FRAUD

Washington, D. C., July 25.—(AP)—The United States Court of Appeals ruled today that the Societe Suise Pour Valeurs de Metaux [Swiss corporation] should pay the United States government $14,000,000 in restitution of a fraud linked to the alien property scandals of 1921.

The court upheld a district court judgment, finding for the government in its contention the corporation had been paid $7,000,000 on a fraudulent claim involving wartime seizure of corporation shares. Another $7,000,000 was granted the government to cover interest.
